HANDSOME, 120 DeKalb Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

He Desired It.

A boy walked into the office of the telegraph company at Chicago and applied for a job. He said his name was "Missouri."

The manager happened to want a messenger boy just at that moment and gave him a message that had to be delivered in a hurry.

"Here's your chance, my boy," said the manager, "these people have been kicking about undelivered messages. Now, don't come back until you have delivered it."

A little while afterward the telephone rang. On the other end of the wire there appeared to be a building watchman, somewhat terrified.

"Have you got a boy they call 'Missouri'?" inquired the watchman.

"We did have 10 minutes ago," replied the manager.

"That 'Missouri' feller came over here and said he had to go to one of the offices. We don't allow no one up at that office at this hour and I told him he couldn't go."

"Yes, yes," said the manager.

"Well," said the watchman, "he said he would go and I had to pull my gun on him."

"But you didn't shoot him?" exclaimed the manager.

"No," meekly came back the response over the wire, "but I want my gun back."

His Only Chance.

"Robinson is an awful pest at the club. He talks and talks all the time."

"Oh, well, you can't blame him, poor chap! He has a wife and three daughters at home."

HIS FIRST CHARGE

Britisher's Experience of the Realities of War.

Hesitated in Thick of Battle at First Opportunity to Take Human Life—"Saw Red" When His Comrade Was Shot Down.

Paris.—Lying in a hospital here a young British soldier who had been a London broker a few months ago, told the story of his first bayonet charge. It will be his last, too, for he will never be well enough again to be sent back to the front.

"We had gone into the trenches round Ypres only a few days before," he said, "and my first experience of the realities of war was to lie patiently suffering an awful inactivity while the artillery on both sides belched destruction on the men facing each other in the trenches.

"As dawn broke I felt an uncontrollable desire to climb out of the trench into the open, but I knew it was courting death, as I saw the next moment. The man nearest me raised his head above the parapet, and in an instant was bagged by a sniper. He rolled over with a stifled murmur, and lay quite still with his face buried in the soft red earth. I turned him over and spoke to him, but he was dead with a hole in his forehead.

"The day passed fairly quiet until dusk, when we received the order that in an hour's time we were to storm one of the enemy's advanced positions. The next hour seemed a lifetime. The noise of the bombardment swelled louder and louder, but I hardly noticed it. The men around me showed their emotions in their faces. Some were excited and showed an almost exaggerated enthusiasm for the work in hand. The majority were strangely silent. I can honestly say I felt no actual fear, but I could not help remembering that in a short time our numbers would probably be reduced by half, and I was prepared for the worst.

"In five minutes the order would be given and the thought of what was coming made my blood boil. I, too, became impatient to get out into that stretch of open ground which separated us from our goal. It was dark now, and the enemy's searchlight began to sweep our positions. Two more minutes and we should leap from our trenches.

"The bombardment reached its height, and with a wild, vicious roar which seemed to open the heavens it ceased. The moment had arrived. The order was given, and scrambling over the parapet, we emerged into the shell-swept zone. The enemy's guns began to spit fire among our ranks, but no one wavered. If we had felt any fear it had now left us. Men fell on all hands, but with a yell we rushed forward with bared steel towards the raised ground.

"Our artillery had done its work well, for we found the wire defenses almost completely blown away. We reached the enemy's front trenches, and I raised my bayonet as a big Bavarian made to fire at me.

"Then something within me made me hesitate, and a comrade laid the man out just in time. In the thick of the fight it had just dawned on me that I was about to take a human life for the first time, and I had felt a momentary repugnance.

"The next instant, however, one of our men next to me fell in a heap and a bullet whizzed past my face. Then I knew what it was to 'see red.' With a yell I bayoneted the German who had shot the man, and had soon accounted for three more. The place was like a shambles. The German front line trenches were filled with a heap of torn and bloody corpses and we were now attacking the rear trenches.

"Then suddenly I felt a pain in my shoulder, but I rushed on. I tried to raise my rifle, but found I could not, and the next moment I was hit simultaneously in the arm and the jaw. The pain was terrible, but as I lay on the ground I tried to shout for joy. I was infected with the fever of our success, for I knew that the position was won. Then I lost consciousness and I woke up in the field hospital."

And He Was!

Just because a man is an officer in the territorials it doesn't mean to say he can ride a horse.

At least, that was the case of Colonel Knut of the Tuttleton Terriers. An inspection was to him a nightmare. So when the general commanding came along Colonel Knut sat his horse uneasily.

Then the band played!

At the first bang of the drum the colonel's horse started two-stepping. With the files he tangoed. The colonel set his teeth and hung on grimly. The Terriers got mightily excited. Would he stick on or not? Anxious to see the file they pushed forward, until the front rank looked like a football crowd.

"Ease off, there!" yelled the sergeant angrily.

"No, 'e ain't," retorted an enthusiastic lancer, "but 'e will be in a minute!"—London Opinion.

Setting an Example.

"You are careful to set an example for your son?"

"I used to try to set him an example," replied the serious man. "But now I study him attentively to ascertain what kind of clothes I ought to wear and the style of conversation that is considered smart."—Washington Star.

Sharing the Honors.

"Going to speak a piece on the last day of school?"

"No; only a piece of a piece. I'm in a dialogue."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

WOMAN REFUSES OPERATION

Tells How She Was Saved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Louisville, Ky.—"I think if more suffering women would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound they would enjoy better health. I suffered from a female trouble, and the doctors decided I had a tumorous growth and would have to be operated upon, but I refused as I do not believe in operations. I had fainting spells, bloated, and could hardly stand the pain in my left side. My husband insisted that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful I did, for I am now a well woman. I sleep better, do all my housework and take long walks. I never fail to praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my good health."—Mrs. J. M. RESCH, 1900 West Broadway, Louisville, Ky.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, it is not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

HAIR OVER EARS HARMFUL

Medical Examiner of Public Schools at Fargo Says It Causes Deafness.

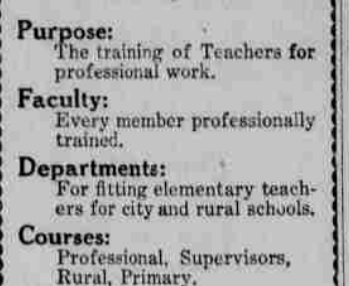

Fargo, N. D.—Hair held closely over and below young girls' ears and covered with constricting ear bands to aid adornment for the sake of fashion are responsible for an increase of deafness in Fargo public schools, according to Medical Examiner W. S. Skelley, whose report was read at a school board meeting.

"It would be a rash male member of this board who would try to interfere with Dame Fashion and the admiring mothers of these female children," the examiner said.

And it was "Guaranteed."

Jeffersonville, Ind.—Mike Wall, chief of police, dropped his .38-caliber revolver, "guaranteed not to go off even if the hammer is hit," but the guaranty did not hold. The bullet broke two rails of a chair, penetrated the door of a cabinet and imbedded itself in the stock of a shotgun. Four persons, including Sergeant Summers and a reporter, were in the office, which measures ten by six feet, but none was hit.

JUST HUMOR

LOVE ALWAYS FINDS A WAY

Young Man Agrees With Sweetheart That One Meal Per Day Would Be Entirely Sufficient.

Howard—But, Hazel, dear, marriage is out of the question now. I am only a clerk on a meager salary, you know.

Hazel—Oh, Howard; don't let that interfere with our happiness. We can live on one meal a day if necessary.

Howard—But you know nothing of household duties, dear; why, you can't even cook!

Hazel—Yes, I can, darling. The time has come for my confession. Howard, I graduated from a cooking school three weeks ago.

Howard—Come to my arms, sweetheart; it shall be as you wish—one meal a day will be more than enough.

The Difference.

"In many ways," observed Mrs. Cityflat, who was visiting a friend in the country, "I find that a horse is much like a man."

"Well, I dunno," answered Farmer Squash, as he applied a match to his corn cob pipe, "I have found them quite different in some respects. For instance, a horse is worth more after he's broke."—Judge.

Ruthless Revenge.

"I'll get even with the man who made all those libelous remarks about me."

"Surely you will do nothing violent."

"No. I don't propose to make life interesting for him. I'm going to haul him into court and make him sit for hours listening to arguments and expert testimony."

The Caller.

The Small Boy—Are you the boneless man?

The Caller—Boneless? Why, no. What gave you that idea?

The Boy—Pa said you was a contortionist.

"A contortionist?"

"Yes, He said you was always patting yourself on the back."

Not Favorably Impressed.

"Can you tell me some way to cook potatoes?" asked the young wife who was doing her first marketing.

"They are very nice just boiled in their jackets," suggested the grocer.

"And have you no other potatoes than these?" she went on doubtfully.

"These jackets do not look very stylish."

In the Field.

"Going to eat today?" inquired the dragon.

"Yes," replied the hussar, "we have horse meat."

"We have prospects of dining ourselves. There's an automobile out yonder that has turned turtle."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

THE CAUSE.

Mr. Bunny—What's the matter, Mr. Tiger?

Mr. Tiger—I ate a rabbit this morning, and it didn't feed with me.

Mr. Bunny—'st have been my wife. She disagrees with everybody.

Very Much So.

"I wonder what the poet meant when he alluded to woman in her hours of ease as being uncertain, coy and hard to please."

"I don't know about the coy part," said the saleslady, "but when it comes to picking out a spring hat she's all the rest of it."

Hopless Case.

Mrs. Hemmndhaw—I was just reading in the paper about a man who was driven to suicide by the third degree.

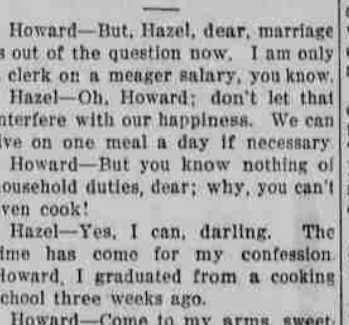

Mrs. Shimmerpate—Mercy! John just told me he expects to take the thirty-second degree at his lodge to-night.

WHY NOT?

KC is pure. KC is healthful. It really does make lighter, nicer biscuits, cakes and pastry than the old fashioned single acting baking powders.

And you pay only a fair price for it. No baking powder should sell for more.

WINCHESTER

AN EASY WAY TO GET RID OF UGLY PIMPLES

Bathe your face for several minutes with resolin soap and hot water, then apply a little resolin ointment very gently. Let this stay on ten minutes, and wash off with resolin soap and more hot water, finishing with a dash of cold water to close the pores. Do this once or twice a day, and you will be astonished to find how quickly the healing resolin medication soothes and cleanses the pores, removes pimples and blackheads, and leaves the complexion clear and velvety.

Resolin ointment and resolin soap stop itching instantly and speedily heal skin humors, sores, burns, wounds and sunburn. Sold by all druggists.—Adv.

Smile in Court.

At a recent trial one of the witnesses was a green countryman, unused to the ways of the law, but quick, as it proved, to understand its principles. After a severe cross-examination the counsel for the prosecution paused and then, putting on a look of severity exclaimed:

"Mr. Kilkina, has not an effort been made to induce you to tell a different story?"

"A different story from what I told, sir?"

"That is what I mean."

"Yes, sir; several persons have tried to get me to tell a different story from what I have told, but they could not."

"Now, sir, upon your oath, I wish to know who those persons are."

"Well, I guess you've tried 'bout as hard as any of them."

FOR SALE—AUTOMOBILES

Rebuilt Federal Trucks

A SAFE USED TRUCK TO BUY.

A REBUILT FEDERAL is as good value for the money as a new truck. By rebuilt we mean that the truck is entirely taken apart, each part examined and if necessary replaced by a new part made at the Federal factory, the entire truck repainted and refinished, and everything necessary done to make the truck practically as good as new in every detail.

When you buy a rebuilt Federal you are protected by the same policy and interest that we give to all Federal owners. We operate a repair department, in which the workmen are specialists on Federals, our supply of Federal parts is complete, and the stock room organization high class, which insures the prompt filling of all parts orders. We also operate a service department, which is open day and night, "always at your call." The Federal being a good truck in the first place and protected by a company which is equipped and has the disposition to give you service—in consequence.

A SAFE USED TRUCK TO BUY.

If you are in the market for a truck from $1000 to $1400, we urge you to compare used Federals with new trucks at similar prices. We think we can convince you of their superior value.

Patrick and the Jury.

A famous lawyer had a client named Murphy who had been arrested for illegal sale of liquor. The police had no evidence but one pint of whisky, which they found in his house when they searched it. In court this evidence was produced, and a somewhat vivid claim of prima facie evidence of guilt was made by the prosecuting attorney.

During all this, counsel for the prisoner was silent. When his turn came for the defense, he rose and said: "Patrick Murphy, stand up." And Murphy, with a big red nose, unshaven face, bleared eyes and a general appearance of dilapidation, rose.

"Patrick Murphy, look upon the jury; gentlemen of the jury, look on Patrick Murphy."

Jury and prisoner mutually complied.

The counsel gazed at Patrick for a moment, then solemnly turned to the jury.

"Do you mean to say to this court and me you honorably and truly believe that Patrick Murphy, if he had a pint of whisky, would sell it?"

Murphy was acquitted.

Are Strikes for Sale?

Secretary Morrison of the American Federation of Labor is credited with the statement that "the American Federation of Labor does not care whether German gold started the Bridgeport strike or not."

Does Mr. Morrison support the doctrine that strikes should be bought and sold in the open market, and that it is legitimate for labor leaders to accept bribes from agents of a foreign government to paralyze American industries?—New York World.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules. Easy to take as candy.

Idaho Humiliated.

If there is a possible justification for these Idaho state officials going before the head of a railroad system begging for free passes it must be based on the plea that Idaho does not furnish enough money to pay legitimate expenses.

Economy that thus forces public officials to debase themselves and ask for special favors from corporations that are in turn asking favors from the state is false economy. The demoralization sure to follow will cost the people ten times more than the value of the free passes secured.

This is humiliating. It will be intolerable when the people awake to what it really means.—Idaho Review.

From Girlhood

The change may be critical and cause untold suffering in after-life. The modern young woman is often a "bundle of nerves"—"high strung"—fainting spells—emotional—frequently blue and dissatisfied with life. Such girls should be helped over this distressing stage in life—by a woman's tonic and nerve—That has proven successful for over 40 years.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a keen enemy to the physical weaknesses of woman. A medicine prepared by regular graduated physician of unusual experience in treating woman's diseases—carefully adapted to work in harmony with the most delicate feminine constitution.

It is now obtainable in liquid or sugar-coated tablet form at the drug store—or send 50 one-cent stamps for a trial box, to Buffalo.

Every woman may write fully and confidentially to Dr. Pierce and his staff of physicians and specialists at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and may be sure that her case will receive careful, conscientious, confidential consideration, and that experienced medical advice will be given to her free.
