School Notes

The Maupin school literary society will give a program at 2 o'clock Friday January 27. Every body is cordially invited.

Maupin Student Body was called to order January 25, a motion was made and carried, that the high school play will be held February, 24. Another motion was made and carried that the ladies would sell their shadows except some of the pupils below the sixth grade who would rather sell baskets.

The high school has divided and each division has divided so that each Friday morning a division on one side will debate a division on the opposite side, on the coming Friday. Mabel Cyr, Clair Green and Arthur Philnee are going to debate with, Lester Crofoot, Jesse Walter and Elza Derthick on the negative side of Resolved: That a course in athletic training should be compulsory.

Those averaging above 90 in final semester examinations were Stanley Houghton Clifford McCorkle, Orland Walter, Mabel Cyr and Lorraine Stovall. A few of the pupils were exempt in some of their subjects, Jesse Walter was the only one exempt in all subjects, Orland Walter and Stanley Houghton being exempt in a few subjects. All pupils made their passing grade but these were the ones with highest standing.

The pupils having parts in the plays are beginning to get busy on their parts.

Supt. Gronewald tells us we will likely have the local institute with us this spring and he holds out to us the prospect of of State Supt. Churchill being with us at that time. We hope everyone in the community will help to make this an enjoyable affair as the meeting we had last year.

We also extend an invitation to the ladies of the community to come and talk over arrangements in regard to the teachers institute to be held here this spring.

Wamic News

This place suffered real cold weather when the mercury dropped to twenty degrees below zero last Tuesday night. The remainder of the week was cold and far below freezing.

About five inches of snow fell here Monday night and Tuesday following a cold north wind.

Dr. Griffith was called here a week ago Saturday to attend Gilbert Illingworth, who had the flu.

Mrs. Mollie Brittain, of Tygh is attending her grandson Gilbert Illingworth, spending all last week here.

A choir practice was held at the Willie Norval home Friday night.

School was suspended all last week on account of so many of the pupils being sick and by the severe weather.

Bill Woodcock took John Illingworth to the station Saturday to take the train for The Dalles being called to that place by the serious illness of his parents. His father died before he reached The Dalles.

Dr. Elwood was called from Maupin Saturday to attend Dick Gerity who had an attack of pleuro pneumonia. The Dr. made several other calls while here, attending Mrs. Elsie Campbell, who had heart trouble and Velma Crofoot who has the flu.

Mrs. May Chub and daughters Pearl and Irene were guests of Mrs. Laura Kennedy the past few days since Mrs. Campbell has been sick.

Marion Duncan came down from Smock to meet Callie and Ipha Duncan.

Among the sick children last week were Darrel and Ogden Wing and Eddy Seufert jr.

John and Liberty Chastain went to the White river plant where they were engaged in punching ice at the plant.

Jim Wing came up from Tygh Saturday remaining until Monday at the Joe Wing home being sick while there.

Lon Wing returned Friday from Spokane Wash. where he spent several weeks with his daughter Mrs. Lulu Karas.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Berry will give a card party at their home on Smock tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Brittain went yesterday to the Jim McCown's home to take care of the family who are all down with the flu.

John Illingworth who died in The Dalles Saturday was a resident here for many years. He won many friends while here who are saddened by his death.

Many persons lost their horse plants here by the sudden cold snap.

This place is still in the grip of snow and has been since the first fall in November. Every one is looking forward to the coming of spring being very tired of the long and cold winter and so much snow.

Funeral services for John L. Illingworth, who died Saturday morning at the family home in Taampson's addition were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Burget-Morgan company's funeral home, Rev. G. K. Hartman officiating. Burial was in the Odd Fellows' cemetery. Mrs. Illingworth is ill with pneumonia, but was today reported on the road to recovery.—Chronicle, January 23.
