Devoted to the Interests of Southern Wasco County

VOL. 1, NO. 8,

MAUPIN, SOUTHERN WASCO COUNTY, OREGON, OCTOBER 21, 1914

THE YEAR $1.50

Greater Wasco County

We are in Maupin to keep The Times on its progressive move. This week we are somewhat handicapped in getting machinery installed which arrived late. The Times will continue for the present under the ownership of W. C. Walker and will be edited and managed by the undersigned.

Mr. Walker will issue a morning daily paper at The Dalles, which promises to make good. He is a live wire and deserves a liberal patronage. This section has a wonderful future and Maupin's fine representation of business men will put it on the map if nothing else will. This along with many other future prospects, which eventually will materialize, gives an atmosphere of progression that means not only a greater Wasco county, but the largest and best located little city in the southern portion.

Walter V. Martini.

Wallace Forger went to The Dalles this week, to meet his wife who has been visiting there

Water Project Completed

E. E. Miller, representing the Wapinesia Irrigation Co., of Portland, was in Maupin, last week and expects to have water running on their project within thirty days.

Fifty men and eighteen teams have been employed since July on this project, which had been abandoned several years for lack of capital.

The intake is at Clear Creek below Clear Lake about two and one half miles. The canal is nine feet wide, sloping to a depth of four and one half feet. Its length is fourteen miles and next spring 10,000 acres can be irrigated. At present the dam at Clear Lake is only thirty-two feet in width and they have a right to build ninety feet which would water 20,000 acres.

The price per acre that this water will cost is yet undecided, states Mr. Miller.

Our popular cashier J. M. Conklin, spent the first of the week in Portland, visiting his family.

Ranch Home In Ruins

Wm. Connolly lost his nine room ranch home last week, by fire. It was discovered while the family were at dinner. The flames burst forth from the ceiling of the first story, and the only supply of water available, was a small spring. They were unable to save it, and are now living in a tent. Mr. Connolly will soon have a new home under course of construction.

Convicted and Sentenced

Joe Wilburn and B. Hymer, arrested here in June, for stealing a harness and saddle at Spokane, which they shipped to their home stead ten miles south of here, completed serving their time out on that charge and were again arrested by Deputy Sheriff Statts for the theft of goods at the McClure store at Hunts Ferry. Both were given thirty days and fined fifty dollars. From what we can learn the gentlemen intend returning to these parts at the expiration of their sentence.

All kinds of jewelry repaired by Emmons the jeweler.

Tapp brothers of Wapinitia, were in the city this week, accompanied by Joseph R. Keep, who was enroute to Portland on irrigation matters.

Maupin is the outlet to Southern Wasco County, and a location for many lines of business. A drug store would make good under proper management.
