FRENCH WRITER ON JOB AT 101
M. Maille Saint Prix Does Long Article for Newspaper Every Week.
Paris.—M. Maille Saint-Prix, the oldest working journalist in France and probably in the world, one hundred and one years old, contributes an article of a column to a column and a half every week to a French provincial newspaper.

WOMEN are staging boxing bouts in London.
M. Maille Saint-Prix told a correspondent who called on him at his chateau, about an hour's journey from Paris, that his great regret is that he can no longer go shooting, which he had to abandon at the early age of ninety.

Something to Think About
By F. A. WALKER
GIVE THE BEST

TO GET the best from life you must give the best.

In whatever position you may be, there should be no reluctance to make a fair exchange in which measure for measure is given on both sides in absolute sincerity.

That you should make a fashion of doing this encourages others who are taking note of you to do likewise.

They find through experience that there comes with continued actions of this kind an inexpressible gladness which fills their hearts with friendship and lightens their countenances with sunny complacency.

There are no pleasurable experiences of this sort felt by those who are constantly complaining about the shortcomings of others, forgetful all the while of their own.

You cannot feel the balmy air of spring mornings unless you go forth into the glorious outdoors and become a part of it, nor can you give to others if you have nothing to give.

That you should waste your days in ignorance of this fundamental truth underlying happiness is a deplorable error, which, as the years pass softly over you, graying your hairs and marking little lines upon your face, often becomes a burden almost too heavy for self-respect.

You cannot have the best without divorcing from your heart all forms of selfishness, egotism, jealousy, covetousness, doubt and pride.

Your kit of fine sentiments may be packed to the top, but unless you shall stoop, open the bag, take out each sentiment one by one and use them as a plumb line upon your face, often becomes a burden almost too heavy for self-respect.

Like diamonds, such inspirations must be cut and polished to bring out their beauty, brilliancy and worth.

High-born ideas, unless put to use at their birth, soon become rusty and of no value.

In your privacy you may fondle them and dream of the wonderful things you intend to do, but if you replace them time and again in the old worn bundle without attempting to test their value in noble work you are not making an effort to get the best, or even a portion of the best, waiting anywhere for every man and woman willing to sacrifice, help others and give the best within them.

KIDDIES SIX

LIFE

A LITTLE grief, and much of joy
Marks every day.
A wealth of love without alloy,
Along life's way.
A little toil, a little pain,
The glint of sun, the welcome rain,
And then comes night.
A peaceful rest at set of sun,
A welcome home when work is done,
And life's all right.

A time to meet, a time to part;
Friends come and go.
Hand clasping hand, heart beats to heart,
Comes joy, comes woe.
The radiant light of clear blue skies,
The welcome gleam of children's eyes,
Make hearts grow light.
A battle won for those loved best,
And troubles faced with merry jest,
And life's all right.

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS
"QUARANTINE"

THE origin of a term of 40 days—a "quarantine"—as a sanitary precaution against the spread of various diseases is lost in the dim mazes of early oriental history. Forty days was the period devoted in ancient times to the burial of the dead.

The apocryphal story of the 40 days in Canaan before they submitted the report. Jonah gave the residents of Nineveh 40 days in which to consider his prophecy and repent. Christ, Moses and Elijah each fasted for 40 days—the Christian observance of Lent being a commemoration of the most notable of these. Under William the Conqueror no man was permitted to remain in England more than 40 days without paying a tax of some kind, while under the Magna Charta it is provided that a widow shall remain 40 days in the house of her deceased husband before being allotted her dowry.

The modern sanitary adaptation of the quarantine was established by the French along the Mediterranean in order to prevent the introduction of plague from the eastern countries, but apparently the only reason for the arbitrary setting of such a "time is that it forms one of the periods resulting from a division of the lunar year by the mystic number nine.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Fossil.—The cloud-burst season for Wheeler county is here. All last week there have been heavy rain and small cloudbursts in different parts of the county.

Silverton.—The Silverton business men have decided to celebrate the Fourth of July at Silverton. It was reported that the celebration will be in the form of a community day affair.

Klamath Falls.—Early beginning of road work in Klamath county is forecast in the advertising by the county court for bids for $400,000 of the $800,000 road bond issue authorized by the voters in the special election this spring. Bids will be opened June 24.

Eugene.—The prune evaporator of the Eugene Fruit Growers' association, already one of the largest in the state, will be enlarged at once, the board of directors has decided. The enlarged plants will have a capacity of 85 tons of green prunes. An addition will be constructed.

Salem.—Authority to advance between 50 and 75 per cent of its open prune prices to growers upon the delivery of the prunes was granted the Oregon Growers' Co-operative association's dried fruit committee by the association's board of directors at a meeting here Saturday.

Salem.—Four hundred sixty-six claims for cash, amounting to $116,500, and 29 vouchers for loans, amounting to $89,900, were approved by the world war veterans' state aid commission at its meeting here Friday. The commission also fixed the amount on 100 loans aggregating $249,100.

Hood River.—The shortage of houses here has reached a seriously acute stage. During the past week at least a dozen families have sought in vain for living quarters. A number of orchardists, leasing their places to move to the city, have been unable to obtain accommodations.

Dallas.—Frank Bonds, aged about 75, died at his home at Grande Ronde June 5. He was the last of the Yamhill tribe of Indians, original settlers of the Grand Ronde Indian reservation. In his younger days he was a man of considerable prominence and influence among his people.

Salem.—In an order issued Saturday, the public service commission granted the state highway department authority to construct an overhead crossing over the tracks of the Southern Pacific Railway west of Oakland, in Douglas county. Two hazardous grade crossings will thus be eliminated, the order stated.

Pendleton.—One of the most expensive and difficult pieces of roadwork in this county will be advertised for construction in the near future, according to the members of the Umatilla county court, Reed and Hawley mountain up Pine creek from Weston is the rocky grade which has in the past been almost impossible to traverse.

EACH IS A GENUINE GOODYEAR

Each of the two tires illustrated above is a genuine Goodyear through and through.

One is the famous reliable 30 x 3 1/2 inch Goodyear All-Weather Tread Clincher.

Its companion is the popular 30 x 3 1/2 inch Goodyear Cross Rib.

The Goodyear Cross Rib is built of the same high grade Egyptian cotton fabric that goes into the All-Weather Tread Goodyear.

It has a long-wearing but differently designed tread, and sells for less money.

More than 5,000,000 of these tires have been sold in the last five years.

Their fine performance has demonstrated the folly of buying unknown and unguaranteed tires of lower price.

Ask your Goodyear Service Station Dealer about their advantages.

GOOD YEAR
"Western made for Western Trade"

Suggestion.
Richard, age five, had been left at home in the care of one of his aunts for a few days. It appeared to the aunt that Richard usually managed to do just the things that she had forbidden him to do. Finally she mentioned that fact to Richard, only to receive the following reply: "But, auntie, I never think of those things till you talk about them, and then it seems to me that I just must do them."

The Wool Combers.
In the Latin quarter of Paris one often sees groups of bareheaded women sitting in some quiet corner of the street, perhaps within a church door, picking and combing the wool of their mattresses. No matter how poor a French peasant may be, he almost always possesses a comfortable bed with a wool mattress.

"Tact."
Sir Chartres Biron, London's chief magistrate, once gave a lecture on "Tact" and incidentally related a story of a Scottish minister who on one occasion thus addressed a condemned criminal: "Donald, mon, the gallows are ready, the hangman's ready, the rope's ready—are ye ready?"—Chicago Herald.

Spiritualistic Mania.
From Southern Bavaria comes the report of an entire family of 11 members going insane through spiritualistic experiments. The neighbors found them, after destroying their furniture, about to offer up an infant as a sacrifice to the "spirit of pure light."—Scientific American.

Swallowed Each Other.
A perfectly formed hard-shell crab about the size of the end of a person's thumb was found in an oyster shell. The crab had evidently been swallowed by the oyster, but presumably it proved too much for the oyster, as there was no oyster in the shell when it was opened.

Boxwood Hard to Obtain.
In this country we once used tons of the Turkish and Persian boxwood for engraving, but this finely textured wood, is now difficult to obtain and very high priced. Ordinarily we use 3,000 tons of it annually.

Silver Tongues.
Rev. Ernest F. Tittle of Evanston, Ill., says it's great to be a distinguished orator, but that it is greater to tell the truth!

Salty.
Salt beds covering an area of forty square miles exist in Nova Scotia. One bed alone is said to be 900 feet wide and eighty feet deep.

Hang the Grammar!
When money talks we don't care whether it says "You and I" or "You and me" so long as it connects us up.

Absence Defined.
Absence is like a wind which fans a conflagration but which extinguishes a candle.—M. Tinsyre.

SURE TO HELP SICK WOMEN
Mrs. Baker, So Much Benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Anxious to Help Others

Lebanon, Indiana.—"I was completely run down from women's troubles and stomach trouble and for a long time was hardly able to do my work. I had some friends who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they told me about it. I know what it has done for me and I recommend it to others, as I am sure it will be a great help to all sick women. It is a wonderful medicine, and I give you permission to use my testimonial and my photograph."—Mrs. EMMA BAKER, 310 S. East St., Lebanon, Indiana.

These letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound ought to convince women of the great worth of this medicine in the treatment of ailments to which they are often subject.

Mrs. Baker calls it "a wonderful medicine." If you are suffering from troubles women often have, or feel all run down, without any ambition or energy for your regular work, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a natural restorative and should help you as it has Mrs. Baker and many, many other women.

Words to Be Avoided.
There are two simple words in our language that have caused more misery than all the plagues of history. They have broken lifelong friendships, set brother against brother, separated lovers and caused children to weep. These poisoned words have sent innocent persons to the gallows and have turned the debauchee into a demimondaine. Think well before you let them pass your lips. They are "They say."—Exchange.

The "Strike" Is On.
The customer called the waiter, "There's a chunk of wood in my sausage," said he. "I expect to be served with the dog, but I'll be hanged if I'll eat the kennel, too."

Good Advice.
"If you want to succeed, son," said Uncle Eben, "you gotter learn to get es' as busy an' enthusiastic over reglar work as you does over a crap game."
