

Smock Items

Beautiful day.
No school this week. Miss May is attending institute in The Dalles.

Blaine Dishrow returned from Ben Sunday where he has been at work the past three months.

W. L. Scott of Sharan Springs, Kansas, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Bradway for the past month returned to Hood River to visit his son at that place.

Last Sunday was John Farlow's 44th birthday and his wife perpetrated quite a surprise on him by inviting the Sunday school to their house for dinner. Needless to say it was a fine spread and about people enjoyed it and wished the host many more birthdays like this one.

Revival at Smock church commences October 17, with George Waterhouse of Silver Lake in charge, to last two weeks.

When 2000 to 3000 acres of land on Wapinitia Plains are irrigated and 7000 at Smock and Wamic are also watered and 2000 at Tygh and the Sands; when towns and cities, with allied industries spring from the ground, what will we have as a fair. Can't our people see that during the next two years if we maintain a fair that the sledding will be easier and that no county board will dare to cut short our just funds.

When the highways north and south and the Mt. Hood Loop spurs are facts and market roads are completed we may expect to draw large throngs from outlying town and then our fair will be like Yakima the one best thing in the county.

Every live citizen should attend the Tygh Valley meeting Sunday to boost the fair. Every one able should purchase an interest in the Fair Association so the property debt could be canceled. Let's all get behind the Fair Board. S. R.

apples. Clifford Palmateer took him to Sherars Bridge.

Jack Swift and Mrs. L. Allen were up from Astoria Thursday remaining over night at the Jake Davidson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hode Swift were here from Antelope Thursday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Norval.

Miss Ida Duncan came up from Astoria Thurs. after spending the summer there.

A party of three men who went hunting on White River in the mountains succeeded in killing seven deer. George Gerity had the good luck to kill two large bucks.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Justison, of Moro were guests over night of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Chastain Wednesday night.

F. M. Driver, Prof. J. R. Ward Miss M.K. Compton and Miss Sarah May went to The Dalles.

Guy Britton returned from Madras.

One of the most charming features of the fair was the presentation of the Stars and Stripes and the banner to the Badger Post of the American Legion by Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Mays of Portland. Judge F. W. Wilson of The Dalles, gave an eloquent and patriotic address on behalf of the donors, followed by no less eloquence and patriotism by J. T. Blanchard, of Smock, in an speech of acceptance. Mr. Wilson, Mr. Blanchard, Mr. R. Doering, Mr. Mays and Mrs. W. Sloan occupied the speakers stand, the two later holding aloft the banner and flag. Mrs. Sloan occupied the place of Mrs. Mays, who was detained in Portland by illness. The soldiers and Marines formed in two lines in front of the grand stand where an immense audience stood spell-bound after singing America as Private Chester Britton, of Tygh maneuvered the members of the Post a patriotic movement at the close of which Belvie Patison, of the Navy and Percy Thompson of the quartermasters corp marched between the lines to the speakers stand and received the
