Dr. Trawin has made extensive study of Bible prophecy and in the light of widespread interest in this subject has been prevailed upon to give this series. He believes that the book of Revelation has a great message for this age and that its truths should neither be regarded by conservative Christians nor obscured by fanatical interpretations.

It is further announced that Christian people of every faith and all others who are interested in the subject of prophecy are cordially invited to hear these messages.

Professor F. G. Fisher of Chicago will lead a service of song, beginning each evening at 7:30. The prophetic messages will be given at 8 o'clock. The opening sermon of the series announced for Sunday are: "Jesus Is Here," and "Jesus Is Coming Again." Monday evening the theme will be "A Door Was Opened in Heaven."

Unitarianism—A Remarkable Faith

The editorial in the adjoining column explains why Unitarianism is a reasonable faith. Read it.

Next Sunday

another sermon in the series on

Unitarian Interpretations

will be given by the

Rev. Frank Fay Eddy

at the

UNITARIAN CHURCH

at 10:45 o'clock

on the theme

"Unitarianism and Philosophy"

A plain story in plain language tracing the intellectual growth of man until he feels the need of placing himself in a reasonable relationship to the universe in which he lives.

Barbara Hansen will be soloist at this service

A Question Class

follows each of these sermons—conducted by the pastor.

Editorial Mind in Evolution

The history of how man became a reasoning animal and how the evolution of all his problems kept pace with his own intellectual growth, is a long tale, but a fairly plain one.

It is but the history of man's thought evolution. The only reason why it has seemed so perplexing is because it is only in modern times that men began to understand that it was purely a human problem to be solved by a study of himself.

As soon as he dismissed the fallacies connected with his credulous beliefs in ghosts, demons, gods and revelations from without, all became simplified.

The aim of the sermon advertised in the adjoining column will be to trace out this tale of the gradual emancipation of man from the thought shackles he himself had forged in short-sighted ignorance.

As long as man's philosophy is in harmony with their theology they are intellectually content for their philosophy naturally and inevitably flows into theology. But when they try to retain a belief in a theology after it is at odds with their working philosophy, all is confusion and perplexity. The modern world is in that state today.

Unitarianism offers a theological interpretation which is a natural flowering of both ancient and modern philosophies. For modern Unitarianism is fashioned by the accepted principle that the human reason is the only authority for truth of any kind, religious, social or scientific.

A Unitarian can then interpret with clearer perspective the interesting history of man's unfolding rationality. It is simply a part of the story of man's evolution from the brute forms, with reason came conscience, with conscience came religion and the rudiments of philosophy. Then man began a new epoch in evolution. He has not gone far yet, but he is on his way. Man has just begun to write his own epic of progress. It is an unfinished tale but a hopeful one.
