AMERICAN TROOPS LANDED IN FRANCE

Washington.—The advance guard of the mighty army the United States is preparing to send against Germany in Europe on French soil.

A list of the contingents of American troops has reached the American naval base in France. Only major contingents from General Pershing and from General Sibert, who commands the force, have reached Secretary Pauley.

A great fleet of transports was used to convey the American regulars across the Atlantic. They were protected all the way by some of the mightiest fighting ships of the American navy.

No formal announcement of the landing came from the war department. News will come probably until Major General Pershing's official report has been received. Then there may be a statement as to the numbers and composition of the advance guard.

Weather conditions during the voyage were ideal and the men arrived in excellent health. The days were warm and the nights cool and comfortable, while the sea was unusually smooth. Very few cases of seasickness or other illness was reported.

The voyage was made on schedule time without any serious mishaps to men or machinery. The port of arrival was known by less than a score of officers until the ships were almost within sight of land.

FRENCH DEFEAT GERMANS

Paris.—French troops, driven forward in pursuit the most savage attack the German crown prince has attempted in six months, succeeded in penetrating the French first line trenches near Verdun over a front of nearly a mile and a half, but were immediately driven out.

French losses were inflicted on the attackers, and the net gain was a small bit of ground held on the west slope of Desloger's hill, according to the official report.

On Friday evening, west of Desloger's hill, the Germans powerfully assumed the offensive on a front of about a mile and a half, the statement said. The assault was by picked troops in a furious attack, but on a strategic counter-attack they were driven out everywhere with the exception of the western slope of Desloger's hill.
