HUMANIZING THE POSTAL SERVICE

"There is no unimportant person or part of our service. It is a total of human units and their co-operation is the key to its success. In its last analysis, postal duties are accommodations performed for our neighbors and friends and should be so regarded, rather than as a hired service performed for an absentee employer."
 Postmaster General Hubert Work.

Peter Kirsch and younger son were Maupin visitors Wednesday. Lewis Derthick was called home from O. A. C. Tuesday night by the death of his mother Mr. and Mrs. Walt Hanna and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Derthick of Dufur attended the funeral here today.

Mrs. M. Flynn will make a trip to The Dalles Friday.

A large crowd attended the funeral of Mrs. O. B. Derthick this morning.

The Dalles Optometrist has resumed an eight page form with the name of George H. Flag as one of the owners. It contains a nice lot of local news and advertising.

LIFE OR DEATH?

Lives of 2500 Children at Stake in Question Asked Oregon Man Last Summer.

A question which is still haunting State Director J. J. Handsaker of the Near East Relief, was put to him by Mrs. Jeanette W. Emrich when he was in Constantinople late last summer. Mrs. Emrich is well known in Oregon through her talks on conditions in the Near East four years ago, when she spoke in the 1918 campaign. "Mrs. Emrich is now in charge of extensive Near East Relief work at Constantinople, her duties including the management of several industrial units, a number of soup-kitchens, and a feeding station for 5,000 children," said Mr. Handsaker. "She is one of the most energetic, efficient and devoted workers on the Near East staff, and has borne up wonderfully under a succession of heavy personal griefs. Her husband died when heading a relief expedition in Aleppo shortly after the signing of the armistice, and one of her little boys died suddenly, just one week after my first conversation with her. . . . When I saw her, her heart was heavy because of her inability to give the children under her care enough food to keep them in normal health and strength. In great agony of soul she discussed with me whether she should continue feeding her 5,000 children as she was doing, or whether it would be better for the future of the race to double the allowances of food for each child and cut the number of children in half. The latter plan, of course, would mean the abandonment of 2,500 helpless little boys and girls to the stark fate of starvation, and the giving of their food to the other 2,500 children. In order that the smaller group might be brought to normal maturity. With in a week after she asked me this question, her own little boy was stricken and died. One week after the lad was buried, I returned to Constantinople, from the interior, to find Mrs. Emrich again at her post, with the ante-room of her office filled with widows and orphans to whom she was giving careful sympathetic attention.

MRS. JEANETTE W. EMRICH
