THE SCOUT HAND BOOK.
 Many Substitutes for Tea.
 There are more than 30 plants used in different parts of the world as substitutes for tea. One of them comes from the dried leaves of a fragrant orchid, a parasite like the mistletoe, and allied to the well-known vanilla of the odor of which it reminds us. The Africans have long used its leaves as medicine, and the infusion of them as a drink. Its taste is something between vanilla and bitter almonds.

A Writer's Style.
 The greatest poets have, with rare exceptions, been the most indebted to their predecessors or to their contemporaries. It has wittily been remarked that only mediocrity is ever wholly original. . . . A writer's style, if it have distinction, is the outcome of a hundred styles.—Thomas Bailey Aldrich.

No Excitement There.
 It is contrary to the traditions of the British house of commons for either cards or billiards to be played within its precincts. Members who require indoor recreations are expected to content themselves with chess or draughts.—Brooklyn Eagle.

It is Peculiar.
 "Newspaper guys are funny. Whenever they meet they always ask, 'What do you know?' The other says, 'Nothing,' and then the paper the next morning is filled with news."—Portland Oregonian.

April Fool Jokes.
 According to tradition the custom arose from the fact that Noah sent out the dove on the first of the month, which corresponded to our April, before the water had abated. To perpetuate the memory of the great deliverance of Noah and his family, it was customary on this anniversary to punish persons who had forgotten the remarkable circumstance connected with the date by sending them on some foolish errand, similar to that on which the patriarch sent the luckless dove from the windows of the ark.

Roman Baths Overpraised.
 The baths of ancient Rome so wonderfully pictured by painters and story tellers, do not compare favorably with the modern bath. Judged by standards prevailing before the coming of Christ these baths were wonderful, but measured by standards of today the glories of Rome, marks of the highest degree of civilization in the ancient world, would be declared unsanitary and likely to be condemned as menaces to the health of users.

Don't Forget Cuticura Talcum
 When adding to your toilet requisites. An exquisitely scented face, skin, baby and dusting powder and perfume, rendering other perfumes superfluous. You may rely on it because one of the Cuticura Trio (Soap, Ointment and Talcum). 25c each everywhere.—Adv.

Have to Eat the Leavings.
 The women of California and other fruit-producing states of the Pacific coast are complaining that, while they are charged high prices for the fruit that they must buy, they are unable to get anything but the second-grade produce. Under ordinary circumstances, the choicest fruit is sent to the eastern markets and only when the market is glutted are they able to get the best.

Ancient Egyptian Money.
 The ancient Egyptians had a gold coin and silver standard of currency, and their money was in the form of gold and silver ornaments, rings and nuggets, the value of which depended upon weight.

Is No Fool.
 The man who never talks of the great things he is going to do never has to explain afterwards why he didn't do them.—Boston Transcript.

Something to Be Thankful For.
 Jud Tunkins says he's glad enough people don't actually have to be discovered dead to furnish first chapters to the detective stories.

THE GIRL ON THE JOB
 How to Succeed—How to Get Ahead—How to Make Good
 By JESSIE ROBERTS

THE HOTEL WORKER.
 THE hotel worker gets her board and usually her lodging, as well as her salary. The salaries run from $50 to $150 a month. Hotel positions are interesting and important. A girl must have intelligence, a good presence, good manners, and a level head. She has responsibilities, and she ought to be a judge of human nature. The room clerk must have a good memory, so that even with a large clientele she will remember the different guests who are making her hotel their home, and she should be able to size up applicants for rooms without hesitation.

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS
 "CANARD"
 IN ENGLISH the word "canard" is used to signify a fabricated, sensational story—something made up "out of the whole cloth," a verbal bomb usually sprung at the last moment so that there will not be time successfully to contradict it. But "canard," in French, means a duck. There doesn't appear to be much connection between the two—but there is. In fact the whole thing goes back to ducks, twenty of them.

Mother's Cook Book
 All kind things must be done on their own account, and for their own sake, and without the least reference to any gratitude.
THE DAINTY HOME TABLE.

THE DAINTY HOME TABLE.
 SINCE linen has been almost prohibitive in price and the linen in our chests has been cherished for state occasions, the little Japanese gets, cloths and napkins, which make no pretense of being anything more than cotton (but which have such pretty artistic designs, in good colors) have become very popular.

THE DAINTY HOME TABLE.
 The well-kept dining table never looks better than when laid with pretty doilies, which most women enjoy making in their leisure moments. The old fashion of loading the table with all sorts of good things has passed. We still have the desire to be well fed but with more comfort and greater health.

THE DAINTY HOME TABLE.
 A dainty centerpiece of flowers or a small plant always adds to the appearance of any table. Flowers need not be of the choice hot house variety, for a bunch of beautiful clover is a thing of beauty and costs nothing.

THE DAINTY HOME TABLE.
 Pretty little ferns may be taken up in the woods, planted in small pots and used for a table ornament. The present fashion returns to the old way of serving desserts and salads at the table, letting each guest help himself to the amount he desires. This is both convenient and economical as it eliminates leftovers.

THE DAINTY HOME TABLE.
 Peter Garage, who, with his eight-year-old son, came to bond with them. One day Garage was found stabbed and as first said he had been stabbed by a man from Philadelphia. Before Garage died an interpreter talked to him in Italian and at the trial testified that Garage told him that the Mirachos had inflicted the wounds. Thus they were convicted.

THE DAINTY HOME TABLE.
 Since then it has been learned that Garage had killed a man at Utica, N. Y., had cut and slashed another man and had attacked his wife with a hatchet, leaving her for dead. The wife appeared and claimed the child. Prior to the conviction of the Mirachos, a man appeared and said he would reveal the murderer, but on the eve of the trial this man was murdered.

THE DAINTY HOME TABLE.
 Learning all of the above, the pardon board decided that any number of persons other than the Mirachos would have had a motive in killing Garage, whereas the Mirachos had none. Thus the board has recommended a pardon for them.
