

THE MAUPIN TIMES

Devoted to the Interests of Southern Wasco County

VOL. 1, NO. 48

MAUPIN, SOUTHERN WASCO COUNTY, OREGON, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1915

THE YEAR $1.50

The excavation 14x28 above the O. W. R. & N. depot for Shattuck Bros.' oil and gasoline storage room is completed and building will soon be underway.

The following Southern Wasco people will serve as jurors at the September term of court: C. L. Irvine, Wapinitia; Claud Wilson, Shaniko; J. W. Mace, Tygh Valley; G. H. Woodruff, Tygh Valley; E. A. Snodgrass, Maupin.

Nick Carolus came back from the mountains Tuesday, Mr. Barnes having remained there.

Dr. and Mrs. Hatfield are domiciled in the cozy little tent house by the spring.

SENT IN BY OUR CORRESPONDENTS

Correspondents!

Beginning August 1st the Times opened a four months' correspondents' contest. Cash prizes will be awarded, credit being given according to newness and regularity of letters, special news stories sent in, subscriptions secured, and general interest in the welfare of the Times displayed by the correspondents. News and regularity score the highest always. Amounts will be paid at the close of the four months to those scoring highest. First $6; second $4; third $2; $1. This plan, it is hoped, will give a good news service to our readers and partly compensate our energetic news rustlers of the different sections of Southern Wasco county.

Wamic Items.

Willie Gesh is dead after a hard struggle against an attack of typhoid fever. He was thought to be improving, but a sudden hemorrhage of the brain Sunday morning resulted in his passing away the following night at 12 o'clock. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gesh and about 23 years of age. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved parents and family.

School commenced Monday with Prof. T. J. Scruvin as principal and Mrs. Veva Driver as assistant.

Prof. and Mrs. Scruvin, who recently arrived from Portland are occupying Mrs. N. Stanford's house.

Jack Fraley, Frank Magill and Tom Swift were engaged the past two days in hauling the household furniture and other articles pertaining to the farm, for Ted Seufert, who has purchased the farm of F. M. Driver a mile and a half from town.

Mrs. Veva Driver is spending the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Magill.

A party from Dufur accompanied by Ted Wilson of Tygh were fishing on Badger Sunday.

Marion Duncan came over from Kent Monday, hauling wood from here to that place.

Miss Dorothy McCorkle arrived home from Madras Friday, having been a guest at the home of Miss Laura Kibby the past two weeks. Several parties who have returned from the mountains recently, say there are plenty of huckleberries this year.

Criterion Chronicles

School began Monday with Miss Herring in her usual place and a good enrollment of scholars present.

P. O. Kirsch, D. B. Appling and W. M. Snelson are hauling their wheat to Maupin.

A cousin of Miss Bertha Herring is here to remain with her during the school year.

Edwin and Ida Kidder left Sunday for The Dalles to resume their high school work.

E. H. Taylor and family left Sunday morning to spend a week at The Dalles.

J. E. Miller and A. A. Canfield met with the County Court on Wednesday last, relative to road and precinct matters.

County Superintendent Bonney and office force are busily engaged in preparing the educational exhibits for the annual fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Young of The Dalles spent a few days last week with their daughter, Mrs. Dale Bonney.

Roy Castor and family will go to the mountains for a few days' rest after a busy harvest time.

P. J. Kirsch was taken to Maupin Tuesday to be under Dr. Francis care for a time.

A Thoroughbred

By Edward J. Dennee
Stranger! She's the darndest thing—

Risin' four year old this spring, Bought her in Detroit one day.

Drove her home here all the way, She's a beauty, black as ink,

Set of eyes that never blink When you're on the road at night, And the goin' isn't right,

Over roads both good and bad She just tears away like mad, And no matter what her stride

Ne'er a drop is on her side. Lightening struck Si Perkins' barn,

Got there first and gave alarm, Took out every horse and cow,

Most the wagons and a plow, Lucky that I had her then

Minutes counted more'n men. She ain't scared of any band,

Drive her up and let her stand, Doesn't need a hitchin' strap,

Never have to say "gid-dap!" She's m'idlin' size, not big, nor small,

It's way and best of all. Her pedigree, I've got it straight,

It's registered in our own state; She's from the best of stock all round,

A thoroughbred in every pound, The man who raised her and her strain,

Proudly gave them all his name, They're what made his reputation,

And spread it over all creation "Sell her!" No—not on your life,

I'd as soon part with my wife, Money piled up by the cord

Wouldn't buy her— SHE'S MY FORD.

Mrs. James Brown, of Center Point, Iowa, mother of Dr. F. J. Brown of Tygh Valley, died very suddenly Sunday morning at the home of her son in Tygh Valley, whom she was visiting. They recently returned from an automobile tour of Southern Oregon, upon their return Mrs. Brown complained of feeling tired, but seemed to have suffered no other effects of the trip. Saturday evening she was taken ill, and passed away Sunday morning despite the efforts of two doctors who were called. The remains were taken to The Dalles and prepared for shipment to the Iowa home, Dr. Brown and son accompanying them.

TOURIST PARTY HOME FRIDAY

Nearly 2500 Miles

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Kelly and Dr. and Mrs. Hatfield arrived in Maupin Friday evening after an absence of thirty-four days, spent in sight-seeing with Mr. Kelly's Cadillac car, having traveled 2480 miles, two times crossing the Rocky Mountain range.

They started from here August 1st, going by way of The Dalles, to North Yakima, where they visited Dr. Hatfield's parents, from thence to Kennewick, crossing the Columbia river to Pasco, then to Ritzville, arriving in time to discover and give the alarm of the big fire there, which destroyed two warehouses, a cold storage plant and a number of freight cars, laying in cinders property to the amount or $250,000. Arriving next in Spokane, Dr. and Mrs. Hatfield remained stopped with Mrs. Hatfield's sister, while Mr. and Mrs. Kelly took a trip north to Cattle Falls, visiting Mrs. Kelly's brother, Bert Crofoot and family. From Spokane, the trip to the park was made by way of Wallace, Idaho, Missoula, Montana, Albert, Deer Lodge, Livingston and Gardner, the entrance to the park. After traveling 185 miles in the park, they crossed into Montana again at Yellowstone and from there to Idaho Falls, where they visited Mrs. Hatfield's mother, sister and brothers, from thence, returning home by way of Mountain Home, Boise, Idaho, Baker City, Pendleton and here.

Mr. Kelly kept a complete record of the trip. Eight days were spent at Spokane while Dorris was ill. The longest day's travel was 187 miles, traveling at the rate of nearly 50 miles an hour for about 30 mile. Seven gallons of lubricating oil and 307 gallons of gasoline were consumed during the entire trip. The only trouble experienced with the car was three punctures, one occurring before reaching the top of Tygh hill. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly and Dorris left Wednesday morning for Portland, over the Barlow road, to be away until the fore part of the week, when they will return over the Columbia highway.

John Hora, a blacksmith who has been assisting in the Fraley & Vanderpool shop, probably as result of too free use of spurs on his pony last Friday noon, was thrown and only saved being badly hurt by a strap breaking, releasing him from the horse. He remarked that any who could ride the animal with that saddle might have him. John Muir was not long acquiring mastery and ownership of the horse, riding him through our streets.

A stock of Velvetina brand goods from the Grandrich Drug Co. were received Friday by the Staats Mercantile Co. and are on display in their window.

A movement is said to have been started in Portland to connect the Barlow road with Hood River by leaving the old part of that road a few miles east of Summit and thence around the base of Mt. Hood.

We lead—Others follow. Listen! At enormous expense we have secured a limited number of large hand painted OIL PAINTINGS of Landscape and Marine Views, which we are giving absolutely free to our customers. See us about it.—W. H. Staats & Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Aubrey are moving to their Criterion home—read this morning.

Mr. Curtis, the hog dealer was here yesterday and bought and shipped to Portland about 300 head of swine, over 20 farmers bringing the animals in the morning, which nearly filled three cars.

Mrs. T. A. Connolly of Maupin is in this city. She expects her sister to arrive from Ireland this evening. The sister will make her future home here.—Chronicle, Wednesday.

A meeting was to have been held at Wapinitia in which to elect an eleventh grade for that school, Mr. Raines to teach the class, but results have not yet reached this office. School will commence there Monday with W. J. Patterson and Miss Philis Fischer as instructors.

Moses Web of the Tygh Valley section was a business visitor in The Dalles Wednesday.
