Fred Covey our prominent grain buyer of the east side has returned from Portland where he attended the Federal Grain Standardization Conference, and reports having a splendid time, and that he gained many new pointers in regard to the grain business.

T. W. Reel the enterprising manager of the new Hotel Kelly has been able to secure for his telephone ring, one short ring, which will no doubt be very greatly appreciated by the patrons of our new hotel, and their peaceful slumbers will not be disturbed during the wee small hours of the night by the late arrivals.

John M. Brown who is foreman on Edward Mays' ranch has built a new house on his homestead and furnished it very comfortably and cozy, which looks very suspicious for a young bachelor, and we believe he will spring a surprise on the community in the near future, and put one over on his younger brother Edward. Perhaps some kind friend would give Ed a timely tip, so that he might make arrangements to have it a double header.
