Criterion Chronicles

L. N. Castor made final proof on his homestead on Saturday.

J. E. Miller attended Artisans' lodge at Maupin Friday night.

D. L. Rutherford and wife made a business trip to Shaniko Monday last.

H. M. and Bert Knight moved on to their claims for the summer recently.

The merry click of corn planters is heard from all points of the compass at present.

Miss Bertha Henling's new bungalow is nearly finished and is one of the coziest in Wasco county.

Mrs. Otto Henling and Miss Frances Kirsch left Saturday for a visit to their parents at Stayton, Ore.

Regardless of the rainy day, Sunday School was well attended and good interest is shown in the work here.

The calamity howler finds no sympathetic audience at Criterion, hence there has been no repetition of his visit of a few years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Henderson and children who have been visiting on Juniper Flat and Kingsley returned to their home recently.

The recent showers here increased the dimensions of our citizen farmers' broad smiles, making the already good prospects better than ever.

Quite a number of our citizens are making good catches of coyotes. Among those making recent captures are E. McLennan, Ralph Buzan, and C. G. Stogsberg and E. H. Taylor. This good

Big Wheat Yield

Chas. H. Crofoot brought to this office last Tuesday a sample of fall sown wheat that measured nearly three feet and was headed to at least half its natural size. It is a new variety and called Galgalus wheat.

Mr. Crofoot has over 80 acres of this, fall sown, and on a test last year it withstood the heavy frost and turned off 9 bushels more to the acre than Club wheat. He is the only farmer that we know of in this section growing the Galgalus wheat and intends planting considerable more acreage next year.

work should continue. The $3 bounty is none too much, compared with the destruction the coyote causes the farmer and stockman.

Chas. Castor and family returned to their home at Yakima, Wn., after several days visit with his brother L. N. Mr. Castor is wholesale buyer for the Coast Trading Co., of Tacoma.

C. A. Drus is completing a fine new cottage. These new domiciles are roomy enough for "more than one occupant." Let the good work go on and on.

Among those doing business at Maupin last week were R. H. DeCamp, J. H. Baxter, H. M. Green, L. B. DeCamp, J. E. Miller, A. A. Canfield, H. M. Knight, Miss B. Henling and P. J. Kirsch.

Among those recently building fences on their farms are J. G. Stogsberg, E. H. Taylor, Otto Henling, Fred Hornquist and R. H. DeCamp.

LARGE CROWDS CATCH BIG FISH IN DESCHUTES RIVER

The big salmon run is now on in the Deschutes river and at Sherar Bridge the last few days people from all over Wasco and Sherman counties have come to take advantage of the exciting sport in the great catches made at the falls. The catches are made mostly at night in the run-way built for the salmon to pass the falls, and over two hundred people gathered at one time to be in on the annual spring run of the famous Deschutes fish.

mountains is open now for travel. Five teams came through here Sunday from the valley enroute to The Dalles, among them, a Mr. Knighten and family who lived in this vicinity about thirty years ago.

Rev. Emerick of The Dalles arrived here Saturday and conducted the last quarterly conference in the church here Saturday evening. David Sharpe was elected delegate to the annual conference which convenes in Salem June and. Robert Tapp was chosen as alternate.

Miss Lucile Risch, who formerly taught the Oak Grove school passed through here last week, enroute to her father's home near Dufur, having made the trip on horse back from Harney county, where she has a homestead.

Mildred, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Richardson who has been sick the past month passed last Thursday evening. Although it was known she had been low, her death came as a great shock to her parents and the community as she was thought to yesterday were: J. M. Conklin, W. H. Staats, L. K. Oakley, Frank Stuart, John Donaldson, Job Crabtree, John Moad, Vernie Roberts and Ray Smith.

As the O. W. train passed the mouth of the river yesterday they slowed down and the almost inconceivable report of the passengers was to the effect that they could have crossed the river on the backs of salmon. This is a yearly sight at the mouth of the mighty Deschutes.

be improving, being able to sit up and be dressed in the afternoon before the relapse came in the evening. She was three years, ten months old. The sorrowing family have the sympathy of this community. Rev. C. E. Wood conducted the funeral services Saturday morning at the Kelly church and interment was made in the Kelly cemetery.

Lincoln Hartman, who has been confined in The Dalles Hospital for several weeks, has sufficiently recovered to be able to return to his home here last Thursday and says he is feeling fine.

A. F. Evick returned Thursday from a business trip to Portland and The Dalles. While away he purchased a fine new Maxwell auto which will arrive this week.

Wedding bells will be ringing here in the near future. Announcements later.

Sam Brown and family attended the celebration at The Dalles last week.

Shearing was finished at the Gable ranch Saturday.

School Notes

Ray Smith has quit farming and begun school again, and Harold Lock has quit school and gone to farming on his father's homestead about ten miles up the Deschutes.

The two rooms will close on June 25 and are considering a picnic for the last day.

Mr. Vanwinkle visited the school Wednesday afternoon and delivered the pictures he took last week.

Hammer-Riggles

Mr. E. E. Hammer and Miss Eva Riggles passed through here Wednesday morning from Wapinitia enroute to The Dalles where they were married, taking the afternoon train for Portland. They will make a short visit at the home of Mr. Hammer's mother at Estacada, after which they will be at home to their friends in Portland.

Both young people are well known in this section and their many friends will wish them a happy journey through life.

Hankey Harpham went home to his ranch Saturday.

Died

Little Mildred Richardson, aged three years, passed away at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Richardson above Wapinitia last Friday evening after a pneumonia illness commencing April 7th. She was laid to rest in the Kelly cemetery. Mildred was cheerful and conscious until the last and is indeed missed by her fond parents and many young friends.

Card of Thanks

We desire to express heartfelt thanks to the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during the illness and death of our little daughter, Mildred.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Richardson

The salmon are now plentiful down at Sherar and reports of fine catches are numerous. James Cook and W. H. Staats were down there Tuesday night and Mr. Staats returned exhibiting three 12 pounders, 32 inches long and a Dollivarden of enormous size. He said there were 80 people present at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning and 240 fish were captured. They were allowed to run through and there was no violation of the law.

Mr. R. Johnson brought his first Strawberries of this season to town Wednesday; sixteen boxes of as nice looking berries as you ever saw. He presented the Times force with a box of them, several of which measured 3 inches in circumference. Mr. Johnson says he will bring a lot more in town tomorrow.

Saturday afternoon the team of Lowell Noskin, of Criterion, became frightened by the peals of thunder and made a run from the O. W. R. & N. depot to the Martin house, where they were caught by Elmer Miller. No damage was done. The little boy was thrown from the wagon when the team started but escaped injury.

CORBETT DIES IN DALLES HOSPITAL

Thomas J. Corbett, who has been in the employ of A. W. Fargher the past three years, died early Saturday morning at The Dalles Hospital. Mr. Corbett was well known in Wasco county.

M. J. Manning, a close friend of Mr. Corbett, raced 109 miles by automobile to reach his friend's bedside, but Mr. Corbett died shortly before Mr. Manning arrived.

The funeral took place from the Catholic church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The pallbearers were; M. J. Manning, A. W. Fargher, Glenn O. Allen, T. A. Connolly, A. J. Conroy and James Bannon. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery, Rev. Father Brongest conducting the services.

Mrs. Shannon was the recipient the other day of a box of candy from a daughter in San Francisco. With the candy was a Frankfurt walnut shell neatly laced together with ribbon and containing a folder of 50 pictures of exposition buildings.

The following names of people in this section of the county are among the jurors drawn for the May term of court: C. E. Alexander, W. H. Aldridge, R. F. Smith, Maupin; A. M. Patison, A. H. Gillis, O. L. Paquet, Wamic; L. M. Woodside, Frank Gabel, O. P. Weiberg, Wapinitia.

Dr. Irvine and Geo. Endersby of Wapinitia passed through here Monday enroute to Alaska, Mrs. Irvine accompanying them as far as Portland. They will provision at Vancouver, British Columbia, preparatory for a two year's stay in the interior from White Horse, Alaska, mining in British territory.

DOWN-LOW

The Litchfield Down-Low built for us by the Litchfield Manufacturing Company and is low enough for easy loading but high enough to avoid trouble. It has practically the same under-clearance as the Litchfield Standard Spreader which has been sold for years.

Come in and see for yourself that there is nothing experimental or freakish about the Litchfield Down-Low Spreader.
