Cocoa a Mans Drink
There's health in every drop!

BAKER'S BREAKFAST COCOA
Has a full rich flavor delicious to the taste; it is invigorating and sustaining.
Henry C. Sherman, Professor of Food Chemistry, Columbia University, in his book "Food Products" says: "Cocoa, in addition to the stimulating property, due to the alkaloid theobromine, and the flavor which makes it popular both as a beverage and in confectionery, has a considerable food value."

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.) (8)

WHEAT MARKET SLUMPS

SITUATION COMPLICATED BY CONFLICTING REPORTS

Grain in Canada Practically All Threshed and of Better Quality Than First Indicated

(O. A. C. Bulletin)

The wheat market has declined to some extent, due to declining demands abroad, substantial decreases in the Chicago market and a smaller demand on the part of exporters in the northwest. The situation has been complicated a good deal this fall by the conflicting reports from Argentina, the great delay in the threshing of Canadian wheat, and by the failure of Russia to sell as much wheat as was anticipated earlier in the year. Conditions still remain rather favorable in Argentina.

The grain in Canada is practically all threshed and is reported to be of beter quality than indicated in reports of two weeks ago. However, the Canadian lake shipping season is closed and an immense volume of that wheat is largely out of the market until transportation on the Great Lakes is again resumed. Our exports of wheat have only been about 46 million bushels, and the total exports from Russia are less than 12 million bushels. Small import of Canadian wheat have come into the United States, but most of it has been mailed in bond and is being shipped out.

It is probably that part of the high price in early December was due to speculators being short on December wheat, and probably partly due to a rather sudden export demand. Good hard wheat seems in position to advance in price, although statistics do not indicate substantial advances for the purely export grades.

The potato market has quieted down considerably as shipping conditions become a little more hazardous. Many dealers have considerable quantities in store and are in no hurry to buy, the market being very well supplied. The present market depression in potatoes is probably the result of the dealers having loaded themselves up pretty well somewhat earlier in the season. Complaints are being made that the potato grading and labeling law is being ignored in a great many places and no prosecutions are being made. If the law is to be effective offenders must be prosecuted and a few 50-dollar fines or 30-day jail sentences will probably line up a great many offenders without the necessity for a large number of arrests.

Seed prices generally remain firm although sweet clover is rather cheap this year, growers being paid about $6 to $6.50 per hundred on the average for it. This is on the clean seed basis. A large amount of alsike clover has been imported this fall and there have been substantial importations of crimson clover, white clover, English and Italian rye grass and Hairy vetch. The red clover importations have been small due to rather small crops abroad.

TROTZKY ONCE WORKED AS EXTRA IN FILM PLAY

SOVIET CHIEF CAN RETURN TO HOLLYWOOD

Leon Headed Bewhiskered Group of Anarchists Plotting Fearful Deeds in a Cellar

(Correspondence of the Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—If things go bad for Leon Trotzky in Russia, he always can come back to the movies.

His work as an extra in "My Official Wife" and "The Battle Cry of Peace" has not been forgotten by the director who hired him, even though most film fans are unaware that he ever was an actor.

It was in placid pre-war days, of course, that the man who later becamelord of the soviets made his motion picture debut.

In "My Official Wife," a Vitagraph feature filmed in New York the script called for a scene showing a group of anarchists plotting fearful deeds in a cellar. The director asked a Russian employe of the studio to round up a few of his fellow countrymen who could be made to "look like anarchists."

"Look like anarchists!" snorted the Russian. "I will get you anarchists what is anarchists."

Group Plots Fearful Deads

He came back with a bewhiskered and earnest group, of whom one of the mildest and least bewhiskered called himself Leber Bronstein. This mild man was a real estate operator in a small way in the Bronx. He also wrote for certain foreign language newspapers, but his earnings, all told, were modest, and he was glad to get the $5 a day as a movie extra.

The 'anarchists' plotted realistically, and so when the director needed some more Russian atmosphere for "The Battle Cry of Peace," a film released in 1915, the payroll of extras again included the name of Bronstein from the Bronx.

This was the last Bronstein's director saw of him, but he read plenty later. He has not yet recovered from his surprise at the sudden rise of Leber Bronstein to the Leon Trotzky of world fame.

"He was a good extra, as extras go," the film man commented, "and if he came back we could use him."

BERLIN, Dec. 25.—Although a supply of half a million Christmas trees had been brought into Berlin and offered at high prices, the entire stock was exhausted today and Berlin experienced the effects of a Christmas tree famine. A crowd of 300 persons armed with axes entered a forest and started hacking down every small tree in sight. A forester who interfered was forced to use a revolver to disperse the crowd. The police confiscated the trees that had been cut down.

May a Dark-haired Man Visit You

"Take out and take in,
Bad luck is sure to begin.
But take in and take out,
Good luck will come about."

Thus ran the law governing New Years Eve in merry Old England. At midnight all the doors and windows were thrown open amid many shouts of welcome to the New Year. Then the whole family hovered about to watch their luck come in. If a woman or blond man chanced to be the first visitor, bad luck was theirs for a year. If a dark man entered bearing a gift good luck had come to stay. Empty handed, even the darkest brunett brought bad luck with him.

May a swarthy, dark-haired man bearing a gift be the first to cross your threshold New Year's morning.

A Poor Effort

A youngster went into the parlor to see a visitor who was with his father.

"Well, my little man," said his father's friend, "what are you looking at me for?"

"Why," replied the boy, "daddy told me that you were a self-made man, and I want to see what you look like."

"Quite right," said the gratified guest. "I am a self-made man."

"But what did you make yourself like that for?" said the boy with considerable surprise.
