When the Seals Come, Buy Them

A LITTLE before Christmas, you will be offered some Christmas Seals. Keep them and use them on envelopes and packages. Send a check or money order to cover the small sum they cost.

When you do this, you help in the fight against tuberculosis. You help save human lives. Your help goes where help is most needed—to the house that is clouded with the threat of death. When the seals come, buy them.

Roman Holiday

Recently we reread "Tom Jones" that interdicted classic of Henry Fieldin's. We cannot but feel that the worst passages in that book are better than the first pages of the present-day popular literature as expressed by our metropolitan dailies and carried for them by the famous news associations who "point with pride" to their achievements.

Of course all this is prudish. Newspapers will continue to hunt the salacious and publish it with out a thought of the reactions of the multitude. Many of those now going about the ordinary business of life are doing so with the feeling they may be the next victims. But we do not think a solitary piece of good will come of all this publicity. It merely means that more victims are being demanded by that Moloch of modernism, the metropolitan daily.

The contry editor can assoil his soul with the thought that his paper goes out into the world clean and sane and that he is not required to earn his living by tossing another victim into the arena to be butchered to make a Roman holiday.—Auxiliary.

Autodescription

As I have no education I cannot write a book, but will give a Slight description of how I look. I once was quite attractive, But have faded pretty much, I look just like a porcupine or Coyote, skunk and such Some people when they look at me Think I am getting gray But its mildew on my whiskers That make them look that way My hair is kinder shaggy Just like a brindle cow but you See that makes no diffenence, I am married now.

I one time had the measles My eyes are very weak but, I can still see the color of a Coyotes eyes at the top of any Peak, when you come to Maupin If its me you want to see, please Don't forget my number It is mewhouse number 3.

All day alone in the canyons I ride, not even a dog to run by My side, the life it is lonely, Some people would say, but I Have kinder got used to it I am At it every day, I will wake up In the morning feeling pretty Blue, go out on my trap line and Get a coyote or two, sometimes I get them and sometimes I fail As fish is a brain food Please send me a whale. O. L. Pacquet received a letter this week from his son Francis who is stationed on the Isle of Guam.

Mr. Juddins died Saturday at the home of his daughter Mrs. Frank Batty. The body was shipped to The Dalles. Funeral to be arranged for later. Interment to be at Mt. Scott cemetery in Portland.

Mr. Moore, an old trapper, came in from Clear Lake Sunday He had run out of provisions so had to make the trip, which took him 3 days. His feet were badly frozen. He is now with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Cox who are caring for him. His dogs could not come out with him so J. L. Maddron and son Lawson have gone in on horses for them.

C. W. Flinn and family came over from Simnasho Sunday and spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs Sam Wall.

All the boys and girls of Wap. gathered at the Magill home Monday evening for a party and general good time.

Mrs. J. I. Parker has received 2 boxes of lovely oranges from relatives in California recently.

Richmonds are hauling baled hay from Maupin to Wap. this week for J. P. Abbott.

Ray Kaylor and Mr. Green were here Sunday and Monday. Grandma Hartman is quite poorly this winter.

J. I. Parker and Robt. Ellinwood are putting up ice this week.

The pupils at the Powell school had their Xmas program Monday as their teacher has to be in The Dalles this week for teachers examination.

Dee Woodside and Anna West expect to spend the vacation days in Portland.

Frank McCoy and family were guests of Mrs. Lou. McCoy on Sunday.

James Abbott is enjoying his radio very much. He has been able to pick up messages from Oakland, Los Angeles, Denver and Salt Lake.

Don't forget the program and Christmas tree at the church Saturday night 7:30.

Remember Armenia

There will be an Unseen Guest this year at Everyman's Christmas table. He may be unseen, unheard, unfelt, even-but he will be there just the same.

One of the vast army of refugees—a haggard woman, a pale emaciated child, a bent, decrepit old man, shivering, starving, dying, in the Isles of Greece today, is your guest, my guest claiming his righteous share of Christmas abundance and cheer, even though we close our eyes to him, or shut our hearts to his piteous appeal.

In the midst of this unspeakable sorrow, 110,000 children will be fed this Christmas day, and every day, by America, through Near East Relief, hundreds of them being at orphanages in the cities of Jerusalem, Bethlehem and Nazareth.
