

HEARST IS FOR HOOVER

EDITOR FINDS HE IS MOST CAPABLE MAN FOR POST

Says Party Cannot Afford to Turn Down Hoover Just to Please a Faction

CHICAGO, Ill., June 7.—(AP)—William Randolph Hearst, in an editorial appearing in his morning newspaper Friday, says:

"President Coolidge being definitely out of the race for the Republican nomination and Secretary Mellon having refused to allow his name to be used, the Hearst newspapers find the one man most capable of carrying on the principles and policies of the Coolidge administration to be Secretary Herbert C. Hoover.

"The best evidence of this truth is the fact that Secretary Mellon, and indeed as far as it is legitimate in his high position, President Coolidge, are supporting the candidacy of Secretary Hoover.

Conservatism His Asset "The present situation demands conservatism, and Secretary Hoover's conservatism is of the constructive and not the reactionary type. There is, therefore, probably no man in the whole Republican party who would be as useful a president of the party and as valuable a president of the nation, during the next four years, as Secretary Hoover.

"Moreover, he is unquestionably the strongest candidate from a mere political point of view that the Republican party could possibly nominate.

"The Republican party cannot afford, in the light of recent disclosures, to reject a conspicuously honest, able and popular candidate, and nominate another man just to please a Republican faction."

WOMAN STARTS ACTION

EMMA CHAPPELLE CITES LOGAN AND BRYAN, BROKERS

TACOMA, Wash., June 7.—(AP)—Logan and Bryan, investment brokers, are named defendants in a suit for more than $26,000, brought by Emma Chapelle and filed in the Pierce county superior court here today.

The complaint charges that the firm purchased from Overbeck and Cooke company, Portland brokers, stocks and bonds aggregating that amount, held in trust and with knowledge that the Oregon firm was insolvent on or before January 31, 1928. Four causes of action are listed. The first is for recovery of $11,455.20 the claim of Emma Chapelle, and three others are assignments held by her as follows: $10,471.93, the assigned claim of Katherine Effinger; $1,154.72, assigned claim of O. C. Balderson; and $5,942.10, assigned claim of Eugene Gallagher.

BALLOT BOXES GUARDED

TWO SUPERVISORS WOUNDED IN FLORIDA RAID

TAMPA, Fla., June 7.—(AP)—Armored motor cars were pressed into service here today to move ballot boxes to the county court house, after an attempt to steal ballots from one of the voting precincts headquarters had resulted in the wounding of two election supervisors.

An armed trio entered the precinct headquarters where supervisors were counting the long ballot cast Tuesday in the Democratic primary and ordered everyone to "stick 'em up." When a deputy sheriff, guarding the boxes, attempted to rise from his chair, the men opened fire, then fled in an automobile without making further effort to secure the ballots. The two supervisors, Ulmer Hawkins and Henri Arth, were not seriously wounded.

would probably have carried him toward this spot from the place the dirigible last reported its position, less than a hundred miles north of Moffet island, one of the northernmost points of the Spitzbergen archipelago.

The reference to a mountain, unless to an extraordinarily high heap of ice, is inexplicable. The area mentioned has been well explored and is known to contain no land. It is far to the east of the chimerical Crocker Land which Peary reported having seen north of Greenland.

The notation of "OPOGNT" possibly means 8 a. m. Greenwich, which is equivalent to 1 a. m. eastern standard time.

OTHER SIGNALS TOO WEAK

Radio Operator on Citta Da Milano Picked Up Two

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, June 7.—(AP)—Twice today the radio operator on the Citta Da Milano, base ship of General Umberto Nobile's lost Polar expedition, heard weak signals which he was sure were from Operator Biagi, radio man on the dirigible Italia. The signals were too weak to decipher.

Hopes that the Italian general and his 17 companions survive, were revived among the dozen members of the expedition at Kings Bay. The first signals were heard early this morning. Conditions then were unfavorable for good radio transmission. The operator on the Citta Di Milano then addressed a message to Biagi, telling him to try again at 5 p. m., when it would be a little darker and more favorable.

Again at the afternoon hour the operator thought he caught weak signals. It was impossible, however, to make out what the sender was trying to say. Captain Hjalmar Rilsner-Larsen, Norwegian Arctic pilot, arrived here today with his plane. He put the machine, which is a hydroplane, on the water, but there was too much fog to justify him in starting his scouting trips to the north. The captain hopes to get away on the first of these trips tomorrow.

Word came that Lieutenant Luetzow Holm, the other Norwegian naval flier who has been among the ice floes for several days on the sealer Hobby, was unable to take the air yesterday because of the thick fog. A cold north wind is also hampering the Hobby.

SOUTHERN CROSS ON WAY FOR AUSTRALIA

Australian pilots: Navigator Harry Lyon and Radio Operator James Warner, Americans, were cheerful and confident that the flight would be made without mishap. Lyon, who had lost his spectacles, was hampered somewhat in reading his navigation charts, but not incapacitated.

Last Leg of Journey

Behind the crew lay 5538 miles of flying from Oakland, Cal., toward the goal at Sydney, Australia. There remained only 2282 miles to be flown, and the journey of 7800 miles would be ended. Having made a flight of 2400 miles from Oakland, Cal., to Wheeler Field near Honolulu, and the great sweep of 3138 miles from the Hawaiian to the Fiji, the firm were not worried as they contemplated the journey of 1782 miles over the sea to Brisbane.

In Brisbane Lyon and Warner, it was planned, would leave the Southern Cross; their Australian companions going without them to Sydney, 500 miles over either land or sea in the great plane.

SUVA, FIJI, June 8.—(AP)

Conditions were favorable for the flight of the Southern Cross toward Brisbane, Australia, at noon today, two hours before it was planned to take off on the 1763 mile journey over the South Pacific ocean. Reckoned by Pacific coast time in the United States, the proposed starting hour is 6 p. m. Thursday. The four fliers, rested after a night's good sleep on the government steamer Pioneer at Naselai beach, were in the best of spirits. The plane had been fueled and the crew went over it carefully in preparation for the take-off.

PLANE IS WELL ON JOURNEY

Cheerful Message From Southern Cross is Picked up

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—(AP)—The naval radio station here received the following radio message from the monoplane Southern Cross at 9 p. m. Pacific coast time:

"To all whips—Well, here we are on our way again. Everything is running O. K. In 19 or 20 hours we will be in dear old Australia. Our landing in Brisbane will be the culmination of ten months' hard work and the realization of Smith's and my ambition to be first to really cross the Pacific by air.

"After our arrival in Brisbane we will leave the next day for Sydney by air but please assure the Brisbane public that we intend returning there on a tour after a couple of weeks rest.

"Cheerio from all. "Jim."

The instructions concerning assurance to the Brisbane public evidently were intended for Australian land stations.

AIMEE IN AUTO WRECK

EVANGELIST AND PARTY HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

PORTLAND, Ore., June 6.—(AP)—Aimee Sempie McPherson, evangelist, and her party of six, narrowly escaped injury today on the highway between Yakima and Arlington, when a steering knuckle on their automobile broke, and the car was wrecked. The large sedan plowed 50 feet through a fence, snapped off a telephone pole, smashed up the springs in a deep ditch, and was literally perforated with dents from flying boulders and fence posts.

Mrs. McPherson was not unusually perturbed by the accident, her companions said. Her only comment was: "The Lord was certainly with my party this time."

TWO DEATHS FROM HEAT

CALIFORNIA SUFFERS FROM HIGH TEMPERATURE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 7.—(AP)—Another death caused by heat prostration was reported today when Mrs. Sophie Wentzel, 64, of Los Angeles, died near Fresno as she was being taken to an emergency hospital.

Yesterday Gilbert Van Spaaje, 37, was found dead under a wagon in a hay field near Hanford. In the San Francisco bay region the mercury was in the 70's today and was mounting steadily until a sea breeze shortly after noon brought the temperature slowly down.

Plane Hops for Gotham

TUCSON, Ariz., June 7.—(AP)—The Lockheed monoplane in which pilots Lee Schoenhair and Harry Tucker hopped off from San Diego today in a planned non-stop flight to New York, passed over Tucson at 5:10 o'clock this afternoon. The plane left Rockwell field at San Diego at 1:15 p. m. Pacific coast time.

WHERE PACIFIC FLIGHT LANDED SAFELY

This fine air view shows Wheeler Field, Honolulu, where the trans-Pacific plane, "Southern Cross," landed in safety. Captain Kingsford-Smith and his crew expect to remain here two days and then hop off on the second leg to the Fiji Islands, on the way to Australia.

rash competing with other enterprises. In spite of the adverse winds several attempts were made today to lift the heavy plane from the water. The light shifting breeze was insufficient for the purpose, however.

The fuel tanks of the plane with this load weighs six tons. The pilot said that a fairly fresh breeze would be necessary to enable him to lift this weight from the water. Conditions tonight did not appear to promise an early take-off.

TREPASSEY, N. E., June 7.—(AP)—A small leak in the oil tank of the Fokker monoplane Friendship was discovered late today and Wilmer Stultz, pilot of the plane on its proposed trans-Atlantic flight, announced that the take-off for Europe would not be attempted until tomorrow. Repairs were made tonight.

Weather conditions at the time the postponement was decided upon remained the same as earlier in the day, when the Friendship made three vain attempts to get off the water with her heavy load in light work. The pilot said a fresh breeze was necessary to enable the Friendship to get her six tons of weight into the air.

gets under way, his nomination would appear inevitable even to bitter-end foes. About the only setback that Hoover managers were willing to concede possible today was that President Coolidge might be projected into the picture either by his own admirers or by leaders who are dead set against the commerce secretary. They are going on the theory, however, that Mr. Coolidge has definitely eliminated himself.

SEATTLE CO. LOW BIDDER

MAY GET CONTRACT TO CONSTRUCT OWYHEE DAM

ONTARIO, Ore., June 7.—(AP)—The General Construction company of Seattle was the low bidder for the construction of the Owyhee dam which will impound the waters of the Owyhee river to irrigate lands in the Owyhee project for the United States reclamation service.

The Seattle company's bid was for $3,198,773. The highest bid, that of Lynn Atkinson of Portland, was nearly one and one half million dollars greater.

It was expected here that the award will be approved in Washington D. C. prior to June 30, and that the work on the dam, which will be the highest structure of its kind in the world, will start before August 1.

PREMIER TANAKA SAVED

TOKIO, Japan, June 8.—(AP)—An unsuccessful attempt was made to assassinate Premier Tanaka this morning.

When the premier arrived at the Ueno station a man in working clothes tried to stab him with a dagger. Tanaka's bodyguard frustrated the attempt and arrested the man. The premier was not hurt. He was enroute to Utsumiya to attend a conference of his party.
