ART TREASURES IN SAFETY

Priceless Tapestries and Paintings Were Removed From Paris When the German Army Advanced.

M. Henri Marcel, French director general of national museums, has just reported to the government details of the transfer to Toulouse of the art treasures of the Paris Louvre, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The occasion of the report was popular rumors that some of the most valuable paintings had been scratched or otherwise damaged.

M. Marcel relates how he had opposed the government's order to remove the treasures at the time of Von Kluck's drive to within twenty miles from Paris, and how he finally consented to pack them, as well as the most famous tapestries of Reims, Chantilly and Compiègne.

Each painting was wrapped in oven-dried wax paper, with a layer of cotton over it back and front; special boxes were made with copper spirals holding the frames in position and protecting them against sudden shocks. And finally 900 of the most valuable paintings, with an even number of less value, were taken to a special train in the Midi station; the cars were padded thickly; two guards were in each car. That train, says the report, carried over $200,000,000 worth of treasures.

Arrived at Toulouse, the most serious operation, that of unpacking, was successfully undertaken in the presence of the entire Louvre board, and each item was checked in after thorough examination. Not one picture suffered on the way or in packing or unpacking; and all are stored in an "indestructible" building, which has been tested as to dryness; in fact, is under continual surveillance, so that harm cannot come to the pictures or tapestries.

They are not now on exhibition, but only stored for safety. Mr. Marcel thinks that it would be quite safe to take them back to Paris now, "as they will never be disturbed there now." General Gallieni, however, the military commander of Paris, has refused permission to bring them back before the end of the war.

The works of sculpture and minor pictures have not been removed from the Louvre; and since March 1 the gallery is open to the public daily, except Sundays and Mondays. But the military authorities have insisted on getting ready places of safety even for the remaining art stores, which can be removed in a few hours should it become necessary.

Poesy in Wall Street.

"To me your Wall street is one of the most poetic spots in America," said a young woman out of the West on a trip through the narrow canyon. "That sounds rather odd, I know, especially to those who are accustomed to associate Wall street with common gambling and fortune-wrecking. But I have never met any literary people, painters or musicians more highly strung, as we say, than the typical men of the street." They have, too, the most wonderful imaginations. The way they talk about piles of bonds and gold and cotton and wheat is perfectly fascinating. And they believe, to a large extent, that what they tell you about business is true. They are carried away with the idea, just the same as a novelist who is outlining his next book with his publisher is carried away with his theme and plot. They all love their work, and I do not think they would take half so much interest in making and breaking themselves and other people if Wall street were not hard and cruel and full of excitement and humor and pathos."

Banker's Keen War Vision.

An English army officer was starting for the front last year and he called upon his London bank to settle up certain affairs before departing. "You'll be back soon with a wounded hand," said the bank manager. He was. His wound healed, the officer made ready to go back to the front. Meeting the bank manager, he inquired: "Any more predictions?" "You'll be gone longer this time," said the manager, "and when you do return it will be with quite a bad wound on the leg."

This also happened. The officer was much surprised. Hunting up the banker, he inquired: "Since you know so much, why can't you tell me when the war will end?" "It will end," said the manager, "on June 17, 1916, but I shan't live to see it. I'll just about live until New Year's day and not much more." He died January 2. The London Financial News, a very sober, unimaginative newspaper, vouches for this story.

Fertilizers From Municipal Waste.

A survey of the nation's resources in fertilizer materials has drawn attention to the large supply of these to be found in the accumulation of garbage in cities. This waste material contains nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash, which are recognized as essential to the production of large crops. Valuable as these elements are to the farms of the country, the garbage in which they are found is a source of trouble and expense to the cities. It seems, therefore, that this garbage can be disposed of most advantageously by returning it to the soil in the form of fertilizer.

Not Qualified Yet.

"I saw you out in your new car yesterday." "Did I look like a motorist?" "Well, no. You had an air of responsibility that gave you away, but that will disappear in time."

A Spring Yearn.

I'm tired of canned goods and of meat; I'm all run down alas. And now I think I'd like to eat A little garden "sassa."

In spring for green stuff people yearn And so it comes to pass That when the April days return We long for garden "sassa." —Louisville Courier-Journal.

For Nail in the Foot.

Horses and cattle are liable to blood poisoning from stepping on rusty nails. For such an injury apply Hanford's Balsam of Myrrh and get it into the bottom of the wound. It should kill the poison germs. Always have a bottle in your stable, because you will find different uses for it. Adv.

Concentration of Wealth.

"A lot of moving picture stars get enormous salaries." "Yes. After reading about the sums they draw, it seems strange that there is enough money left to carry on the war in Europe."—Washington Star.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a 50-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Apartment Life.

"That lady next door seems rather uppish." "She can save her airs. I'm just as anxious not to get acquainted with her as she is not to know me."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

To prevent gangrene use Hanford's Balsam because it cleanses and heals the wound. Adv.

A Favor.

Would-be-slacker (to recruiting sergeant)—But, sir, I have had eyesight and can't see any distance. "Don't worry about that, my man, we will put you in the very front trench where you will have a good view."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

Uxorious.

Extract from lecture by N. C. O.: "Your rifle is your best friend, take every care of it; treat it as you would your wife; rub it thoroughly with an oily rag every day."—Punch.

Unavailable.

"There is a man who never says an unkind word about anybody." "Well," replied Senator Sorghum, "I don't believe he should waste time with him. Admirable as his qualities may be, how could he be useful in a political campaign?"—Washington Star.

Enough Said.

A railroad lawyer who has had much to do with human nature says: "Never cross-question an Irishman from the old sod." And he gave an illustration from his own experience. A section hand had been killed by an express train, and his widow was suing for damages. The main witness swore positively that the locomotive whistle had not sounded until after the whole train had passed over his departed friend.

"See here, McGinnis," said I, "you admit that the whistle blew?" "Yes, sir, it blew, sir." "Now, if that whistle sounded in time to give Michael warning, the fact would be in favor of the company, wouldn't it?" "Yes, sir, and Mike would be testifying here this day." The jury giggled. —Case and Comment.

For harness sores apply Hanford's Balsam. Adv.

Different.

Rodd—An automobile is so different from a horse. Greene—Why, of course. "You see a horse goes faster when he's going home than when he's going away from home." "Well, doesn't an automobile?" "Oh, no; you see, an automobile often has to be towed home."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Shrewd Boy.

"You are a fine little fellow." "Yessir." "And may be president some day." "That's right, sir. And a quarter invested now might arouse a gratitude that might get you an important office when that time arrives."—Kansas City Journal.

A Suggestion.

A politician who was seeking the vote of a certain community in Ohio to the end that he might be sent to congress thought it worth while to make mention of his humble origin and early struggles. "I got a start in life by serving in a grocery at $3 a week, and yet I have managed to save," he announced. Whereupon a voice from the audience queried: "Was that before the invention of cash registers?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

For Bridge Players.

"We have evolved a standardized bridge prize for all our afternoon affairs." "What is it?" "A boiled dinner in a can. It keeps the wives happy and their husbands from scolding."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

High Finance.

"How much vos dose collars?" "Two for a quarter." "How much for fun?" "Fifteen cents." "Gif me de odder vun."—Yale Record.

Handicapped.

There was a trial on in a justice court in Texas. A witness for the plaintiff was on the stand and was giving damaging evidence against the defendant, who was represented by two old practitioners, one nearly deaf and the other nearly blind.

The nearly deaf one said to his associate: "What did the witness say?" The nearly blind one replied: "What witness?"—Case and Comment.

There was silence till one maiden held up her hand and replied: "Yes, breakfast, yer dinner and yer supper."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be but a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.

Rewards of Merit.

"I used to tell my son that if he was a good boy I'd take him to the circus." "Is he too old for that?" "Rather. Now he intimates that if I succeed in keeping in his good graces he may get me a ticket to see him play football."—Washington Star.
