Tales Worth Retelling.
In her draped and darkened tent the amateur palinist was reading hands for a charity. Her present client was a fair maid, who waited impatiently to hear her fate.

"Ah," said the palinist, with slow impressiveness, "I see by your hand that you are going to be married."

"How wonderful!" said the girl, with a blush.

"And," went on the wise one, a note of scerbity in her voice, "I see that you are engaged to Mr. Blinks."

"It's perfectly amazing," gasped the girl. "How can you tell?"

"By the long study of the art," came the evasive reply.

"But surely the lines on my hand cannot tell you the name of—"

"Who said anything about lines?" retorted the sibyl with cunning scorn. "You are wearing the engagement ring which I returned to Mr. Blinks three weeks ago."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Him for Her.
A lady stopping at a hotel on the Pacific coast rang the bell the first morning of her arrival, and was very much surprised when a Japanese boy opened the door and came in.

"I pushed the button three times for a maid," she said sternly, as she divined under the best covers.

"Yes," the little fellow replied, "me she."—Facts and Fancies.

"Whom is pretty Mrs. Gaddy in mourning for?"

"Nobody that I know of, but she is in black for her husband."—Baltimore American.

CHIHUAHUA TAKEN BY VILLA, REPORT

Bandit Leader Headed North; Juarez Thought Goal.

GEN. TREVINO ABANDONS CITY

Carranza Representative Thinks Crisis Is Not Yet Over—Anxiety Felt for Many Small Garrisons.

El Paso, Tex. — Villa is moving northward from Chihuahua City, according to a dispatch from General Trevino, received Tuesday by General Gonzalez, at Juarez, who was ordered to concentrate his forces at Juarez.

A private message coming over the same route adds that not only is Villa proceeding north, but he is in control of Chihuahua City, which General Trevino is said to have abandoned, proceeding southward. General Trevino, according to the private report, said that, after effecting a junction with General Murguía, he would return and recapture Chihuahua.

The message from General Trevino was sent in code from Sauz by way of Ojinaga, opposite the Texas town of Presidio, where it was relayed. It said, according to Carranza officials, that Villa was moving north, and ordered the detached garrison along this section of the frontier and on the Mexican-Northwestern line to concentrate in Juarez.

The message, they added, spoke of this as the fifth day of Villa's attacks. The contentions of the civil and military men in Juarez showed clearly the seriousness of the news.

"No, I think not," was the answer given by a Carranza representative of high rank, when asked whether the Villa crisis was yet over.

It is understood that there are about 600 men, mostly infantry, in or near Juarez.

Telegraphic communication was still open with Sauz, about 25 miles above Chihuahua the military men said. They professed considerable anxiety about the Carranza garrison there.

General Murguía with his large forces had been expected daily to come to the rescue of the besieged city.

Safe Conduct for Austrian Ambassador to U. S. Refused by British

Washington, D. C.—Another controversy between the American government and the entente allies is in prospect as a result of the refusal of the British government to grant safe conduct to Count Tarnowski, the newly appointed Austro-Hungarian ambassador to the United States.

In the absence of official advice on the subject officials of the State department were not in a position Tuesday to discuss it formally or to forecast the course the government is likely to pursue. It was made evident, however, that unfavorable action of the British foreign office on the notice of the intention of the new ambassador to cross the Atlantic to his post came as an unpleasant surprise.

It had not been doubted here that Great Britain would be the last power to deny the privileged character of a diplomatic officer on such a voyage.

Aside from the belief that England would not desire to arouse adverse feeling in the United States by interference with the ancient and generally unquestioned right of a neutral government to receive an ambassador or minister, officials had counted on Great Britain's record in the Mason and Slidell case to prevent such an action as reported in Tuesday's cable dispatches.

Big Gold Strike is Reported.

Baker, Ore.—What may develop into a million-dollar gold strike is reported from the Ben Harrison mine.

News of the rich strike was partially confirmed by W. C. Fellows, manager of the mine, who, while highly optimistic over the outlook, was unwilling to make a definite statement, pending a determination of the size of the ore body.

A drift is being started to determine the extent of the strike.

The ore is said to be exceedingly rich.

Spokane Jitneys to Go.
Spokane, Wash.—A jitneyless Spokane looks like it.

The city's 71 nickel-busses may be forced to suspend through inability to purchase the necessary bonds. The Casualty company of America, by which every jitney in the city is bonded, has been ordered to suspend business by State Insurance Commissioner Fishback. Its stock is said to be impaired to the extent of more than $500,000 and until this is rectified the company will be debarred from doing business in Washington.

South America Now Buying Wheat in Pacific Northwest

Portland — Australian grain dealers are establishing themselves in the West Coast trade, a zone reached from the Northwest in times when tonnage was plentiful, and two charters were made last week for the business from the Antipodes to South America, the American ship Star of Poland being fixed at 70 shillings to load wheat at Adelaide for Callao.

Exporters here do not look for a material movement of Australian cereal to the West Coast, and reason that with the difference in the market Northwest firms easily could compete with the Australians. But the tonnage feature is a drawback, besides the big movement from this district at present is by railroad to the Atlantic and thence by water to Europe.

Naval Base Work is Speeded.

Portland—To insure the least possible delay in getting at facts relative to advantages in the Columbia river for a naval base, the Chamber of Commerce is engaged in assembling all data under a system that will facilitate consideration by Rear Admiral Helm and his brother officers on the commission, while a complete chart of the Willamette and Columbia rivers, from Portland to the sea, is being prepared by G. B. Hegardt, chief engineer of the Commission of Public Docks. The officers are due about December 15.

In addition the chamber of commerce has decided to request the Commission of Public Docks to relieve Mr. Hegardt from duty during the period the navy officers are in this district, even for a week if necessary, so that he may accompany them on their trips of inspection.

Mills Ship and Run Again.

Baker, Or.—A slight lifting in the shortage of cars on the O.-W. R. & N. permitted Baker lumber companies to clear out their shipping sheds, and all mills were running this week. Although the supply was not normal, it was such an improvement that mill owners were jubilant.

The Baker White Pine plant, which shut down one day because of the shortage, was able to resume with the full crew of men, and the three other mills, which had planned to stop unless there was relief, were able to continue. The railroad was unable to promise a normal supply or a continuation of the present service.

Fresh Eggs 80 to 85 Cents.

Spokane—Eggs generally soar more or less in price after a long spell of cold weather, but the dealers say, the present high prices are almost, if not quite, unprecedented so early in the season. Eggs, guaranteed to be new laid, at 80 and 85 cents a dozen. Turkey's price, are somewhat of a luxury, and sold at 80 cents, at 60 cents a dozen, though useful for some purposes, are far from cheap. So far Chinese eggs are not on sale. Butter has put on its winter price of 50 cents a pound retail for the best brands.

Embargo on Cars to U. S.

Vancouver, B. C.—The controversy between the Canadian Pacific railroad and the American lines relative to retention of freight cars reached open hostilities when D. C. Coleman, an agent of the Canadian Pacific, issued instructions all along the line that under no circumstances should Canadian Pacific freight cars be permitted to cross the border into the United States. British Columbia shingle manufacturers are adversely affected by the order. Canadian Pacific officials declare that American railroads have 20,000 of their cars.

Road Protection Wanted.

Corvallis—An agitation was started this week by Corvallis people to have made a provision of the automobile laws of the state of Oregon that no person who drinks liquor to excess or who is known to be a reckless driver shall be permitted to drive an automobile on the highways of the state. It is also argued by some that an examination of the heart should precede the granting of such privileges.

Wool Men Meet Dec. 15.

Pendleton—The annual convention of the Oregon Woolgrowers' association, set for December 8 and 9 at Heppner, has been postponed until December 15 and 16, according to J. N. Burgess, one of the directors. The postponement was made because of a conflict with the Portland livestock show.

$25,500 Paid for Beets.

Grants Pass—The sugar factory has made its first distribution of checks in payment for beets delivered at the factory between the dates of October 23 and 31. In this first distribution 117 growers participated, the payments amounting to $25,500. The signing of contracts for next season is now under way, and much success is reported. Nearly every farmer who grew beets this year will increase his acreage, while there will be many new growers. The Commercial club appointed a committee to aid in securing new acreage.

Logging Line to Build.

Eugene—S. A. Buck and A. H. Buck, of the Monroe Timber company, of Monroe, Wash., and the Buck Box & Crate company of Eugene, has filed with the Lane county clerk a record of right of way for a logging railway across property bordering on the Stius-law river between Mapleton and Florence.

Williamina Votes Bonds.

Williamina — A special election of Williamina was held recently to decide if the voters wished to bond the city for $11,000 to meet outstanding indebtedness on improvements which had been made on the streets two and three years ago. The bonds carried by 18 votes. The bonds are to run for 20 years and bear 6 per cent interest.

Lake View Votes Bonds.
