On Probation, as It Were.

Preparatory to showing Elmer his new sister, his father said: "What do you say to getting a new baby at our house, sonny?" Elmer thought a moment and then said: "Let's just rent one till we see how we like it, for Jimmy (Elmer's chum) says he is tired of his; it cries all the time."

Chinese music is not written.

The words of some of the favorite songs have been preserved, but the music has been handed down from father to son for generations that go far back before the day of the troubadours. When music is played it is played according to the memory of the musician and his ideas of interpretation. A musician varies the performance as his best judgment dictates, and the strings, reeds or brass may break in at almost any time.

Sheep Bone Toy of Small Orientals.

Without the bone of a sheep, that eternal, ubiquitous playtoy of all the East, the children of Asia would be absolutely without an amusement device. Go wherever children play—Osmanlis or Kurds, Armenians or Arabs, Druses or Greeks—and you will see the sheep bone represents everything from a doll to a sword, from a pasha's horsetail ornamented standard to a British gunboat, from a mosque to a church.

Cleaning an Umbrella.

To clean an umbrella place a tablespoonful of sugar in a basin, pour over it half a pint of water and stir till dissolved. Then open the umbrella and, starting from the ferrule, sponge each gore down to the point. Leave the umbrella open till dry.

Common Gain.

The cause of freedom is identified with the destinies of humanity, and in whatever part of the world it gains ground by and by, it will be a common gain to all those who desire it.—Kossuth.

Ingredients for Happiness.

Without strong affection and humanity of heart, and gratitude to that Being whose code is mercy and whose great attribute is benevolence to all things that breathe, true happiness can never be attained.—Dickens.

The Other Side.

If you want to make yourself solid with other folks don't stop to tell them what wonderful things you have done, but just say, "You fellows have the world beaten for big things!"

Best of All Fertilizers.

I believe that the best fertilizer for any soil is a spirit of industry, enterprise and intelligence. Without this, lime and gypsum, bones and green manure, marl and guano will be of little use.—Henry Ward Beecher.

Oldest Roof.

The roof of Hotel Rhinebeck in New York city is supposed to be the oldest slate roof in America. It was stated in the year 1700 with slate brought from Wales for this purpose.

Learn From Mistakes.

If you make a mistake don't look back at it long. Take the reason of the thing into your own mind, and then look forward. Mistakes are lessons of wisdom.—Hugh White.

Colors for Autumn.

Navy, brown and gray are much discussed as the most fashionable colors for autumn blouses—these trimmed with touches of brilliant or lighter colors, but with distinctive care, for there must be, according to fashion's decree, no garishness about these colorful trappings.

TOGS FOR KIDDIES

Ready-to-Wear Clothes Have Many Advantages.

Mothers Prefer to Rely on Garments Which They Believe Look Better Than Those They Make.

Each season, assert the shopkeepers, there is more and more demand for ready-made clothes for children. Not that there are more children, but that more mothers are relying on the ready-to-wear garments, which are really so much better looking than anything they can fashion at home without spending a good deal of precious time in the process. Even if the modern mother is a good needlewoman she finds that fine sewing is the least requirement. Styles in children's clothes change rapidly nowadays; the same models are not worn year after year as they used to be. One does not recall these frantic style changes in one's own childhood. There was the long-waisted frock with a sash or a low-placed leather belt. And there was the plaited skirt with a sailor blouse. And there was the guimpe dress. Almost all frocks for little girls kept to these fundamental principles.

It is interesting to watch the style developments in raiment for small girls. Features that are the fads of one season usually appear the next season as salient points of juvenile garb.

Why this is, no one quite knows; but it is so. Frocks for little girls this autumn show over-the-waist bodices, tied at the back in a sash. They show long over-blouses with fringe at the edge. They show straight lines and loose belts and sashes and round necks edged with plaited frills. Everyday frocks are of serge, of wool jersey, of tricotine, and the favored trimmings are buttons, braid, angora wool, silk embroidery and loop fringe. Taffeta and even satin dresses are shown for girls from seven to twelve years old; and the taffeta frocks, particularly, are quaint and charming in their soft, bright colors and childish style.

One blue poplin model is an excellent choice for autumn school days. It is a little more substantial in weight than a tub frock, yet is not so heavy and warm as an all-wool costume. It fills in the gap between summer and winter admirably—though, of course, it must be supplemented by several tub dresses for wear on those sultry days that always come. This blue poplin model might be developed successfully in taffeta, with lace or hand-embroidered collar and cuffs for formal occasions; the blue poplin, with its collar and cuffs of the material and neat white lawn vestee, is an ideal school frock.

BLACK CREPE DE CHINE GOWN

Accordian pleated, begins at the bust line and is nipped at the waist by a crushed moire girde, then three tiers ripple at will from hip to ankle. All this is in striking contrast to the very transparent bodice of chiffon and lace.

Mending Lace.
Small breaks in lace can be very perfectly mended with a little care and patience. Place a tiny knot at the end of your thread and draw the thread through the place where the lace is broken, joining the broken thread to the lace proper. Then draw a succession of loop knots over the floating thread very tightly close to the base. Now follow with the new thread the course that the old thread had taken and do the same with the other loose end, knotting it securely close to the body lace. Cut away the loose ends and the break is no longer perceptible.
