THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attends the making of this great medicine for woman's ills.

Over 350,000 pounds of various herbs are used anually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

these herbs.

Every utensil and tank that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and scaled in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and berbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

Expansion Planned to Meet New Needs and Draft Decisions Are Upset-Age Extension Necessary.

Washington, D. C.—The present schedule of the War department is said to contemplate the arming of 4,-000,000 men by next January 1. That would mean the calling of 1,000,000 men betwen July and January, and the absorbing not only of the men remaining in class I from the first registration, but of those placed in that class under the recent registration, as well as some 200,000 expected to be put in that class as the result of the reclassification recently ordered.

Should congress decide that it is necessary at this time to extend the draft age limits below 21 or above 30, or both, no opposition will be offered by the War department.

National and Local Meat Business

The meat business of the country is conducted by various agencies-

By small slaughter-houses in villages-

By local Abattoirs or small Packing Houses in towns-both

Using only a part of the local live stock supply

and

Furnishing only a part of the local demand for meat.

These slaughtering and distributing agencies fill a well defined but necessarily restricted place in the distribution of the products of live stock.

But only packers like Swift & Company, organized on a national scale, are able to undertake the service that is more vitally important, involving

An Obligation to the Producer

To purchase for spot cash all the live stock the producer may send to market for slaughter.

An Obligation to the Consumer

To make available to every consumer, everywhere, in season and out, the full supply and variety of meat products, of the highest standard that the market affords.
