Criterion Chronicles

Miss Bertha Herrling who returned from the Institute Thursday evening reports a pleasant and profitable trip.

Roy Castor lost several hogs the past week with symptoms which point strongly to cholera. This was a severe loss as the hogs had been fed for market for several weeks.

H. H. Taylor and wife visited Maupin Friday last.

W. E. Hunt and wife were Maupin visitors Tuesday last. Otto and Alfred Herrling came up from Stayton last week to remain for some time.

Ed Hoelling and E. H. Taylor are still incapacitated for work owing to a typhoid condition of the former and bruises sustained in the harvest accident to the latter.

Barnie Rice has moved his family back to Criterion from Antelope.

Laco DeCamp seems to have a monopoly on rented farms, he having leased one from W. E. Hunt, also his father's and Jas. Baxters.

Reports from Peter Kirsch at Stayton say that he is yet very ill, but condition are favorable for his recovery.

A number of our young bachelors are wondering whether or not their nerve has gone on a vacation. An authentic report says that one of our popular bells is soon to be spirited away on a honeymoon trip by a swain who is foreign to the Criterion country. Most of the boys are feeling rather blue but all have resolved to be more wide awake to local conditions in the future.

Wapinitia Items

Chas. Cox made a business trip to Maupin Friday.

A. F. Evick made a trip to The Dalles Monday, returning Friday. He was accompanied by Prof. W. J. Patterson and Master Francis Paquett.
