AUTO WRECKED LAST NIGHT

D. A. Moad and D. M. Shattuck started for Welches Camp the fore part of the week, but owing to trouble with the machine necessitating repairs, they had to stop at the Summit house and call for Mr. Fischer's assistance, and were until last night getting home. In an interview this morning we are informed of the complete wreck of Mr. Moad's car last night just above J. W. Ward's who brought them in last night. It seems that in coming to level open country, they put on higher speed than they realized until the machine went over and they picked them selves up some distance from it. D. M. has his head bandaged, and Dolph says he can tell more about his hurts when his car comes in.

A Playground

(Contributed)

Plenty of room for dives and dens (Glitter and glam of sin)

Plenty of room for prison pens, (Gather the criminals in);

Plenty of room for jails and courts (Willing enough to pay).

But never a place for the boys to race.

Never a place to play.

Plenty of room for schools and halls,

Plenty of room for art,

Plenty of room for teas and balls.

Platform, stage and mart.

Proud is the city; she finds a place

For many a fad to day

But she is more than blind if she fails to find

A place for her youth to play.

Plenty of room for shops and stores.

(Mammon must have the best),

Plenty of room for running sores

That rot in the city's breast.

Plenty of room for lures that lead

The heart of youth astray,

But never a cent on a playground spent.

No, never a place to play.

Give them a chance for innocent sport;

Give them a chance for fun;

Better a playground plot than a court

And a jail when the harm is done.

Give them a chance; if you stint them now.

Tomorrow you will have to pay

A larger bill for a darker ill.

So give them a place to play.

appreciated, and he hopes to be able in some way in the near future to repay each one.

Hunt's sheep camps near Detroit in Southern Oregon, he said Mr. Barnes and his partner had stopped with them a few days. Jack told of killing his first mountain lion, which was a monster and had killed four sheep before he got it, and said to tell all hunters who want real game to come into his section.
