Suits Filed

Myrtle Grisham vs. Lemuel Grisham, divorce.

Didn't Go Broke

There is one Democrat in Maupin That is surely game He did not think betting a sin, So he bet all his money That Wilson would win. He bet till he had nothing left In his cabin to eat But one little piece of meat And one loaf of punk Now the election is over And his friends will say There's Old Dad Coal, Darn his old soul, He is out of the hole, And still buying junk.

Local Telephone

The forepart of the week arrangements were completed and connection made with the Pacific States long distance telephone line at the depot, making the local drug store a long distance telephone pay station with direct connection to The Dalles and outside points.

Pasture for cattle and horses. Plenty of straw and some bunch grass, running water in pasture 1240 acres in pasture. Call or write A. J. Lindley, N 10-4 tp.

Prosperity seems to be beaming on Lake's Cash Store. More improvements are being added. A coat of paint and calcimine improve the general appearance decidedly, and a large stock of general merchandise materially increases trade.

Don't blame your clock—it needs cleaning. Emmons will do it for you and guarantee it.

J. M. Powell purchased a new Overland car of E. J. Fischer this week. Mr. Fischer now has the sole agency for that car in this territory adjacent to Maupin, in fact he is ready to sell almost any make of car put out.

Permanently Located

I am permanently located in my present place of business and expect to remain here. I will appreciate work brought me and will guarantee satisfaction.

Obituary

(Contributed)

William Milton McCorkle was born in Indiana, February 25, 1829 and died at his home in Tygh Valley, Oregon, October 25, 1916. Very early in life his family removed to Illinois which he always claimed as his native state.

In 1850, at the height of the gold excitement, he came to California, spending some time in that state and in Mexico. Returning to Illinois he was married to Miss Mary Smith and early in 1852 they joined a company of emigrants and began the long march across the plains to Oregon, the new land of promise.

The newly married pair settled in Linn county, where most of their large family of eleven children were born, then came to Wasco county and settled on a farm near Dufur, where Mrs. McCorkle died. Mr. McCorkle later married Mrs. Abbie Zumwalt, who sorrows him as do also two children of this later union. He was the father of thirteen children, eight of whom are still living, six boys, all of whom live near Tygh Valley, and Mrs. M. A. Plinn of Portland, and Mrs. Zena Alesia of Oakland, Cal.

One by one the pioneers are being gathered to their fathers, leaving the scenes of long years of labor and toil to a younger generation. Do they meet the exigencies of life with the same high fortitude and courage and the same disposition to conquer as our sturdy fathers showed in planting a great common wealth in the heart of a wilderness such as even sixty years ago Oregon still was. Be it ours to carry on to glorious completion and courage and the same disposition to conquer as our sturdy fathers showed in planting a great common wealth in the heart of a wilderness such as even sixty years ago Oregon still was.
