

Oldest Hen Dies

The oldest hen in the United States, Enstais Pallidam, aged 82 years, died at Dayville, Conn., recently. Pallidam was a Spanish Black hen owned by James Blanch arde. When in her youthful days Pallidam, the pedigreed beauty was a prize winner in numberless contests. When she reached the age of 15 years her plumage turned from black to a pure snowy white. As late as last spring she mothered a brood of chickens and even laid eggs in the fall.

The Maupin Times

Published Every Friday at Maupin, Oregon.

Mrs. W. L. MORRISON, Publisher

Subscription: One Year $1.50, Six Months 75cts, Three Months 50c

Entered as second class mail matter September 2, 1914, at the post office at Maupin, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

The publisher of another small weekly in this county recently told one of our advertisers that there was no paper published at Maupin. Thank you, brother, but we have been trying for the last five years to make our little sheet merit the name of newspaper and any way we have a column of locals and some good live advertising matter for our big paid up list of subscribers to read, if we are too stingy to pay ten cents a week for some patent editorial matter which is so well suited to either side of a question it reminds one of an almanac birthday prediction of completion, temperament, etc.

Times, $1.50 per year.

We will sell your farm or business for you.
