Keep Smiling
There is only one way to ward off care. Make your mind impervious to attack. Just as the germs of disease can make no impression on a healthy body, so little devils of unhappiness are unable to thrust their brittle lances through an armor of cheerfulness. And remember that others will take heart from your example. The happier you are, the more happiness you create, and the greater is the share of happiness for everybody.

Surgery Without Pain
Chloroform was not discovered by Sir James Simpson. It was the famous English surgeon however, who, sixteen years after the anesthetic was first discovered in 1831, began his experiments. He boldly tried chloroform on himself and two colleagues to test its effect, and the three were discovered one day lying on the floor, apparently dead. They recovered and compared notes, and so chloroform came into general surgical use.

Modern Girl
A Clay Center physician sent the office girl out to do collecting, according to the Dispatch. She was back in less than an hour with a ring, a marriage certificate, a man, and $1. all of which she had collected.—Kansas City Star.

Loaded?
If the truth were known, many a boastful soldier was never under fire except when discharged from the army.—Cartoons Magazine.
Technical Name for Motor
The more technically correct name for the automobile power plant is the word engine, although it is popularly called a motor.
An Exception
A man may be right when he tells you that he has never told a lie. But perhaps that is the biggest lie ever told.
Carrier Pigeons' New Duty
Carrier pigeons are playing a part in the patrol of the national forests.
Temptations
Some temptations come to the industrious, but all temptations attack the idle.—C. H. Spurgeon.

To Quote Wisely and Well
One must be a wise reader to quote wisely and well. And then what service is rendered his reader by advertising him where the good things are, besides the modesty of the practice. An author should esteem himself honored by being wisely quoted; his fame is published the more widely, as the volume circulates and is read. Let wit celebrate wit with its own ever-flowing hospitality.—A. Bronson Alcott.

Same Thought in Great Minds
Carlyle wrote of "One life—a little gleam of time between two eternities." Marcus Aurelius had written, "Deem not life a thing of consequence, for look at the yawning void of the future and at that other limitless space, the past." The old Saxon, Bede, likened man in his earthly life to a sparrow flying out of the dark night into the lighted banquet hall for a moment only, and then out again into the black and unknown night.

Keep Smiling
There is only one way to ward off care. Make your mind impervious to attack. Just as the germs of disease can make no impression on a healthy body, so little devils of unhappiness are unable to thrust their brittle lances through an armor of cheerfulness. And remember that others will take heart from your example. The happier you are, the more happiness you create, and the greater is the share of happiness for everybody.

Chickens With Phthisis
Two French scientists contend that 10 per cent of the chickens in that country have tuberculosis and that the disease runs as high as 23 per cent among poultry in some other countries.
The Real Liberal
The real liberal is one who is liberal in the reception of truths as well as in the application of some specific truth.—Universal Leader.
