THE YEAR $1.50

Obituary

Nancy E. Miller, daughter of David H. Miller was born in the state of Indiana February 5th, 1858. She came with her parents across the plains by ox team in 1865 at the age of 12 years, to Portland, Oregon, finally settling on a farm near Albany in Linn county. After a few years the family moved to Multnomah county and settled near Gresham at which place she was married in 1871 to James R. Woodcock. To this union eleven children were born, six boys and five girls, five of the children having preceded their mother to the grave. Six children, three boys and three girls remain to mourn the departure, all of whom were present. The family moved to Wamic in 1876, 43 years ago. This mother having her lot with the early settlers of the great Pacific Northwest faced the hardships of frontier life bravely, thinking not so much of her own needs as the needs of her family and neighbors. This sterling quality of our early fathers and mothers makes us of another generation brave and happy.

Thus Nancy E. Woodcock lived and November 26th, 1919, she died, aged 66 years, 9 months and 21 days.
