IMPORTANT FOR VOTERS TO REGISTER

J. M. Conklin Will have Necessary Blanks at Maupin State Bank in Short Time

Much interest has been aroused this week in registration for voting at the approaching election, which is now less than a month away. A number of the measures to be voted on are attracting keen interest. The prohibition amendment has held the center of the stage locally on account of the interest aroused by the meeting here Sunday night and a new series of prohibition posters displayed here at the same time. This is a vital question and every voter should be prepared to vote on it according to his or her convictions.

There are other measures of great importance to be voted on. Unless the voter registers it is an extremely difficult matter to cast his ballot. But there is no place in Maupin to register. It looked as if we might all be deprived of our vote or be forced to make a trip to the county seat, when Mr. J. M. Conklin, of the Maupin State Bank came forward with the solution. He is a notary and has volunteered to secure the blanks necessary. These ought to be here by Monday and all who have not registered should do so at once. Time for registering expires Thursday, Oct. 15.

Maupin should make a good showing by polling a large vote on election day.

Have Attractive Display

Shattuck Bros. have just installed a fine new hat case in that well stocked department and will have in a new line of hats within a few days. Have you noticed the attractive window displays at this up-to-date store? They are certainly attractive and a credit as well as a benefit to the proprietors.

NEED BETTER MAIL SERVICE

Southern Wasco Suffers from Lack of Direct Connection With Outside Points

Business transactions between Southern Wasco and other parts of the county because of the fact that no mail is carried to and from here on the O-W. train, are almost impossible to handle. The Oregon Trunk gives us splendid mail service to Portland, better than could be secured on the day train. But we need, and have a right to, mail service to and from the post offices in our own county. It requires days for a piece of mail to travel two hundred fifty miles, via Portland, to reach Dufur, twenty-seven miles over the hills. The only means of direct communication with The Dalles is by wire and that is always expensive and usually unsatisfactory.

Wasco county should be a commercial unit with Maupin and The Dalles the connecting points. If Dalles business men wish to cultivate commercial relations with business men in this end of the county, they will get behind this move to give us a direct mail service—and see that we get it.

Ed Brown caught a fine basket of fish out of the Deschutes river near here Saturday. Maupin is still headquarters for anglers.

Shattuck Bros. shipped five crates of chickens to Page & Son Portland Monday.

VIOLIN SOLOIST AT PROHIBITION MEET

Violin music by an accomplished artist was the chief attraction at the local church Sunday evening. The violinist was Miss Covur traveling with Mrs. Lottie Hannon for the prohibition amendment to the Oregon constitution. A number of violin solos were rendered. Miss Covur also accompanied the singing of numerous hymns, both old and new, in a manner that was delightfully pleasing to the audience.

The building was comfortably filled at an early hour and all listened with much interest to the remarks on prohibition by Mrs. Hannon. The speaker stated that the sentiment thruout the state is in favor of prohibition and that the only task is to get the voter to register and go to the polls on election day.
