CHIEF EXECUTIVES AT PLAY

Occupants of the White House Have Sought Recreation in All Forms of Strenuousness.

It is said that President Harding is the best golfer who ever lived in the White House. Though he only took up the game three years ago, he can get round the Chevy Chase course at Washington in 95, his best being 71.

Mr. Wilson, though at one time a very good walker, was never keen on games, with the one exception of lawn tennis. He played a sound game of lawn tennis. He is a good mechanic and has on occasion shown that he could drive a locomotive.

The late Mr. Roosevelt was by far the most athletic man who ever sat in the presidential chair of the United States. Some of his feats were extraordinary. So lately as 1909 he rode 98 miles in 17 hours over slushy Virginia roads. He never stopped anywhere for more than ten minutes, except once, at midday, for lunch and to rest his horse.

He was a skillful boxer and a fencer. Some eighteen years ago he received a bad wound over the eye in a fencing bout. The button of his opponent's foil broke off.

"Big Bill" Taft, who was one of the heaviest of United States Presidents, took up boxing in order to get his weight down, and was successful in reducing himself.

Fishing is a sport which many Presidents have enjoyed, among them Benjamin Harrison and Mr. Cleveland. The latter was a really keen angler and used to visit Florida in winter in order to enjoy the delights of capturing the great "silver king," as the tarpon is generally called.

Her Conclusion.

"Mamma," said Elsie when the family and visitors from the country had sat down to breakfast, "is it true that people who snore have bad consciences? I read in one of my books that they do."

"I don't know, dear. Perhaps they have. What makes you ask such a funny question?"

"I was just thinking, if it's true, Aunt Susan must at least have killed somebody once."—Boston Transcript.

Oil Burned by Ocean Liner.
It costs approximately $102,000 to fill the oil tanks of the White Star liner Olympic for a round trip. The tanks hold 7,500 tons, and about 700 tons remain at the end of a normal round voyage. The oil is taken out at New York at a saving of nearly one-half. The Olympic has only recently been equipped to take on oil enough for the return voyage.—Wall Street Journal.

PLEA FOR THE SMALL BIRDS

Writer Calls Attention to Their Vast Services in Staying the Ravages of Insects.

He is no sportsman, and a vandal sort of butcher, who shoots the small birds, which no stretch of ingenuity can bring within the definition of game.

In some European countries such shooting is termed sport, and some immigrants have brought the bad habit with them. All hunters and sportsmen should discourage, or when possible, without resorting to too severe measures, put a stop to such butchery. And that not simply because we ought to, and sensible folk do like to hear and see the little things about, but also because of the actual benefits they confer upon mankind.

Michael, the French naturalist and historian, says in his "Insect Life" that if all the birds were destroyed, man could not live on earth more than nine years. He believed that without birds to check the ravages of insects, the insects would first destroy the growing crops of grain, next the grass and the foliage, which would leave nothing on which to feed cattle, hogs, sheep or poultry. The crops having been destroyed, all domestic animals would perish for want of food, and man in his extremity, in a barren and desolate world, would be driven to the necessity of living entirely on fish. When the supply of fish was exhausted he would starve.—Montreal Family Herald.

PROVIDED HER WITH FORTUNE

Effective Answer of Irish Judge to Defendant's Plea in Breach of Promise Suit.

Irish legal celebrity, Judge Murphy, mentioned by Judge Bodkin in "Recollections of an Irish Judge," delivered a very effective charge to a jury in an action for breach of promise. The defendant was not examined, and the judge commented strongly on this fact. He was interrupted by the protest of the defendant.

"You have no right to say that, my lord; sure, I wanted to be examined and my counselor wouldn't let me."

"All right, my man," said the judge; "come up on the table and be sworn. Why didn't you marry the girl?"

"Because she hadn't the fortune I wanted, my lord."

"How much was that?"

"Five hundred pounds, no less."

"Gentlemen of the jury," said the judge, concluding his charge, "you will find for the plaintiff five hundred pounds damages. Now sir (to the defendant), she has the fortune you want."
