LINCOLN EULOGY GIVEN

SCHOLARSHIP AND RELIGION FACTORS OF CHARACTER

Rev. F. L. Moore Addresses Springfield Junior High Students; Streets are Decorated

(Register Lane County Special) SPRINGFIELD, Ore., Feb. 12.—Lincoln was a marvelous scholar and a deep religious conviction, declared Rev. F. L. Moore, pastor of the Springfield Methodist Episcopal church, in his address before the students of the Springfield junior high school at a special assembly this afternoon.

Lincoln started with a big handicap in his studies, Rev. Mr. Moore said, but he made up for the lack of material and books by continually keeping at the task. By studying the books he had finally trained himself to such a degree that his letters and talks are even now taken as models of scholastic achievement.

The glee clubs of the school sang several selections during the assembly. Main street here took on a colorful aspect this morning, when flags were raised along the curbs in honor of the birthday of the great president.

That he had strong religious convictions is proved, said the speaker, by the numerous allusions made to God and passages of the Bible. Before the battle of Gettysburg, Lincoln is said to have spent hours praying.

EGG PRODUCTION TOPIC AT JUNCTION MEETING

East Compared With West Regarding Prices

PROF. LUND SPEAKER

Many Chickens Lost by Trivial Diseases Is Opinion of O. A. C. Veterinarian

(Register Lane County Special) JUNCTION CITY, Ore., Feb. 12.—A comparison of conditions in the East and West affecting economic egg production was given at the meeting of the city local of the Pacific Co-operative Poultry Producers association held in the Danish hall this forenoon. This was made by Professor A. G. Lund, of Oregon Agricultural college, one of the principal speakers for the occasion.

Professor Lund pointed out that the average price for eggs in the West is 35 cents per dozen as compared with 55 cents in New York city. The main factor in success with poultry, according to the speaker, is to bring about an increase in egg production without a corresponding increase in costs.

Average Loss 25 Per Cent Dr. Johnson, poultry veterinarian from Oregon Agricultural college, talked on poultry diseases. He pointed out that the average loss on growing stock was about 20 to 25 per cent. Of this loss he estimated that 10 to 15 per cent was the result of trivial ailments which proper care would prevent. He stated that the first six months was the most critical time in raising young chickens.

There were about 100 persons present and a slip passed around on which each person was asked to indicate the number of hens owned, which showed that the owners of about 14,000 hens were present.
