ENEMIES OF ENGLISH SPARROWS
Pacific Coast Seagulls Drive Them Away From Wharves and Docks.

Seattle.—The Pacific coast seagull conducts an eternal warfare against the English sparrow, and because of it keeps wharves and docks free of the noise and litter so predominant around sparrows' households. Observers declare some older gulls act as sentinels and when a sparrow alights on a wharf roof several immediately chase it away. On one occasion recently a lone sparrow flew seaward followed by half a dozen gulls, who kept the tiny bird so hotly pursued it fell into the water exhausted. Wharf operators are grateful to the gulls for this bit of police work, as

BOY SCOUTS PLAY SANTA CLAUS
Last year Akron (O.) scouts collected and distributed 900 toys among the poor children of the city. This year they raised the number to 1,500. For weeks they canvassed the city for old toys, dolls, sleds, etc., which they painted, repaired and made to look as good as new to delight the hearts of the kiddies on Christmas morning. This kind of good turn is being quite generally practiced throughout the country. Other cities reporting similar Santa Claus service on the part of scouts were Louisville, Ky.; Cincinnati, O., and Butte, Mont. The Cincinnati council got out an attractive poster in the name of "Santa Claus Co., Inc.," bespeaking the public cooperation in handing over old toys to the boy scouts for repairing and redistribution under the auspices of the Associated Charities. The Butte scouts established a regular toy hospital at their headquarters, to which the papers gave considerable publicity.

English sparrows once inhabiting the rafters and overhead work inside the docks would produce an amazing amount of litter to fall into freight and express shipments. A large amount of grain is wasted every day on docks which would attract and feed myriads of sparrows but for the watchful eye of the seagulls. It is believed the gulls show the antagonistic spirit toward the smaller birds because they fear competition in the salvaging from the sea of their daily food.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Bend.—Livestock shipments composed of 900 head of lambs and 512 head of cattle were sent out from central Oregon Saturday evening over the Oregon Trunk for the Portland market. Twenty-two cars were used.

Salem.—A disease known as nematode or eel worm is attacking strawberry plants and clover in the western part of Lane, Douglas and Coos counties, according to reports received by Charles Park of Salem, president of the Oregon state horticultural board.

St. Helens.—After being closed down for eight months, the camp of the Milton Creek Logging company resumed operation Monday. Track men have been making repairs to the logging track and mechanics have the donkey engines and rigging in readiness.

Eugene.—Out of the 1382 dairy cattle tested for tuberculosis in Lane county by Dr. G. B. Trubey, federal inspector, since January 13, only 11 have reacted to the test, according to a report made recently by Dr. Trubey at the office of the county agricultural agent.

Salem.—Five Salem business men, four of whom are charged with selling cream and milk containing less than the required amount of butterfat, and the fifth of having for sale misbranded goods, have been arrested by Dr. S. Leach, deputy state dairy and food commissioner.

St. Helens.—Lumber shipments from St. Helens for the week ending Saturday have been the lightest for some time. The steamer Cello loaded 950,000 feet for San Pedro and sailed Tuesday night and the Japanese steamer Holland Maru took on 1,200,000 feet for the orient.

Medford.—Rural telephone users in Sams valley were severely shocked and telephones were burned out Friday, when a Gold Hill truck driver backed into an electric wire, causing a connection on the telephone line which charged the phones as far as the Gold Hill switchboard.

Salem.—Plans for a cold storage plant in Salem at a cost of approximately $75,000 were announced here Saturday by Louis Lachmund and H. A. Talbot of Salem and C. A. McLaughlin of Independence. The plant will be served by both the Oregon Electric and Southern Pacific railroads.

Salem.—The recent cold weather has caused but little damage to loganberry vines in the Willamette valley, according to the reports of experts who have investigated the berry-growing districts of this section. Broccoli has suffered to some extent, as has late-sown grain in the lowlands.

Salem.—There were three fatalities in Oregon due to industrial accidents during the week ending February 2, according to a report filed by the state industrial accident commission here. The victims were C. F. Monear, logger, Eugene, and W. W. Osborne, carpenter, Oregon City.

Gaston.—At a meeting of the local members of the Oregon Dairymen's league it was voted unanimously to form a local organization and take over the Gaston cheese factory at the price it cost the league to build. The meeting was called by the trustees as a step in the process of liquidating the league organization.

Bend.—Beef blood baits containing tasteless strychnine have been placed in the country tributary to Bend, Redmond, Sisters, Deschutes and Tumalo, in the campaign against the coyote being waged by D. L. Jamison, county agent. Coyotes have increased rapidly in Deschutes county in the last year, and have caused considerable loss to sheepmen.

Heppner.—Local ice men were hastening the ice harvest Saturday because of the warm weather, which threatened to break the longest winter of record here. Stockmen have been feeding continuously since about November 15 and snow has covered the ground most of the time since that date. The cold has not been severe and stock is wintering well, with plenty of hay yet on hand for several weeks' feeding.

Seaside.—Plans are being launched to have a large sanitarium, with every modern convenience, erected at Seaside. While it is a well-recognized fact that Seaside is one of the healthiest places in the United States and that government statistics show infant mortality to be the very lowest here, yet the fact is not so well known that many remarkable cures have been effected on persons afflicted with diseases of long standing.

Foreign Customs.
In Sweden a physician cannot sue for his fee, while in Belgium a solicitor is in a similar position. By Chinese law, not only the doctor, but also the priest, the fortune-teller and clairvoyant are without legal remedy. All these debts are, however, looked upon as "debts of honor," and payment is rarely evaded.

Course of Hudson River.
The Hudson river rises in the hills to the west of Lake Champlain and after a southerly course of about 200 miles falls into the Atlantic ocean below the city of New York. It is navigable as far as Troy, 166 miles above New York, and is connected by canals with Lakes Champlain and Erie.

When the Blind "See."
Persons who have been stricken blind after once having enjoyed the sense of sight invariably "see" in their dreams, and it would seem that they see very vividly, for they say that they "see" things in their dreams that their eyes have never beheld.

The Ready Answer.
A schoolboy answering the question, "What was the Sherman act?" replied, "Marching through Georgia."

Changing Fashions in Hats.
During the last 300 years there have been more changes in hat fashions than in any other part of men's attire.

The Butterfly.
Ah, the butterfly! Even when chased, it never has the air of being in a hurry.—"Japanese Lyrics."

Vulcanizing Discovered in 1834.
The discovery of the process of vulcanizing rubber, for which a patent was granted, was in 1834.
