Appreciated

Portland, Ore., Nov. 25, 1918.

Mrs. W. L. Morrison, I want to express to you my appreciation of your very generous support of the United War work campaign in the columns of your paper. This service was of peculiar value to the success of the campaign owing to our inability to reach the people from the public platform.

I am pleased to report the campaign was an entire success in this state.

Very truly yours,
O. W. Davidson,
State Director.

203 Northwestern Bank Building, Portland, Ore., Nov. 18, '18.
Editor Maupin Times:

Please permit me, at the close of this great campaign, to express to you the gratitude of this office for the splendid assistance rendered during the period preceding and during the United War Work drive.

Sincerely yours,
W. H. Warren,
Supervisor of Newspaper News.

To Prevent Influenza

In view of the widespread prevalence of influenza at the present time, all are advised to take all possible precautionary measures to prevent contracting the disease.

Keep in mind that like most infectious diseases influenza is spread by contact infection, that is, by the actual transfer of the active poison from one person to another. It is spread to a large degree by sneezing and coughing, at which times the infected discharges from the nose and throat are scattered in the air. Those infected should stay at home.

Avoid crowds.
Regulate body functions and keep them so.

Wash your hands frequently.
Wash out the nose and throat two or three times daily by a nasal spray of douche and by a gargle with a normal salt solution (1-2 teaspoonful salt to one glass water).

When sneezing, or coughing, place your handkerchief before your nose and mouth.

If you have a cold use utensils for your personal use exclusively, or if you are in contact with one so affected be careful not to handle utensils used by him.

Above all avoid feeling or spreading fear of the disease.

C. W. Sharples,
Red Cross Division Medical Adviser.

Church Notice

John G. Hessler, pastor.
Services suspended for the present—cause, influenza.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our appreciation for the many kindnesses being shown us by our friends during our illness. We particularly wish to thank Mr. and Mrs. Kelly for the fine turkey dinner sent us on Thanksgiving day.
