KOCHANSKI IS TRIUMPH

MELODIES FROM OLD VIOLIN DELIGHT AUDIENCE

Strength and Softness Displayed in Concert Held Under U. of O. Student Auspices

Paul Kochanski won a most distinct and merited triumph last night on his first appearance in Eugene as a concert violinist. The auditorium and adjoining rooms of the First Methodist church were crowded with hundreds of music-lovers who listened enthralled while he played a long program of difficult numbers on his priceless old Stradivarius instrument.

The artist appeared here as a member of the company of musicians invited by the associated students of the University of Oregon, for the annual winter concert series, and he proved to be one of the most popular violinists who has ever played in Eugene.

Both familiar and unfamiliar numbers made up his program, the former played in Eugene in various ways. In Gregory Ashman Mr. Kochanski had an accompanist of skill and judgment, whose work was a constant pleasure to his hearers.

Following were the numbers played by Kochanski:

Concerto in A-minor Vivaldi

Allegro Largo Presto

Andante II. Mozart

Siellenne et rigaudon

Aria ... Franconer-Breider

Praeludium E-major ... Bach

Rondo Capriccioso ... Saint-Saens

Hymn to the Sun

Rimsky-Korsakoff

Gopak. Mousorgsky-Tscherninoff

SPECTATOR IS DISCUSSED

COACH McEWAN SPEAKER AT LIONS' CLUB

Fans Generally Learning to Appreciate More of Game Than Spectacular Playing

Football from the angle of the spectator, was discussed informally at the Lions' club luncheon meeting at the Eugene hotel yesterday by Captain John J. McEwan, coach of the University of Oregon.

The public generally is learning to appreciate more of the technicalities of the game, Captain McEwan said, and the lure of the spectacular is giving way more to the actual performance of the entire team.

The attitude of the alumni toward other sports as compared with that toward football was spoken of by the coach pointing out the fact that more stress was being laid on a winning football team than it was on any other of the intercollegiate games.

His talk was largely from the angle of the psychology of the spectator. Oregon's new coach said that the university has good material for next year's squad.

It was announced that Judge Ben Jones, international president of the Lions' club, would speak over a California radio broadcasting station next Wednesday night.

It was also announced that Judge Jones is expected in Eugene on the evening of February 3, and that plans for his reception, previously made, would be continued. A dinner at the Eugene hotel at 5:30 p. m. is on the program.

DE MOLAY SHOW SUCCESS

FINANCES NOT COMPLETELY CHECKED UP

Order Plans to Perform in Other Communities in the Vicinity of Eugene Soon

Vaudeville performances of the Eugene order of De Molay, given yesterday afternoon and evening at the McDonald theatre, were successful both from the point of attendance and financially. It was reported last night by officials of the boys' organization.

Good houses attended each showing and the De Molay drill team was assured of a trip to the state convention at La Grande in May. The shows were given for that purpose.

No definite check of the financial returns was made last night.

It is planned to give the show in other communities in the vicinity of Eugene in the near future and the De Molay officers will communicate with other De Molay organizations and Masonic lodges, asking for permission to give the performances under the auspices of these.

Those who participated in the vaudeville at the matinee yesterday afternoon and also at the evening performance were applauded by appreciative audiences. The acts "went over" with complete success, according to those who saw them.

ITALY TO PAY BRITAIN

AGREEMENT REPORTED SIGNED BY COINT VOLPI

LONDON, Jan. 27.—Italy has settled her war debt to Great Britain by agreeing to pay roughly $4,000,000 annually for 62 years, a total of $272,250,000 ($1,321,600). This was revealed today by publication of the terms of the agreement signed by Count Volpi, Italian minister of finance, and Winston Churchill, British chancellor of the exchequer.

The agreement provides also for Great Britain's concurrent repayment of the gold deposited by Italy in the Bank of England in 1915, amounting to $22,000,000, as security for war loans.

The total Italy must pay is in effect less than half her admitted debt of $972,000,000 ($2,387,000,000,000). This was revealed today by publication of the terms of the more generous than those Italy obtained at Washington.

The first payment, $2,000,000, is to be made on February 15 next.

Berlin is a Jew, son of a rabbi, while his bride, fifteen years his junior, is of the Catholic faith. Recently she received a special dispensation from the Pope sanctioning the marriage, with the proviso that any children born of the union should embrace the Catholic religion. Berlin's first wife died.

WETHERBEE POWERS

Equal to Emergency

A man who is continually losing his collar-stud while dressing complained to his wife about it. With an ingenuity born of the use of hair pins, she told him that if he would hold his stud in his mouth he wouldn't lose it. This worked for several days, when one morning she was startled by an unusual commotion. "What's the matter?" asked the wife anxiously. "I've swallowed my collar-stud!" gaped the husband. "Well," responded the wife, "you know where it is, anyway!"

LARIATAN BREAKS UP AND SINKS IN HEAVY SEA

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—In the worst storm which has raked the Atlantic in years, the British freighter Laristan broke up after a two-day battle against the elements and went down with a crew of 25 men. The line Bremen, which answered the Laristan's SOS call and had stood by in the hope of being able to offer assistance, gave up hope when, after losing sight of the freighter, it came upon widely strewn wreckage which it assumed was all that was left of the Laristan.
