We are here to help up-build this part of the country and will do all we can to bring in new people. We will advertise the resources and will correspond with anyone who is looking for a location and we will also handle some real estate, but we are doing this more to bring new people among us,—knowing full well that every new family will add in many ways to the progressive spirit of our town and community.

Now what we want to impress on your mind is, the all importance of every one that can possibly do so, go to all new comers and try to sell them a piece of land, dont let up on them until you have driven them entirely from our midst. Every one should have a piece of land in view that will just suit him and as soon as one is through another pick him up, be over-anxious, tell him who he should associate with; be a real estate man for just one day, and don't advertise the fact only when a homeseeker arrives.

If you want to handle real estate come out and say so, learn the business and we will help you all we can, but the next loss to the community through the above methods will bring a change in our manner of dealing with this problem. This article is written for the purpose of showing that over-zealousness is a fatal mistake in many cases and brings about just the opposite result than what was sought, and injury where good was meant. So, be careful and avoid these mistakes.

H. K. Stogadill arrived here from Willamette valley points last Monday and will visit in this section for about a month.

O. L. Packett came down from his Wapinitia ranch the first of the week and left over the Oregon Trunk for Portland.

Jack Donaldson sold his fine team of sorrel horses this week to Will Connolly. They were a number one team and brought a good price.

J. W. Ward one of the Wapinitia district farmers, returned from Portland Monday, where he has been spending a several weeks vacation.

C. L. Hinson one of the government forest rangers from the Ochiko reserve stopped over here last Monday and visited with W. H. Staats. Mr. Hinson is an old time friend of Mr. Staats, and their meeting was the first in several years.

Mrs. E. J. Miller and Miss Thrall spent Saturday at the large country home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Connolly.

Dont let the clock stand idle, bring it to me.

Emmons the Jeweler,

Thos. Moss arrived in our midst a few days ago from Willamette valley. He is looking over the country with a view to locating here.

Mrs. Merinda Wright, daughter of Grandma Richardson, who has been here for some time left for Portland a few days ago.

J. M. Conklin, President of the state bank here, returned Tuesday morning from Portland where he had been on a visit to his family.

The little four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Miller has been quite seriously sick for the past week, and was taken to Portland last night for an operation.

Our banker, Mr. Conklin has just fenced in the lot just east and adjoining the bank. He has planted the ground to grass seed, which will add greatly to the appearance of the property.

Z. A. Watkins of Tygh was over the first of the week. He reports that the surveyors are out above Tygh working on the new road to be put through from The Dalles into this country.

Mrs. W. H. Staats returned from Portland last Friday where she has been on an important business deal, which will mean much to this section of the country if consumated.

Grandma Richardson was taken to Portland last Sunday and word was received here after her arrival there, saying, that she stood the trip very well and is feeling much better than when she left.

T. J. Clark arrived in town a few days ago on his way from Portland to his ranch above Redmond. Mr. Clark was in business in Portland for a number of years before moving to his present home.

Dr. C. H. Francis and Duke Moad made a trip to Freda, about 12 miles above this place last Saturday. They left here on a speeder, but the doctor didn't like the idea of breaking the speed limit, and returned on the midnight train. Mr. Moad returned with the speeder alone and though it is down hill he says walking is much preferable.
