return some time Monday evening. Time will be spent in a general sight seeing about the city and especially of establishments supplementing their class work. Besides Miss Pitney, the teacher guide, the party consisted of Velma Owen and Grace Fawver, D. B. and A. I. Gladys Chastain, Daisy Tanton, Shirley Crawford, Bernice Owen, Margaret Cramer, Dorothy Piper, Thelma Fry, Zena Grimes, Edna Larsen, D. B. and A. 2.

A number of the seniors were in Eugene Thursday visiting photographers.

The sixth grade completed their Oregon history this week. This grade has also finished geography and physiology as far as text books are concerned.

As a part of the year's work in reading, the eighth graders have been giving dramatizations of several stories to be found in the eighth grade reader. The class was divided into groups for this work and made up and acted the little plays without rehearsing and with whatever stage material that could be gathered at the school house. Group one, or Thomas Somerville, Fay Huston and Geraldine Jones, gave "Getting Up to Date," in three acts and three characters, Mr. Carnagan, Mrs. Carnagan, Della Jones, the cook, respectively, during Tuesday's reading period. Group two, Doris Fry, Irene Morgan, Fred Huston, Bernard Brewer, followed with a one-act fable entitled "Mr. Vinegar." This called for several characters and each student had to double or triple their roles. Group three, Margaret Moore, Glen Peterson, Donald McAfee, presented "Going After a Job," also doubling roles. Wednesday's period the groups acted respectively, "Discharging the Cook," "Hanging a Picture," and "Moses Sells a Coat." The first group was voted best Tuesday and Wednesday the first and second groups won the honors. The two best plays were repeated Thursday morning with the pupils and teachers of rooms two, three and four present. But one hour was allowed each day for the making ready and the performance and the students are said to have acquitted themselves admirably.

Numerous class picnics and farewell doings are talked of and arrangements discussed. The Benton-Lane park seems to be the popular place for such excursions, as several of the grades plan to picnic there.

Four of the eighth graders will take arithmetic in the final state test next week and but one will write the spelling tests, the other nine having an average grade of above 95 for the year.

NEWS OF FOUR-H CLUBS IS GIVEN

Advice Given by Rex Eidson on How to Write Reports of Meetings; Activities of Several Groups Listed

By REX EIDSON

A short time ago I came across an finely written club report as one could wish for. It was well written, grammatical, correctly punctuated, and all that. But it lacked something. There was no date. I could not even guess the time of the meeting (if I were to have done that), for there was nothing by which I could have guessed.

Some things to remember:

- (1) Give the date of your meeting;
- (2) Where the members gathered;
- (3) Why the meeting was called, if special;
- (4) What was done, briefly;
- (5) The kind of a club you have;
- (6) And, above all, the names of those present, both members, visitors, and that of your leader.

Please send in initials with visitors' names where possible, not just preceding the surname with a "Mr.", "Mrs.", or "Miss". When reporting a demonstration, it would be appreciated if you would say who participated.

While most of the reports I have handled have been well made out, sometimes certain very essential things have been omitted.

Thanks in advance for the trouble the above has given.

The Coburg Poultry club met at the home of the leader, Leonard Hills, last Monday, April 20, after school. Nine members and one visitor were present. The feeding of baby chicks was discussed. By vote it was decided that ice cream should be sold at the ball game Sunday to raise money for the club building now being built at the fair grounds.

Adelbert Miller, president of the Goshen Rabbit club, called the club to order at his home on April 24. Several of the members told of the good times they had at the big club rally in Eugene on April 13. There was some discussion on the program, decided to be given on May 4 by the three clubs of Goshen, to raise money for the 4H club building now under construction at the Lane county fair grounds. May 29 was the date set for the next meeting, which will be at the home of David Calvert, leader. All of the members are looking forward to the presence of Arnold D. Collier, county club agent, at this meeting. Regret was expressed by the club as a whole that its secretary was confined at home with the chicken pox. Those present were Ralph Gay, Liston Wood, Floyd McBe, Jack Wood, Herman Waske and Adelbert Miller.

Nadine Miller and Hazel McCue demonstrated the making of bran muffins before the Creswell Crafty cooks on April 23 at the home of Mrs. G. H. Davidson, leader. The following fourteen members were present at this meeting: Barbara Clark, Beale Weber, Ruth Weber, Germaine Dyke, Wanda McCue, Hazel McCue, Edna Briggs, Harriet Moore, Ivy Cooley, Marjorie Howe, Tilda Kercher, Kathleen Warner, Nadine Miller and Helene Fox.

Gatch's rabbits present were as follows: Theodora Gatch, Gloria Gatch, Marjory Schenoreberg and George Knox.

At this time Eloise Sturdevant was elected president and Helena McGuire secretary of the club, as the former president and secretary have moved away. The next meeting was set for May 25. Those present were Eloise Sturdevant, Helena McGuire, Wanda Smiley and Marguaret Weyer.

On April 21 Goldie Blood remonstrated the making of quick breads before the Willa Cooking club of Motor Route B, Eugene. A short program was had, the following girls participating: Janet Chase, recitation; Thelma Bray and Ardane Reed, song; Goldie Blood, recitation; and Marie Elroy, recitation. The following are the names of the twelve regular members present at this gathering: Madge Conway, Helen Bray, Thelma Bray, Vena Blood, Lela Blood, Goldie Blood, Janet Chase, Jean Adele Gilbert, Jennie Lee Green, Emma Wilson, Marie Elroy, and Ardane Reed.

On April 26 Mrs. McCord's Signal Blossom club of Signal, Oregon,

The members at this gathering were as follows: Mable Neet, Hilda Neet, Roy Garver, Catharine Hyland, Helen Hyland, Norman Hyland, Dick McCord, Doris Neet, Ethel McCready, Donald Phillips, Rose Phillips, Pearl McCready and Francis McCready.

Due to the resignation of Addie Bell Greenwood, secretary of the Saving Seven Cookery club of Junction City, R. F. D. 2, the club members on April 16 elected Dorothy McCord to fill the vacancy. This meeting is the sixth of the club, held at the Riverview school.

garet English and Edna Liles. Mrs. Margaret Thomas leads the club.

Arnold D. Collier, county club agent, presented a charter to the Seven Wonders Sewing club of Fairmount, Eugene, on May 3. He gave a short speech, telling the club that they might have their Achievement Day exercises in the new club building when it is completed. Eloise Goddard and Theodora Gatch demonstrated the hemming of a tea towel. The framed motto which the club is going to give to the 4H building was formally unveiled by Anna Charpentier. A picnic to be on May 26 at Riverside park was discussed by the girls and it was decided that Mr. Collier should be a guest of the club on that day.

By the next meeting, May 16, each girl must have finished three articles. The members approved of carrying the meetings through the summer.

Besides Mr. Collier, Mrs. Palmer was a visitor. The following girls attended the meeting: Marlan Taylor, Frances Bower, Monica Bladon, Elsie Goddard, Ardyth Nettleship, Anna Charpentier, Theodora Gatch, Helen Bever and Mabel Eldson.

DO YOU PAY YOUR BILLS?

Character is the basis for extending retail CREDIT.

A person with a good character can get credit just like they can get almost anything else. It's HONESTY, EFFICIENCY and CAPACITY that counts—that makes CHARACTER.

A man with HONEST INTENT and EFFICIENT enough to not overestimate his income or underestimate his expense—in other words, to make both ends meet—can and does invariably get credit.

In the long run IT'S HONESTY that counts more than any other one thing—and HONESTY, after all is said and done, is the big part of CHARACTER.

HONEST FOLKS PAY THEIR BILLS.

DO YOU PAY YOURS?

DON'T LIE

There is no other thing that will show up a man's true character so much as the manner in which he takes care of his obligations.

"DEAD BEATS" ARE WITHOUT HONOR.

"DEBT DODGERS" DO NOT VALUE THEIR WORD.

Both are willing to sell their CHARACTER for a piece of merchandise—and lie to boot.

When you take merchandise from a man's store on credit you take it with the understanding that you are to pay for it. If you don't remit, you have lied to the merchant. And it's an old saying that "A MAN WHO LIES WILL STEAL."

No One Wants to Transact Business
With a Thief
Organized to Help

MISFORTUNE comes at times. Without regard to station, it pays its respects to all. DON'T CAPITALIZE MISFORTUNE. DON'T MAKE IT AN EXCUSE TO BECOME A "DEAD BEAT."

If things seem to be going against you—get in touch with the men you owe. The merchants of this city are lenient to a fault. If you show honest intent they will go to the ditch with you—BUT YOU MUST DO YOUR SHARE.

If you are in the hole, YOU CAN GET OUT. Tell your creditors and they will lend you a willing hand. NO GOOD MERCHANT WANTS YOU TO BECOME A BANKRUPT.

This organization was formed to eliminate the "DEAD BEAT" and help honest folks who want to pay their bills.
