Maupin School News

The teachers and high school pupils bought a new Bible for the school library.

Thanks, Mrs. Kelly, for those house plants for the high school room.

A half dozen new seats for the primary room arrived last Saturday. At last some little feet that have been dangling in the air may rest on the floor.

The Juniper Club made a good start last Friday with a very pleasing program. The first issue of the school paper, The Weekly Creeper, by Lewis Derthick and George Ayres was especially good. The Maupin Times is likely to find The Weekly Creeper a dangerous rival.

Several visitors were present at the meeting of the Juniper Club last Friday. They were Mrs. L. D. Kelly, Mrs. Wm. Beckwith, Mrs. E. A. Cyr, Mrs. D. M. Shattuck, and Mrs. E. A. Mayhew.

Mr. E. F. Carlton, Deputy State Superintendent of Public Instruction visited the high school department Wednesday. Mr. Carlton inspected the library very carefully and checked up the laboratory apparatus with the list required for standardization. He found the library fifty books short besides the necessity of obtaining a new set of up-to-date encyclopedias. He found that we had met the laboratory requirements almost entirely, but says we must have a long table on which to perform experiments. We have until December 1 to "make good," and Mr. Carlton will find this district abundant able and more than willing to do so. Maupin must have a standard high school.

Extracts from The Weekly Creeper (High School Paper):

"Everybody is invited to the Xmas entertainment at the Fellows' Hall Christmas Eve".

"One may substitute cork limbs or false teeth for natural, and artificial lights for solar—yet this trying to put 'amo' on the blackboard without making a mistake is like trying to find a substitute for breathing."

"The Golden Rule will be taught in the Maupin high school as soon as the Bible arrives, for the benefit of those who don't have time to attend Sunday School."

Nov. 18.
Harvey brothers butchered sixteen head of fat hogs Wednesday of last week.

We had a little sunshine here Friday for a short time. Heavy clouds have hung low here for more than a week.

J. R. Woodcock and Sid Mulvaney went to Maupin Friday.

Verne Norval returned Thursday from Portland.

Who gets the money that you pay the butcher for beef? This interesting diagram will help you to see. It is made up from figures secured by the Federal Department of Agriculture who followed a number of groups of steers through the packing plant and through the retail market up to the time the meat was in the hands of the ultimate consumer. The live animals were bought from the farmer; in addition to the meat there was, of course, the hide, visceral fat and other by-products. These were sold by the packer and this sum added to what the retail market man received for the meat gives the total proceeds. Out of this total amount the farmer received 66 to 75 per cent for the live animals. Three to 4 per cent were required to ship the live animals to market and to feed and care for them in the stock yards before they were slaughtered. The packer received 5 to 6 per cent of the total proceeds, and this covered the cost of slaughtering, refrigerating, shipping in refrigerator cars to the local branch houses, selling to the local butcher, and also profits. Fifteen to 20 per cent was received by the butcher, which comprised his selling cost plus his profits. The illustration indicates the proportions of these amounts by the relative sizes of the money bags.

The Sunday School will celebrate Thanksgiving with a literary program a week from next Sunday. A display of fruits and vegetables will assist in carrying out the program.
