Great Discovery.

"Some of the grandest discoveries of the ages," said the great scientist sonorously, "have been the result of accidents."

"I can readily believe that," said the fair lady. "I once made one that way myself."

The great man blinked his amazement.

"May I ask what it was?"

"Certainly," answered the fair one, "I found that by keeping a bottle of ink handy you can use a fountain pen just like any other pen—without all the trouble of filling it."—Christian Register.

Born Diplomat.

"Harry, I am beginning to believe the baby looks like you."

"Are you, dear?"

"Yes, I notice it more and more every day. I'm so glad."

"Do you really want him to look like me?"

"Of course I do. I've been sorry ever since we had him christened that we didn't give him your name."

"Sweetheart, you don't know how happy you make me by saying that."

"And, Harry dear, I found the loveliest hat today. I don't believe I ever saw anything that was so becoming to me. It's $25. Do you think I ought to pay that much for a hat?"

A Superfluous Question.

"In that new servant girl," said Mr. Testy, as he discovered the sugar in the salt shaker, "it seems to me you have found the possessor of stupidity in its undiluted double distilled form. May I ask where you obtained her?"

"Why," replied Mrs. Testy, "at the intelligence office, of course."—Judge.

Entered an Ingenious Soul.

Bilthers entered the dining room with a pair of yellow automobile goggles on.

"Hello, Bilthers," said little Binks.

"Going motoring?"

"No," said Bilthers. "I'm sort of hungry for a grapefruit, and I want to keep the juice out of my eye."

The Light That Failed.

The audience held their breath and simply thr-r-r-illed as Jack Braveboy, the hero, killed the last of the Indians. He staggered about; he almost fainted with loss of blood; he suddenly his voice rang out with hope: "See!" he cried. "The dawn breaks bright upon yon topmost heights!"

The stage remained in darkness. "See!" he yelled again. "The dawn breaks bright upon yon topmost heights!"

Still darkness reigned.

"The dawn! The dawn!" he screamed, raising about the stage. "It breaks, the dawn!"

A head popped over the mountain top.

"Old 'ard, guv-nor!" said the head. "Don't be in sin a bloomin' 'urry! Some one's bin 'n turned the gas off!"—Tit-Bits.

Bravery.

The teacher had been reading to the class about the heroes of ancient times.

"Can any boy in the class tell of a deed of daring performed by one of his acquaintances?" she asked as she closed the book.

Edmond's hand shot up.

"I saw the first baseman of our team give the big bootback on the corner a wallop on the jaw."

So To Speak.

"How's that young man I see calling on you lately?"

"He's a pill, but he brings me lots of candy."

"Trying to sugar-coat himself, as it were."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Paw's Version.

Willie—Paw, is it proper to say that a man was given in marriage?

"Yes, No, my son. A girl is given in marriage. The man always gets sold."

Maw—Willie, you go out in the back yard and stay there.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

World's Pencil Production.

According to a recent article by Mr. H. S. Sackett of the forest service, the world's production of lead pencils probably amounts to 2,000,000,000 a year, half of which are made from American-grown cedar. The United States makes about 750,000,000 a year, or more than eight pencils for each of its inhabitants.

Theory and Practice.

She talks of great musicians. And of knowledge makes a show. Till she leaves you with suspicious. That your taste is very low. But when she sings for pleasure. On an idle afternoon. She will hum a reckless measure. From the latest ragtime tune.

More Than a Hint.

He was a shy young man. For two long years he had been paying her attention and had not yet even squeezed her hand.

One evening as they lingered in the shadow of the trees by her gate he asked timidly:

"Florence, would you—might I ever—would you mind if I placed one reverent kiss on your fair hand tonight when I leave you?"

Florence thought he wanted speedily up. So she dropped her head coyly on his shoulders, lifted her face temptingly to his and replied:

"Well, George, I should think it decidedly out of place."

Early Indication.

"Doesn't that youngster of yours toe-in a little when he tries to stand up?"

"Yes," replied the fond father. "We have great hopes of him. It looks to me as if he were naturally built for an expert golf player."

Presumption.

"Those new neighbors have very presumptuous children," said he.

"Yes," replied she. "They think they have a perfect right to get out in the street and make as much noise as ours do."

The Resemblance.

"There is a great likeness between a glad telegram and a Japanese suicide."

"What might it be?"

"The telegram is also a happy dispatch."

Magnifying Powers.

"Father," said the small boy, "what is a demagogue?"

"A demagogue, my son, is a barker who can make a passing crowd believe that a sideshow is bigger than the main exhibition."

A Yearning for Poverty.

"Does wealth bring happiness?"

"I'm not sure," replied Mr. Cumrox. "There are times when I wish my family didn't have the price of a box at a Wagner opera."

RUINED BY THE WAR

Famous Russian Watering Place Is Deserted.

Jalta, Known All Over the World for Its Marvelous Climate, Has Had Practically No Visitors This Season.

Jalta, the Newport of Russia, to which even such favored regions of the world as the garden lands of California and the Riviera must yield when climates are compared, is today a stronghold of society utterly eclipsed by war, a lonely, unvisited little village whose prestige and fame have departed overnight, a Newport unattended, forgotten by the press and by all the people who, in peace times, eagerly read about all the social splendors there," begins a statement given out by the National Geographic society.

"Jalta, normally, would just be catering upon the height of its season, its gayest, most important two months of the year, had not a world war closed it, together with Monte Carlo, Karlsbad, Interlaken and scores of other places of 'good-tone,' beauty and amusement. The Imperial court, the aristocrats, diplomats and members of the great Russian command, now carrying the intolerable burdens of the war, would be gathered there in times of quiet, and social Russia would follow their course.

"Jalta is a beautiful place built on the shelf of a mountain whose foot bathes in the bluest and mildest of waters to be found all around the coast of the Black sea. This little seaport, in the government of Taurida, on the southern coast of Crimea, thoroughly deserves the distinction of being the vacation home of celebrities.

"Behind it and between it and the north the solid mountain greens, which merge into deeper and deeper shades until at the bare summits they are greenish brown, rise to heights of from 2,500 to 3,000 feet. These are the southern fringes of the Jalta mountains. The tops of these peaks are often covered in icy mists while in Jalta and on its bay rests the mildest of spring weather. Snow never falls in Jalta, which boasts an annual mean temperature of 54 degrees Fahrenheit. Its climate is said to be superior to that of Nice. Its summers are not so oppressively hot, there is less rain in autumn and winter, the cool is less crisp in winter and the sunshine of autumn is said to fall balmier than anywhere else in the world.

"There is no industry and little trade carried on by the people of the village, who live almost entirely by catering to vacationists and regular visitors. It has a population of 14,000. It is an ancient city and is thought to have been a place of great importance in a remote past. At one time it belonged to the patriarchs of Constantinople."

Speaking Softly.

A Virginia farmer was driving a refractory cow down the road, and a driver came to a cross road. The man wanted the cow to go straight ahead, but the cow picked out the cross road. A colored man was coming along the road.

"Haid her off! Haid her off!" yelled the driver.

"'s trying ter!" replied the colored man.

"Speak to her! Speak to her, and she'll stop!"

"Good maw'nin', cow—good maw'nin'!" said the other, politely.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

TOO MANY CHILDREN

are under-size, under-weight with pinched faces and poor blood; they do not complain but appetite lags, they have no ambition and do not progress.

Such children need the rich medicinal nourishment in Scott's Emulsion above everything else; its pure cod liver oil contains nature's own blood-forming, flesh-building fats which quickly show in rosy cheeks, better appetite, firm flesh and sturdy frames.

If your children are languid, tired when rising, catch cold easily or find their studies difficult, give them Scott's Emulsion; it supplies the very food elements that their systems lack.

Scott's Emulsion contains no alcohol and is so good for growing children it's a pity to keep it from them.

TRUE FRIENDSHIP OF YOUTH

Engages Gamekeeper in Long Chase That His Companion, Without Permit, Might Escape.

Two boys, one the possessor of a permit, were fishing on a certain estate when a gamekeeper suddenly darted from a thicket. The lad with the permit uttered a cry of fright, dropped his rod and ran off at top speed. The gamekeeper was led a swift chase. Then, worn out, the boy halted. The man seized him by the arm and said between pants:

"Have you a permit to fish on this estate?"

"Yes, to be sure," said the boy
