CHRISTIAN WORLD HAS GAY HOLIDAY

Business has been good throughout the week preceding Christmas and general prosperity, due to bumper crops and stable industrial conditions, caused a general feeling of goodwill. Little hardship was felt in any section, and the day brighter for those on whom misfortune has fallen.

My Line o' Talk

WHEN the year is near, And the woods forlorn, And the swallows have fled away, When the crows in the draggled fields of corn Hoarsely call through the day: Then is the time we are needing cheer, And that's how it is that we always hear, Ever so faintly and far away, When the year is growing old, The tinkle of bells on Santa's sleigh, And his shout on the air so cold, And that's the reason the reindeer prance, Scamper and caper and briskly dance, The dreary old earth Needs Santa's mirth, And hearts grown near Need Christmas cheer, And that's what brings Kris Kringle, Without fail, every year!
