Much uneasiness is felt here among the farmers about the fall sown grain that isn't up. Several here report that quite a lot of the wheat has rotted in the ground. The recent cold weather without any snow to protect it is believed to be the cause.

Tuesday morning dawned with a snow storm raging which kept up till about two o'clock when nine or ten inches of the beautiful had fallen.

Robert, Vincent and Winnie Tapp came home from Dufur Wednesday evening. They started back to Dufur Sunday, but had only gone about eight miles when they met with quite an accident to the car. They returned home and left again Monday for Dufur.

SOME SCHOOL COMPOSITIONS

A Dog's Opinion of Cats

(Maupin Pupil)

I am a little Colly puppy and my name is Wooly. I have long back hair and am two months old, and am very much abused.

My mistress is a great lover of cats and last Sunday she brought home a black and white one she calls Flossy. She thinks an awful lot of it and takes it up on her lap and pets and talks to it as if it were a baby. She used to do me that way but she don't any more, I don't believe she likes me like she used to, because I chase Flossy. But I don't care, for I don't like Flossy anyway, I don't like any cat and I don't see what good they are.

My, I'm dreadfully hungry. I haven't had anything good to eat since Flossy came. Mistress gave me some bread yesterday for dinner, but I don't like bread, so I went and buried it, because if I didn't Flossy would get it. This morning Mistress set a bowl of milk out on the porch for me and I didn't more than get started drinking it till Flossy came and took it away from me. I snapped at her and she scratched my nose. That made me angry, so we had a fight. Then Mistress came out and shut me in the cold cellar. I barked and pawed on the door, but it didn't do any good.

The other day I chased Flossy up a tree and then I sat down under it and barked at her. I had her pretty badly scared and was beginning to laugh to myself when Mistress called me; she gave me an awful whipping, but it wouldn't have hurt half so much if it had been anyone else that whipped me. I think an awful lot of Mistress and we could get along if it was not for Flossy.

Under the Sea

(Maupin Pupil)

It is dark and cold under the sea. There are numerous monstrous fishes. Bubbles are rising here and there and fishes of all sizes are swimming about. They open and shut their mouths just like they thought they could catch anything in that way.

I see old Neptune. He is tall and dark, and has a long white beard with long white hair. His eyes are dark and his eyebrows are so shaggy and long that I can't see what color they are. He has on a long white fur trimmed cloak and a cap to match. The cap he wears on the top of his head for his hair is so long and heavy that he can't pull it down over his ears. He carries a scepter in his hand.

Now Neptune likes seaweed for dinner. He tells his servants to watch and catch all that comes along. That is why two of his servants are after the piece that is floating by now.

I only spent a few minutes with Neptune and he told me of some of the things that he has to do.

As he is king of the sea and there is so much sea area he has a million and one things to do.

There are sharks, bass, cod, flounders, and many other fish down here in the ocean. I am going nearer the shore to shallower water.

Nearer the shore are oysters, clams, crabs, lobsters and hundreds of other fish.

Oh by the way, I encountered a coral reef and say, the corals are pretty. I was talking to one and it said that it was afraid that the seabottom might subside and it would be buried. It said that the other coral reefs all around that one were afraid of the same thing.

Hello Mr. Oyster. What are you looking so sad about? This I said to an oyster that I met.

"Oh, a fisherman just came along and he very nearly got me with his rake," said he.

"You must have to be on the lookout all the time don't you?"

"I certainly do," he answered.

MAUPIN HAS OPERA HOUSE

Maupin can now boast of one of the best opera houses in the county without exceptions.

Shattuck Bros. have kept A. C. Moad employed the past several days in the interior completion work of the hall over their general merchandise store, with the result that it is now dressed walls and ceiling with a tint plasterboard panel effect, the wood work being stained oak.

The stage covers the full width of the front with an approach from either side into commodious dressing rooms. The round front of the spacious main stage with the shaded foot lights adds much to the whole appearance. The whole is electrically lighted from the Deleo system in the basement of the building.
