

RECORD HOLDERS, GERMANY'S OLYMPIC THREAT

"FAVORITISM" CAUSES BIG SQUAWK

Referees and Judges in New York Camp on Mourners' Benches and Are Sobbing ALOUD

By FRANK G. MENKE
Plaintive shrieks are piercing and disturbing the ozone which embraces the prize rings of New York.
Wailing and moaning is not a new thing in the fight racket but this time, the voices are not those of fighters, managers and the sucker public.
The referees and judges—those without a so-called "pull" are camped on the mourner's benches and sobbing aloud.
It seems according to some of the honored officials, that if you haven't a "friend in court"—the pickings are very small indeed.
Favoritism of the rankest kind is alleged by those disgruntled officials. They insist that only those who have the "right track" get the fancy salaries while the refereeing and judging at the small-fry clubs is their only portion.
The combination according to its original plans, works its referees and judges on what might be termed an equitable plan; that it assigns all its officials in rotation to the big championship battles, where the wages paid are infinitely higher than is doled out by the smaller clubs.
But that plan, say the unhappy ones, apparently has been overlooked.
Some officials repeat at big bouts, while others get nothing but an occasional job at a small club—or no job at all.
For instance:

Louisa Magnolia, who is rated as one of the best referees in the city, was assigned the job of referee in three championship fights—all in one week. That meant three healthy cash pickups for Magnolia while all the other referees sat around and mused over the unkind wallop of Fate—or something like that.
In one week the commission assigned the following judges to two big shots each: Flynn, Mathison, Kelly, Barnes and Patrick.
That may not mean anything to you but it means plenty in the lives of the small army of judges who got no work at all.
Why were those five favored twice in one week while some others never got a chance? It's hard to say, but one bloke, in an open squawk, explained it like this:
"Flynn is Farley's brother-in-law."
"Kelly is an intimate friend of Farley's."
"Patrick is a pal of one of the members of the commission."
"Barnes has political affiliations."
"Mathison, almost as old a man as Billy Muldoon, the other member of the commission, has been Muldoon's friend and newspaper booster for many years."
If this favoritism be true, as Barkis said, the boys seem to have cause for a squawk for it's a tough racket at best, this judging and refereeing.

BENEFIEL PLANS MINOR SPORT TOURNEY IN FALL

Oregon Graduate Manager Seeks More Athletics

In an effort to increase the number of athletic contests between members of the northern division of the Pacific coast conference,

Jack W. Benefiel, graduate manager of the University of Oregon, is arranging a plan for a minor sports tournament to be held next winter. Date for such a tourney and place has not yet been set, it is announced.
Benefiel plans to put handball, squash, water polo, golf and other teams into the field and expects to have intercollegiate competition. The Oregon graduate manager recently went on record as favoring an increase of intercollegiate sports and would like to add lacrosse, soccer, handball and possibly ice hockey to the present conference schedule. These four activities could be played in the spring and would offer more athletic contests for a larger number of students on the campus.
In all probability Benefiel will bring up this new plan at the next meeting of graduate managers, scheduled for the fall. However, he will work only with the northern division members, California already has a minor sports program with the University of California, Stanford, University of Southern California and University of California at Los Angeles taking part.
Lacrosse is likened to soccer and could easily be played in the spring regardless of weather conditions. The weather here has played havoc with early baseball, track and tennis preparation. With lacrosse and soccer on the schedule intercollegiate competition could be kept going at all times in the spring months following the regular basketball season.
Ice hockey, because of the equipment cost, would not go so well at present, but when the colleges gain a higher monetary standing it probably could be arranged.
