Entered in the post office at Maupin, Oregon, as second class mail matter.

The nation has abundant cause to rejoice at the prospect of a record breaking wheat crop, for not only will it mean lots of food stuff for our own people, but also for the reason that it will mean much to the war stricken millions of Europe whose grain fields are being trampled upon by contending armies.—Ex.

If a dog could talk, what would he say of the person who will slyly but surely get a bunch of dogs to fighting and then for fear of a reprimand himself will when finding he is not the only witness to the affair commence calling them off?

Why not send the Times to some distant friend? It will beat writing letters all hollow and would be highly appreciated by the person receiving it. It only costs a dollar and fifty cents a year and will go to him or her 52 times.

Rural free delivery by automobile service where the roads permit will soon be a fact to the great benefit of the farmers along the routes. It will probably lead to better roads where they are sadly needed.—Ex.

Patronize the home merchant; hand him a compliment once in a while, as well as the cash, it will make him feel good.
