Society Woman Tires Pacers in Record Hike

Eleonora Sears, versatile athlete of the Smart Set, walked from Providence, R. I., to Boston, forty-four miles, in eleven hours and six minutes to win a bet she could make it in less than fifteen hours. Her pacemakers found it hard to keep up with her. "I feel as fine as a fiddle," said Miss Sears when she reached her Boston home.

Where an American hangs his hat

Once a hat was not just a hat; it was also a badge of sectionalism. That was when the broad-brimmed Stetson and the nobby derby seldom met. When South, East, North, West lived differently, dressed differently, thought differently. When a traveling American could feel like a stranger in his own land.

Before advertising—

But now Mrs. Green of Boston and Mrs. Brown of El Paso use the same vacuum cleaner, face powder, soap; Adams of Boston and Sims of Seattle are alike in the cut of their clothes. And where an American hangs his hat, within the borders of these United States, he feels at home. Advertising did that.

Advertising is still at work helping to make these states united. Here is a better bed, a handsomer shoe, a more delicious food. Let it be known from Maine to California, from Washington State to Florida! Here's a healthier way to live, another safeguard for your family, a new service of self-improvement. Spread the news everywhere! Advertisements.

Read them. They are Couriers of Progress and Unity. Without them you'd lack half the comforts you now have. Ignore them and you'll miss many a good thing to come.

To keep pace with the times, read the advertisements every day
