State Monopoly of Schools would cost—
In taxes—
Over $1,000,000 a year for operation
Over $3,000,000 for buildings and grounds

THE first cost of state monopoly of schools would be something over three million dollars for new buildings and grounds. We would have to pay a yearly tax of over one million dollars for operation in addition to what we are paying now.

They propose that Oregonians pay this bill for "Real Americanism." But it is not Americanism to take away the right of the parent to control the education of the child.

They propose that we pay this bill to have "Compulsory School." But we actually have compulsory school right now under the present law.

Be not deceived. What this burden of added taxes will go for is an experiment in education along communistic lines—the substitution of state monopoly in education for parental guidance. Russia is trying this experiment. Let us profit by her failure. Let us maintain our democracy and save millions of dollars.

Why Close Private Schools?
Financial wrong is seen in the proposed compulsory education bill on the November 7 ballot. Injustice to owners of old-established schools, against which there has been no complaint, would be worked by the bill's adoption; a large number of employees would be out of work and taxes would be increased in order to house and teach thousands of pupils now in private schools.

What Tom Marshall Says
"I have an old-fashioned notion that in a government where freedom of religion is guaranteed to the citizen, as the father of a child, I have a right to train it along the lines of my own religious belief.
"I doubt that any officer, however gifted and high-minded he may be, can have a tenderer regard for my child than I myself possess, that he can more sincerely desire his health, happiness and success."
