One Result of the War.

A delightful old lady of a little town in Nebraska was discovered one morning in the act of killing a chicken.
"Why, Mrs. Brown, I thought that you were afraid to kill a chicken," said a neighbor in surprise.
"Yes, dearie, I did uster be; but since the war broke out I've done it right smart."
"Well, you see, it's this way: I uster think that bloodshed was an awful thing, but since I've been readin' about all them men-killin's in Europe I just get a rooster by the feet, lay his head on the block and say to myself: 'Now, Sarah, 'tain't near so bad as killin' a man. Where's your nerve?' And then I just shut my eyes and whack."—Youth's Companion.

Why He Lost His Job.

Jimmy—Yes. The boss said he was losing money on the things I was makin'.

Tommy—Wasn't there anything else you could do in the place?
Jimmy—I guess not. Anyhow he said I didn't seem able to do anything else.

Tommy—And what was you makin'?
Jimmy—Mistakes.—Utica Herald Dispatch.

Unprepared.

Representative Augustus P. Gardner said in a preparedness address in New York:
"The unprepared man is always at a disadvantage. It's like a dialogue I once heard:
"Can you fight? shouted one man.
"N—no," another answered.
"Then," shouted the first man—"then come on, you coward!"

GOOD MARKET SQUABS

Best Breeding Stock Is an Essential to Success.

Runt Pigeon is One of Largest, But Not as Prolific or as Good Breeder or Feeder as Homer—Carneau is Popular.

Prolific pigeons producing large squabs are commonly kept confined in pens, which involves proper housing and a flyway, or outside yard, covered with wire. Common pigeons, allowed their freedom, are less prolific and produce smaller squabs. A study of New York squab quotations shows that the price per dozen for dressed squabs falls rapidly as the weight goes down and the other departs from white. While prime white weighing ten pounds to the dozen brought $3.75 per dozen in March, last year, in New York, six-pound squabs were not quoted above $2 per dozen, while $1.50 was the high price per dozen for dark squabs, and culls brought only five or six cents apiece.

Of the squab-raising varieties the Homer is considered the most popular

White Runt Female.

The habit of this bird of returning home if allowed freedom makes it necessary to confine pigeons purchased from other lofts. The Carneau pigeon has recently become popular as a squab producer. This variety is somewhat larger than the Homer and it is stated is about as prolific. Several other varieties of pigeons larger than the Homer are used on a small scale in squab raising, especially in crossing with the Homer and Carneau to increase the size of squabs. The Runt is one of the largest but is not as prolific or as good a breeder or feeder as the Homer.

Some of the other varieties reported used as squab breeders are the Dragon, White Maltese or hen pigeon, the White King and common pigeon.

Good breeding stock is an essential of success in squab raising, but as it is difficult to tell the age and sex of pigeons, and age is very important, it is necessary to buy from reliable breeders and preferably those who guarantee their product. Variety alone does not insure successful squab production. The birds differ individually and they should be selected for their productive power and vitality, for quality and size of their squabs and their ability to feed and rear offspring. Dark-colored skins, legs or beak indicate poor quality of flesh, bringing lower prices on markets. Care should be taken to select breeding birds which have white or pinkish white skin and light-colored legs.

Pigeons are most valuable as squab producers when from two to six years of age, although many will breed until they are about eight years old. The small varieties mate and breed at five to six months, and the large varieties at eight to nine months. It is advisable, therefore, to buy mated pigeons from two to three years old, or to secure young birds six to eight weeks old and tame them at the proper age. All squabs which are to be saved for breeding should be banded before they leave the nest and a careful record kept of their breeding. Squabs hatched

Expensive Buildings Not Necessary.

In April, May and June, when their value on the market is comparatively small, make good breeders. If a breeding pigeon dies its mate should be removed from the pen and a new mating made.

It is not necessary to put up an expensive building to start squab raising. The illustration shows how an old outbuilding may be utilized for pigeons by a beginner at trifling expense. The wire netting to form the flying pen in above picture cost $1.25.

DAMPNESS MUST BE AVOIDED

Dry Quarters Are Essential to Health and Growth of Little Ducklings and Chicks.

Dampness is sure to cause trouble among little chicks and little ducklings. They should not be allowed to get into or slip over their drinking water, or to sit down on a damp place in their brooder or yard. Dry quarters are essential to health and growth.

DESERVES WELL OF FARMER

Phoebe's Voice Is Faint and She Certainly Is Not Pretty, but She Hates All Beetles.

After you're well acquainted with the phoebe and catch some of her spirit of friendliness and companionship, you won't care a snap of the finger that she can't sing very well, nor that she isn't good looking. You'll welcome her in spring just as if she were a Venus for looks and Melba for voice. You'll listen for her first notes and say: "There's Phoebe back again."

She's the earliest arrival among the flycatchers, reaching here about March 21, even before the flies. She seeks out her last year's home under the bridge, or beneath the rafters of the barn, and starts renovating her nest. Often when an unscrupulous cowbird usurps the nest to lay eggs of her own, the phoebe will build another nest atop the old one and start house-keeping over again as if nothing had interrupted.

We've remarked that she couldn't sing, yet her little "pho-bee" note is one of the cheeriest of springtime. We've said she wasn't beautiful, yet her dull olive-brown coat, with a yellowish-white breast are far more attractive than some birds of gay plumage. The phoebe is beautiful because she is useful.

From the time of her arrival until she leaves late in the fall she's busy warring on the farmer's enemies. She'll sit on a mullein stalk and watch for a beetle. Suddenly she will dart into the air and her bills go shut with a snap—good-by beetle. She is a forest conservationist, because she eats the elm leaf beetle, which injures crops. She is the gardener's friend because she eats the squash beetle.

In fact, she is the friend of everyone—except the beetles.—Philadelphia North American.

Wind Imprisons Woman.

Imprisoned in a closet by the wind slamming a door fast, Mrs. Moille Cordery, who lives near Bridgeville, Del., had a narrow escape from death, and when discovered was nearly overcome by the shock.

Mrs. Cordery was cleaning the attic while she was looking in an old closet a gust of wind slammed the door and locked it from the outside. There was no one but herself in the house, and it was nearly an hour before Mrs. Cordery's screams happened to be heard by a gang of men who were repairing the road. With all the doors locked downstairs, Harry Rickards climbed to the second floor and got through by a window. When Mrs. Cordery was found she was in a pitiable state. She is still seriously ill from the shock.

War Cuts Phone List.

There are at least 10,000 fewer telephones in London as a result of the war, business firms in hundreds of instances discontinuing the service in the interest of retrenchment. The government, which operates the system, announces that although telephones have been discontinued by the wholesale there has been an increase in the use of electrophones—the instrument which connects the subscriber with the theater and enables people who prefer to remain indoors these gloomy nights of black streets to have amusement brought to their firesides.

Foot-and-Mouth in the Philippines.

Officials of the Philippines reported to Washington last week that the foot-and-mouth disease has again laid its grip on the islands. The scourge is called rinderpest over there, and has been the bugbear of all cattle dealers and dairies, the few that there are, almost from the beginning of American occupation in 1898.

It is estimated that 260,000 carabaos have died of rinderpest in the last year. There were 500 deaths in the last week of April, when the last mail report was sent to Washington. The loss is about $5,000,000.

The Philippine bureau of agriculture asked for $250,000 to fight the scourge, but the legislature only appropriated $12,500 and this is held responsible to a great extent for the spread of the disease.

If conditions continue as they are in the islands it is feared that the loss the coming year will be fully as great.

Not Impressed.
"Want some stock in my concern?"
"None."
"It's a gold mine."
"That's no inducement. I've invested in gold mines more than once."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Are You Past 30 Years? Take Hot Water and "Anuric."

People are realizing more and more every day that the kidneys, just as do the bowels, need to be flushed occasionally. The kidneys are an eliminative organ and are constantly working, separating the poisons from the blood. Under this continual and perpetual action they are apt to congest, and then trouble starts. Uric acid backs up into the system, causing rheumatism, neuralgia, dropsy and many other serious disturbances. Doctor Pierce of Buffalo, New York, advocates that every one should drink plenty of pure water between meals. Every day should exercise in the outdoor air sufficiently to sweat profusely, and from time to time stimulate the kidney action by means of "Anuric." This preparation has been thoroughly tried out at his Sanitarium. In the same way as his "Favorite Prescription" for weak women and "Golden Medical Discovery," the standard herbal system tonic (both of which now come in tablet form) for convenience of carrying and taking. "Anuric" is now being introduced here, and many local people are daily testifying to its perfectness. When you have backache, dizzy spells or rheumatism, heed nature's warning. It means that you are a victim to uric acid poisoning. Then ask your druggist for "Anuric" and you will very soon become one of hundreds who daily give their thankful endorsement to this powerful enemy to uric acid.

If you have that tired, worn-out feeling, backache, rheumatism, neuralgia, or if your sleep is disturbed by too frequent urination, get Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets at drug store, full treatment $1.00, or send 10c. for trial package to Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.
