

WARRANT HEARING TO BE HELD SOON

Council Takes Action After Request by Recorder to Take Up Matter

CITY LOSES NOTHING

Facts of Transaction Will Be Given Public

TWO MEMBERS NAMED

Frank Jenkins and Paul Kelly to Choose Another Person for Group Which Will Hear Evidence on Deal

A public hearing upon the question of how city warrants are paid to $112,696.28, payment for warrants on the city was held in the city hall today. Recorder George A. Gilmore, contractor on December 18, and who delivered the warrants, was present. Action was taken by the city council at the meeting last night by the appointment of a committee of three to inquire into the matter. Mayor C. J. H. Gilmore, recorder, who asked that three members be named. Mayor Gilmore appointed Frank Jenkins, editor of the Morning Register, and Paul Kelly, editor of the Eugene Daily Guard, who are to name a third member.

City Loses Nothing, Is Claim

It was pointed out by A. L. Williamson, councilman, that in fact the city had lost nothing in the issuing of the warrants. He said that the action was unnecessary. However, Recorder Gilmore felt that action of some kind was necessary to clear up the situation. He said that the city has the pavement which was called for in the contract. Councilman Williamson said, "I cannot see where we lose. If cost action is necessary in regard to this question it is in regard to the bonding house and Mr. Read and would not involve the city of Eugene, as far as I can foresee."

In airing his viewpoint he tendered a written report to the council which would necessitate the appointing of a committee of three, in order that everything would be cleared up to the satisfaction of those who have heard the matter.

Several members of the council believed they saw no use in taking action of any kind. However, when a vote was taken of the members present the request was granted. The vote on the measure stood 10-4. The vote on the measure stood 10-4. The vote on the measure stood 10-4.

Gilmore Makes Request

The written request tendered by Judge Gilmore is as follows: "Eugene, Oregon, December 28, 1925. To the Honorable Mayor and Members of the Common Council of Eugene, Oregon: There appears to be a demand that the matter of the manner in which the warrants for the payment of the improvement on Onyx street came into the possession of Geo. W. Read, city papers, has already had two articles in its columns asking when such hearing is to be had and thereby keeping the matter before the people, which is prompting them to make such inquiries. Therefore, most respectfully ask that a hearing be had at the earliest possible time to permit me to call witnesses to prove just what did happen in said transaction. I have not heretofore asked for such a hearing for the reason I thought perhaps there might be some court action instituted whereby the whole fact would be called for, but it appears at this time that such action is not likely to be started and it further appears to me that the whole matter is one between the bonding company and Read in which the city, the United States National bank and the public are in no manner interested and for these reasons I do not wish to have the facts of the public asks for can be produced in any action contemplated."

"I therefore, most respectfully ask that the mayor appoint a commission of three residents of the city who are not in any manner connected with the city council, to take testimony pertaining to the transaction in the recorder's department on November 19, 1925, in which Geo. W. Read came into possession of city warrants to the amount of $112,696.28 for the improvement of Onyx street before such warrants were released by the engineer, and the time, place and manner of such hearing be arranged for by the council."

Respectfully submitted, GEO. A. GILMORE, "City Recorder."

BIANDI FIRM ON FINANCE POLICY

Crisis in Cabinet Believed to Be Delayed Again Until Jan. 12

Regular Session of Chamber May Bring Showdown

FRIENDLY SOLUTION AIM

Direct Tax Increase Planned by M. Doumer Meets Opposition from Group Favoring Indirect Levy

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Dec. 28.—The cabinet crisis, delayed incidentally because of Christmas week, now appears likely to be delayed until the chamber reconvenes for the regular session January 12.

"I have been thrown down too often to quit now," was Premier Briand's comment this afternoon. This was interpreted as meaning that he intends to fight the issue out and resist the indirect pressure brought to bear on him by the groups of the left either to give up the helm of government or throw his minister of finance overboard.

Radicals Oppose Government. M. Briand declared that he was going to do everything in his power to bring about a conciliatory solution of the question and would make every effort to retain in his cabinet any members disposed to leave it. He was thought to refer to the radical members of the government who are maintaining stout opposition to M. Doumer's financial measures. The situation thus reverts to the period when M. Painleve introduced his measures for financial renovation and encountered opposition from the groups of the left. The issue then was between the partisans and opponents of a capital levy; the question now is between those preferring direct taxes to indirect taxes.

Painleve Is Overthrown. The line-up on either side is much the same, but with the difference that the radical group, which is opposing M. Doumer's scheme for an increase in direct taxes, has seven men in the cabinet. M. Painleve ceded to the left coalition and was overthrown by the chamber. M. Briand thus far has refused to submit to the conditions of the left groups in the chamber and risks being overthrown in his own cabinet.

FIRE DAMAGE IN CHICAGO OVER $1,000,000

Many Deaths Attributed to Cold Weather; Six Found Frozen in Illinois City

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—The zero wave which overpassed almost the entire country, was broken today. While cold weather, in many sections below the season's normal, is expected for a day or two, the backbone of the wave was smashed when changing winds throughout the Middle West caused the mercury to start a climb that did not stop until it had cleared the zero mark by a comfortable margin.

Two Score Lives Lost. A toll upwards of two scores of lives, a property loss from fires estimated at $1,000,000 in Chicago alone, and interference with transportation facilities and wire communications were recorded.

The largest death toll was in Chicago where 17 persons died in four days. Half a dozen persons were found frozen to death.

In Ohio 13 deaths were attributed indirectly to cold weather, most of them asphyxiated.

Wave Proves Extensive. Weather forecasts indicated moderating weather continuing tomorrow and that it is moving eastward rapidly.

The cold wave before it had been partly checked, finally extended from the Rockies to the Atlantic seaboard with the coldest points in the northeast and northwest.

New Mexico, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas reported new low weather records for the year in many places was choked with ice and traffic was tied up.

HIGHER EFFICIENCY DREAM OF SCIENCE

Greater Human Production Expected to Be Means of New Happiness

USE OF TESTS URGED

Workers Would Be Placed in Congenial Jobs

DR. CATTELL SPEAKS

Amount of Fees Paid by Students Should Be Determined by Work Done in Class in Opinion of Association Head

(By The Associated Press) KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 28.—Alluring vistas where human production is increased, happiness bestowed upon the human race and the scientist awarded his place among the "masters of the world" were suggested at a general convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science here tonight by Dr. J. McKeen Cattell, retiring president.

With scientific methods, psychological tests, he said, all persons could learn the form of industry in which they could engage with the greatest efficiency and consequent happiness, while production could be more than doubled.

The address covered a wide range, including a jibe at the popularity of psychoanalysis which he termed "not so much a question of science as a matter of taste." A suggestion that tuition fees at universities be increased or lessened in proportion to student accomplishment and a proposal for revision of the alphabet characters to make them more readable. Psychological tests, which he said were growing in popularity in the schools, should be applied as a means to determine and aid the unusually brilliant students as to discover the deficient.

Differences to Be Measured. "The most work for psychology," said Dr. Cattell, "and its most useful application is the measurement of individual, group and racial differences and determination of the extent to which these depend upon native endowment and subsequent experience. It may be argued that this is the most pressing problem of science today."

"If each of us, from the moron to the national president, were selected for the work we can do best, the work fitted in the best way to the individual and the best training given him, the productivity of the nation would be more than doubled and the happiness of each would be correspondingly increased."

Labor Opposes Speeding. Although American labor has opposed psychological applications for speeding up industry, a long interview with the late Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, indicated he might be accepted eventually. He said: "The British Institute of Psychology has been successful in obtaining the co-operation of the workers ahead of the industry. It has increased production 40 per cent."

"In every field of activity, from the use of the pick and the shovel, to the typewriter and ledger, investigations might be made which would add 10 to 100 per cent to effective productivity and lessen to an equal extent effort and fatigue."

Letters Declared that "our letters have been handed down from the past as much else in our civilization, and should be adapted to meet modern conditions. They were developed largely for ease in writing, whereas in the invention of the printing press we are concerned only with the ease in reading."

"E", he held to be the most illegible of the upper case and "S" of the lower case. Other letters, he asserted, are hard to read because of their similarity. Psychoanalytic and other manifestations in popularity for drawing-room discussion.

ADVENTUROUS AMERICAN COMING HOME FROM WAR

18-YEAR-OLD BOY TIRES OF FOREIGN FIGHTING

Government Called On to Help Obtain Release of Youth From French Army

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 28.—William F. Killgore, 18-year-old American from Shreveport, La., whose enlistment in the French foreign legion has resulted in months of correspondence between the Washington and Paris governments, returned home at last, having sailed Thursday from Marseilles.

The boy reached France more than a year ago on an American merchant steamer and promptly decided on a career of adventure in the famous French foreign legion. Although he was under age for enlistment, he satisfied the French authorities on that point and was sent to Algeria to begin his military service.

Life Lacks Charm. The life proved less alluring than anticipated and young Killgore appealed to his family, with the result that the good offices of Senator Russell of Louisiana and other members of congress, including Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee, were called upon in an effort to have him released. The state department took the matter up in Paris only to find that there was no legal ground for urging his release and that French policy made it almost impossible that a soldier in the legion should be discharged before the expiration of his contract.

Riffs Wound Boy. The boy's detachment was transferred to Morocco, where he was wounded in the fighting against Riff tribesmen, and was sent back to a hospital at Casa Blanca and then to a depot at Oran. Meanwhile, pressure was being applied for his release and he was finally ruled in Paris that, as an act of friendship to the United States, he should be discharged. Despite that his enlistment had several years to run.

INGRAHAM TRIAL HEARD FIVE HOURS FINISHES CASE AGAINST TRAVELER

(By The Associated Press) TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 28.—Following a trial remarkable for its length, the case against Ingraham, big rail robber in Texas, charged with first degree murder for the fatal shooting of Joseph C. Hedges, Seattle, last September, was given to a jury composed of seven women and five men at 4:30 p. m. today. The trial of Ingraham, which was conducted by Judge Charles E. McGowan, Judge Chapman, was expedited in just five hours.

Ingraham is accused of shooting Attorney Hedges through the jaw the afternoon of Sept. 14, following an altercation on the Pacific highway near Nisqually, after the latter's automobile had slightly grazed his wagon in attempting to avoid collision with a car coming in the opposite direction. Hedges died two weeks later from his wound.

OFFICERS HOLD BARBER POSSESSION OF STILL CHARGE AGAINST MAN

(By The Associated Press) ROSEBURG, Ore., Dec. 28.—Joe Nelson, transient barber, was arrested here last night, charged with possession of a still, and a companion, Emory Shirley, is being sought by local officers for charges of white slavery. Shirley slipped down a fire escape at the hotel where he was staying and made a getaway while Nelson was being interrogated by the police.

Sheriff Stanger says that deputies have been watching the two men and a woman, who is detained as a witness, for the past ten days and that the men were tracked to a still found about 15 miles east of Sutherlin.

When Nelson was arrested, Shirley was in his room, but managed to escape before the officers reached his home. It is said to have brought the woman here from Washington, the government will probably be asked to aid in locating the fugitive.

COAL MEETING STARTS HOPE FOR SETTLEMENT SEEN IN GATHERING

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—A ray of hope for a settlement, or at least a truce, in the strike in the Pennsylvania hard coal fields, which has kept 155,000 miners idle since September, and caused a wide shortage of anthracite, was seen tonight as representatives of the miners and operators arrived to attend a joint conference tomorrow. It will be the first meeting of the two groups since negotiations were broken off at Atlantic City last summer.

There will be separate informal conferences tomorrow and the joint meeting, behind closed doors, will be called at 3 p. m.

The principal basis for hope of a settlement was the statement issued Sunday by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, that the strike would be settled within ten days.

M. M. Boney Tells of Progress Made by Farmers' Creamery in Improving Quality of Dairy Products

(By The Associated Press) PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 28.—The Oregon co-operative council, meeting here today in annual session, elected officers, endorsed the proposed bill in congress to create a division of co-operative marketing in the department of agriculture and discussed progress made in developing a market for high-grade butter.

The council is composed of a number of co-operative organizations and farm agencies. Officers elected were: R. A. Ward, manager of the Pacific Co-operative Wool Growers, president; A. F. S. Steele, Hood River, manager of the Apple Growers' association, vice-president, and C. J. Hurd of Corvallis, secretary.

E. J. Dixon, manager of the Pacific Co-operative Poultry Producers' association, reported that in the past year there had been an increase of 40 per cent in the business of the organization.

The volume of business is now six times what it was in 1923, he said, and amounts to $2,300,000 annually.

Mr. Ward succeeded Paul V. Maris, of Corvallis. The proposed bill to create a division of co-operative marketing, won strong approval. It was expected that the measure would be passed by congress in general terms by President Coolidge, and would call for an appropriation of $250,000 for such a division, authorize the assembling of a national commission to formulate relative to adjusting production to marketing requirements; to make surveys and determine need for co-operative organizations; previous plans for organizing them where needed, examine books of existing organizations upon request, and legalize action of farmers' co-operatives working together to regulate production. Senator McNary is expected to introduce the bill in the senate, it was said, and Representative Haughey in the house.

M. M. Boney of the Eugene Farmers' creamery, said that although the North Co-operative Creameries' association had been in existence but little more than a year, much progress had been made in the improvement of the percentage of sweet cream, and that the second phase of its work had now been reached, that of educating consumers to appreciate better quality as they have already been educated to appreciate cheese quality. Out of the discussion of developing a market for high-grade butter, it was pointed out that when J. D. Mickle, dairy and food commissioner for Oregon, recommended a farm organization on purely business lines, with educational character, it was taken up matters of local agricultural concern only and not stressing social or physical activity. The idea was characterized briefly by another as being a suggestion for a farm parallel to the chambers of commerce in towns and cities.

Meeting Rotation Suggested. Mr. Maris suggested that in the future meetings be held in such order that in time meetings would be held at the headquarters of all co-operatives which are members of the council, and that the annual meeting for chamber members be generally approved but not acted on.

Others, not before named, presented at the meeting were R. J. McIsaac, Parkdale, president of the Apple Growers' association; Edwin Allen, Forest Grove, secretary of the Forest Grove Co-operative; W. W. Silvers, Dundee, secretary of the Dundee Fruit Growers and Packers; W. D. Fraley, Gresham, president of the Berry Growers and Packing company; George A. Palmer, Hood River, manager of the Oregon State Orange; E. E. Faville, Portland, chairman of the agricultural committee of the chamber of commerce; R. H. Kipp, marketing department for chamber of commerce, and Dr. Hector MacPherson, Oregon Agricultural college, Corvallis.
