Wamic News

Nov. 26,

Dr. Dodds came over from Dufur Monday to attend the Frank Magill and C. S. McCorkle families. He also went to the Jim McCoy home where Hollis McCoy was suffering with a bad sore throat.

George Magill is rural mail carrier while Frank Magill is having the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Driver have moved into their house in town.

J. R. Woodcock and family are occupying their new house, having moved into it last week. They have the most elegant house in town.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kennedy and daughter Lucille and Alana Driver spent the latter part of the week on Smock.

G. E. Wood killed a beef on Juniper Flat last week, bringing a part of it here where he sold it out.

Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Hedin and little daughter Nova of Juniper Flat will spend Thanksgiving at the G. E. Wood home.

Two inches of snow fell here late Saturday afternoon and at night. This is the first snow of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Swift were up from Tygh Saturday evening remaining over night.

Miss Clara Hauser entertained a number of her young friends at a birthday anniversary party Saturday night at her home on Tygh creek four and one-half miles above Tygh. It was her sixteenth birthday anniversary. The young people spent the evening pleasantly in various amusements. Miss Crystal Pratt and Miss Erma Dryer of this place were present.

Mrs. M. A. Kinney has sold out here and will go to Portland to reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Savage bought the M. A. Kinney place.

Glen Lucas arrived last evening from a two month's stay in the vicinity of Grass Valley and Arlington. There being no state on Sunday he had to walk from Sherar, a distance of 14 miles. He remained over night at the Frank Driver home.

If the influenza has subsided by next week there will be Sunday school at the church next Sunday and also a sermon by Rev. G. E. Wood.

Claud Wing who had his hand badly cut by a saw is still carrying it in a sling.

Mrs. Luella Johnson went to The Dalles the former part of last week to work in the cannery.

Cecil Tunison and Roy Morrow were here from Tygh Saturday.

Konrad Hauser and Jim Kistner were up from Tygh Sunday.

Havey Martin was here Sunday from lower Tygh attending a meeting of the Farmers' Warehouse. His son Harvey and daughter Ora accompanied him here.

Criterion

Nov. 25

Mrs. Bert Davis is confined to her bed with influenza.

Geo. Stege is very sick with influenza.

Fred Hornquist is visiting among his friends at Criterion. Fred has a fifteen day furlough to look after his interests on his ranch here.

G. O. Nosker and family have moved to The Dalles for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Todd who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Wilson left last week for Ersa, Illinois, where they expect to make their future home.

R. H. DeCamp is on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Chas. Apple of Stayton, Oregon, is visiting her sister, Mrs. P. J. Kirsch.

A sad gloom was cast over the entire neighborhood last Wednesday when the news came over the phone that Mrs. Arthur Henderson had passed away following the death of their infant which died a few hours after birth. Mrs. Henderson was stricken with influenza and her frail body could not stand the strain it had to undergo in this dreadful disease. She was laid to rest beside her infant daughter in the Duus cemetery. Mr. Henderson has the sympathy of the entire community.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown who were visiting at Arthur Henderson's at the time of Mrs. Henderson's death were both confined to their beds with influenza. Mr. Brown is still very ill with pneumonia. Miss Phronie Kramer is sick this week.

Mrs. Cora Baxter has been confined to her bed the past week with influenza but her condition is not serious.

The men of this neighborhood donated the day last Saturday to Mr. Henderson in digging his potato crop.

Thanksgiving is here again and owing to the fact that war is over everyone is filled with real thanksgiving spirit.
