MODERN DIOGENES IN PARIS

Students on Spree Found Him Lying in Trunk—Is 85 Years of Age.

Paris.—It was 2 o'clock in the morning when two hilarious art students, who had drunk more vino gris (a light wine) than was absolutely necessary to quench their thirst, passed by the deserted Halles (Central Market), where a very large trunk of what they termed an satelivian pattern commanded their attention. They agreed to carry the trunk some blocks away to "punish the owner for his terrible taste."

The trunk was too heavy for them, so the boys decided to find out what it contained. Cautiously they lifted the cover, when a shock-headed man indignantly asked to be left alone and slammed down the cover with a bang.
The students were on the point of leaving when a policeman, attracted by the noise, took the trunk-dweller to the nearest station house where the modern Diogenes identified himself as Honore Leherste, eighty-five years, and said the scarcity of homes and his lack of money forced him to imitate the famous cynic of Corinth.

HARDING CASTS OUT LEAGUE COVENANT

President Proclaims Rejection of Versailles League.

EARLY PEACE URGED

America Will Have No Part in Super-Power Government—Message Given to World.

Washington, D. C.—Final rejection of the Versailles league of nations by the American government was proclaimed to the world Tuesday by President Harding in a solemn pronouncement of the foreign policies of his administration.

Speaking before the new congress, the president declared acceptance of the league would be nothing short of a betrayal of the mandate of the November elections. Instead, he asked a congressional declaration of peace and for reaffirmation of those portions of the Versailles treaty which protect American rights and interests in the war settlement.

"In the existing league of nations, world-governing with its superpowers, this republic will have no part," he said. "It is only fair to say to the world in general and to our associates in war in particular that the league covenant can have no sanction by us."

A tremendous demonstration followed this declaration, republican senators and representatives leading, while most of their democratic colleagues sat silent. After weighing the words of the president, the senate irreconcilables were claiming complete victory, predicting that even the portions of the treaty indorsed by Mr. Harding never would receive senate approval.

In his recommendations for domestic legislation, the president gave greatest attention to tariff and tax revision and to the railway situation, though he indorsed lesser measures which congressional leaders declared might prolong the special session until the snow flies. He also declared his faith in a maintained merchant marine and in the principle of armament reduction without asking for legislation.

An emergency tariff was placed at the head of the requests, and within an hour after he had finished the house ways and means committee agreed to reach the emergency measure vetoed by President Wilson. For the permanent tariff bill Mr. Harding made no specific suggestions except that it follow the principle of protection.

Similarly he refrained from detailed recommendations on taxation, contenting himself with a discussion of the situation with a reminder that his party pledged itself to repeal the excess profits tax. He also recalled the promise to organize a separate government department of public welfare.

Declaring rates and operating expenses of the railroads must be lowered, Mr. Harding asked that congress investigate the transportation problem. He recommended co-ordination of all government agencies dealing with former service men, strengthening of the federal laws affecting highway construction and maintenance, enactment of budget legislation and a congressional inquiry into lynching and race relations.

British Miners Reject Proffers

London.—The conference of the mine owners, mine workers and government officials Tuesday failed to reach a settlement in the miners' strike, miners refusing to accept the premier's proposals for a national settlement of wages without a national pool of profits which Mr. Lloyd George declared impracticable.

Transport workers and railwaymen, however, suspended their strike notices, which would have expired at midnight.

The only government proposal which the miners would consider was one in which the government offered after the wage question had been settled, to give temporary assistance to mitigate the rapid reduction of wages; the others they brushed aside.

Police Use Radiophone.

Chicago.—Wireless telephones will be used by the Chicago police in their war on crime. A $12,000 plant is being installed for communication with rifle squads, fireboats, fire engine houses, police stations and patrol wagons. At first the terminals will have only receiving apparatus. William G. Keith, said that he hoped "ultimately to have every policeman equipped with receiving apparatus, which weighs only a few ounces."

Sugar Gives Off Sparks.

A queer phenomenon has recently come to the notice of Washington scientists. Disks of loaf sugar mounted on a rapidly rotating lathe while a hammer beat lightly against them were seen to give off a continuous light that has not been satisfactorily explained.

World's Smallest Coin.

The coin of the least value ever issued is the "mite," so called, such as the widow of the Bible contributed to the poor. Its shape was hexagonal, and its value about one-fiftieth of a cent. It would take five thousand mites to make one dollar.
