Wapinitia School

The piano has arrived and all are delighted with it. Music can be heard in the high school building during all intermissions and we sing every morning. The pupils feel the piano is an asset to be proud of, which we surely are.

The high school has had a number of state and county library books out for study purposes. The junior class has read and reported on, The Vicar of Wakefield, Pilgrim's Progress, Dr. Jeckil and Mr. Hyde, Sir Roger De Coverly Papers, and Hamlet.

Mrs. Borrer is making out a list of chemicals to be used in experiments in first year science.

The members of the seventh grade are preparing to take the state examination in Geography on the sixteenth and seventeenth of January. The sixth grade may take the examination in Physiology.

Nearly all of the pupils of the primary room are back at work. About three fourths of them have been absent for the last few weeks.

What Shall He Profit?

If he earns big wages but saves none of it?

If he gets money only to let it master him?

If his pay envelope be fat and the paying off of debts makes it flat?

If he hides his money under his pillow and be robbed of all he has saved?

If he builds an imposing financial structure and fails to put a protecting roof over it?

If opportunity knocks at his door and he has no money saved to accept her invitation?

If he gains the only woman in the world and no safe financial prospects to offer her?

If he gains a fortune and loses the vision of usefulness and responsibility which it entails?

If he lays by a fortune for his children and fails to see that they are trained in thrift?

If he wastes his money and then wastes his time wondering why he was ever so foolish?
