Published Every Friday at Maupin, Oregon,

J. E. DIBROW, Publisher

Subscription: One Year, $1.50, Six Months 75cts, Three Months 50

Entered in the post office at Maupin, Oregon, as second class mail matter.

To those who are lovers of vocal music, here is our opportunity. We have with us a good singing master in the person of the new pastor, G. R. Ellis, who is conducting chorus practice at the church Thursday evenings. You couldn't spend an evening more pleasantly and profitably.

What about the Fourth of July celebration?

W. J. Patterson, principal of the Wapinitia school this past year, and who has been asked to take charge again this fall, called at this office Tuesday morning and subscribed for the Times. Prof. Patterson will spend a few days in Portland and then go to San Francisco for the summer.

The people of Maupin have been warned to keep hogs up, off the streets, and it is now announced that any more found thereon are liable to be penned up at the expense of the owners. And what about the cattle and horses? The latter are of such numbers as to be a perfect nuisance.

A car of men came in from Pendleton Monday night and expressed themselves as very much put out with being unable to get any supper here that evening, one man saying he was going to see what could be done toward an additional resort in Maupin for the benefit of the traveling public.

Church Notice.

June 6, Church services as follows: Sunday school 10, preaching 11 a. m. Song service 7:30; preaching 8 p. m. You are earnestly invited to attend all these services.

G. R. ELLIS, Pastor.

Representatives J. A. Hays and H. W. Comstock of the American school of music, Portland, were in Maupin this week signing up students for correspondence courses.

Quite a crowd of visitors here Sunday for the ball game went down on Chouinard's island below the big spring for a picnic dinner. It is indeed a cool and beautiful spot.

Several Maupin gentlemen, otherwise unemployed, are very enthusiastic over the outlook for a gold mine supposed to be located up the Deschutes a few miles.

Tuesday morning Messrs Lacey, Drake, J. Staats and Barnes went up to Nathan on the early train. H. G. Harphan intended going, but the toot-toot pulled out too soon.

Mrs. Bell Stirnweis, Miss Agnes and Tad Easton came over Tuesday of last week for a visit with relatives here. The former lady is still visiting at the hotel.

Henry Brown of Ridgeway, while chopping wood Tuesday, so nearly amputated a couple toes, that it was necessary to remove them. He arrived here that night and under the care of Dr. Francis, was ready to return home yesterday.

HOW TO SHAKE HANDS.

Get the Grip First, According to a Mercantile Recipe.

We have found that when you approach the person to shake hands if you will get the grip on their hand before they have time to grip yours you have gained an advantage. The hand should be slipped well into or over the hand of the person you want to shake with—that is, push the thumb and forefinger of your hand well into the thumb and forefinger of the person with whom you are shaking. Do it rather quickly, and the instant you feel that your hand is in place bring the grip into play instantly. Don't grip the hand hard enough to cause pain to the person with whom you are shaking, but yet give him a good, firm grip. After you have practiced a little you can tell just about how hard you can squeeze without hurting the other person.

Before your hands touch be sure that you are looking the other person square in the eye. Don't wait until you have hold of his hand, but watch his eye instantly, and if you will watch the eye of the other one very closely you will notice that when you bring the grip into play you can see a response in the features of the other person. Then it is a good idea immediately when you feel your hand touch the other person to place your left hand on his elbow, not below the elbow, but back of it, so as to be able to pull his arm, as it were, toward yours. Don't pull very hard, but just be firm about it. Take hold of the elbow joint with just a little firmness. Of course these things are all done practically at the same time, and it will take a little practice for you to be able to do this and get the best results.—Merchants' Trade Review.

The Changing Sky.

One of the most surprising results of the cross motion of the fixed stars, as projected on the background of the sky, is the gradual falling to pieces of the familiar constellations. The stars are moving in all sorts of directions, some faster and some slower, and the inevitable consequence must be that in a few centuries the whole face of the heavens will be so changed that if we could come back again to our earthly life we should not recognize them. Of course a very long period of time will be required to produce a very great transformation.

Buried With Dolls.

In the Chinese morgue one of the strange sights is a number of life size dolls which are buried to accompany the corpses as their servants to the next world. They are doubtless a relic of the time when human beings were thus buried as companions of the deceased.—Exchange.

Her Ruling Passion.

The Ideal Home

Every man has his ideal of what he would like to have in his home—the sort of home that he can build for the money that he has to spend. You have your ideal even if you cannot draw it out on paper.

To assist home builders and place the latest ideas within the reach of everyone, our Lumbermen's Association, through its regular department, has prepared and published at an expense of some twelve thousand dollars a most beautiful and complete Plan Book of Modern Homes—step-savers, they are termed, cozy, convenient and economical.

We have these plan books containing over 200 designs of Northwest homes. Drop into our office or write us a card and we will see that you get a copy of these books from which to choose your IDEAL HOME.

Through our Engineering Dept. we can make any practical changes in these plans for you. We will furnish complete plans and specifications FREE.

The special "Tum-A-Lum" Plan book contains many suggestions for that new barn, hogshed, silos, schools, churches, etc.
