remove the fish, rinse well, remove the backbone and cut the fish into fillets.
Parboil five minutes before cutting up, drain and cook in a hot frying pan with a little fat until a golden brown.
Arrange on a warm platter, garnish with parsley and pour around the fillets.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Salem.—The Oregon public service commission in an order issued Saturday authorized a rate of $1.50 a 1000 feet of saw logs from Reliance to Seaford on the Tillamook branch of the Southern Pacific railroad.

Portland.—Demands for lumber from practically every normal source are pouring into the offices of mills and wholesalers at a rate that indicates
facturers for some time to come.

Lebanon.—Southern Pacific trains out of Lebanon over the Woodburn-Springfield line have been temporarily halted, owing to the condition of one of the big concrete piers in the center of the South Santiam river under the steel bridge of that company.

Dallas.—The suit of R. M. Walker against the Polk county court to enjoin the sale of highway bonds voted in 1919, has been appealed to the supreme court. Recently the case was decided in favor of the county by Judge Bagley of Hillsboro, who came here to hear it.

Astoria.—Tuesday, February 13, will be citizenship day in the local circuit court. Twenty-two applications for citizenship will come up for hearing.
Six are women. Under the old law the admitting of a man to citizenship also admitted his wife, but now women must apply separately.

Roseburg.—High water during the recent storm and flood is believed to have uncovered a large sized vein of coal at the G. Debernard place on the North Umpqua river, opposite the state salmon hatchery. The waters cut away the bank at the end of the dam and went around the obstruction.

Klamath Falls.—Seventy-five Indian children from the Klamath Indian reservation will be minus their tonsils and adenoids when the wholesale operations under way here are completed.
During the past week 40 operations were performed at the two local hospitals, the youngsters coming in relays.

North Bend.—Four local young men who were trying out a new power boat Saturday were thrown into the cold waters of the North bay and swam ashore between the confluence of North and Haynes inlets. One of the party was unable to make the mud flats, but two of the youths returned and brought him in.

Brownsville.—Brownsville received a practically new sensation this week when the woolen mill in trying out the new boiler got up a head of steam and blew the whistle at the noon hour.
J. L. Bowman, owner of the property, pulled the whistle cord. The mills, which have been idle for many years, will resume work, tentatively, in a few weeks.

Sheridan.—Heavy rain and wind storms swept the valley Saturday. No damage was reported. The storms apparently were off the ocean and came through the mountain pass to the west of Sheridan with terrific force. Rains of the last week at Pacific City on the Tillamook coast are said by old residents to have been the worst ever experienced there.

Sheridan.—In order to combat slides in the mountains north of Sheridan that parted the water main and shut off the supply last week, extensive alterations have been made by relaying the line 300 feet. The heavy rains of the last month soaking naturally spongy earth, increased its pliancy and the pressure of the water running through the main on the mountain side was too great for the ground to resist.

Brookings.—Perry Thomas was injured, probably fatally, and John Peppard sustained a broken ankle when a three-story building, under construction on the main street of Brookings, collapsed in a wind storm this morning. Both men were well-known citizens of Brookings. The fine new home of the Chetco garage, adjoining the wrecked building, was seriously damaged by the pressure against it of the falling building.

Marshfield.—One hundred and thirty thousand dollars of new work was inaugurated here last night in building operations during 1923 when the Odd-fellows issued orders for a new temple to cost $50,000 and the school board for construction of a new grade building of 15 rooms to cost $80,000. Many improvements in the building line are under consideration here and the home building campaign is likely to start as soon as the city bill is approved in congress.

Salem.—During October, November and December 92 permits were issued by the state engineer for the appropriation of water from the various streams throughout the state. The permits cover the irrigation of 2767 acres of land, development of 827 horsepower and the use of water for mining, municipal, domestic and various other purposes. The estimated cost of construction work under the permits is approximately $140,000.

THE RIGHT THING at the RIGHT TIME

By MARY MARSHALL DUFFEE

SOCIAL CALLS

The old order changeth, yielding place to new.—Tennyson.

AFTER all it is usage that makes our code of manners.
No matter what may seem to be the most courteous thing to do, and no matter what the authorities on etiquette may write and preach, if well-bred people don't actually do those things then they are not essential to good manners. A year ago if any one had asked me whether it was necessary for a busy man to make a call as a mark of courtesy after going to dinner at a friend's house I would have said emphatically, "Yes." Dinner calls had for a good many years been pointed out as really essential marks of respect. The idea was that if you could find time to enjoy a good dinner at a friend's house you could likewise find time to pay a call.

But there are so many people who never do pay dinner calls that it is not fair to make these sweeping statements. In what we know as "formal" society this is still the rule, but really the majority of even well-bred folk do not have time to conform to these strict standards. In many communities married folk have few opportunities for going out together in the evening. A congenial set of such folk will occasionally meet for a dinner party or evening of entertainment at each other's houses. If there are children at home and no maid or a maid who takes it for granted that her evenings are her own, this means that some one must be got to "hold the fort" while the mother and father are away. With such people, though the women of the circle managed to call occasionally in the afternoon, there is a sort of tacit agreement that party calls will not be expected from the men because the only time they can pay these is in the evening, and when they do go out in the evening they like to have some more substantial diversion than paying calls.

So also it happens that in large cities where distances are great the busy business man takes a dislike to going to a friend's house when that friend may not be at home to receive his call. It means sometimes an hour's trip with a chance of only leaving a card at the end. And, of course, no one properly telephones ahead to warn a hostess of a call.

The newcomer, however, always makes a better impression if he does pay the party call and it should be within ten days of the courtesy entertainment for which it is paid. Moreover, he should pay it whether or not he has attended. If he has received an actual stated invitation for a definite entertainment then the call is due, but if the invitation has been verbal and only indefinite then he need not consider it as requiring a call.

The Secret of Being a Convincing Talker

How I Learned It in One Evening.
By GEORGE RAYMOND

thing that struck me forcibly was that in stead of antagonizing people when I didn't agree with them, I learned how to bring them around to my way of thinking in the most pleasant sort of way. Then, of course, along with those lessons there were chapters on speaking before large audiences, how to find material for talking and speaking, how to talk to friends, how to talk to servants, and how to talk to children.

"Why I got the secret the very first evening and it was only a short time before I was able to apply all of the principles and found that my words were beginning to have an almost magical effect upon everybody to whom I spoke. It seemed that I got things done instantly, where formerly, as you know, what I said went in one ear and out the other." I began to acquire an executive ability that surpassed me. I smoothed out difficulties like a true diplomat. In my talks with the chief I spoke clearly, simply, convincingly. Then came my first promotion since I entered my present job. I was made Treasurer.

"And I want to tell you sincerely, that I attribute my success solely to the fact that I learned how to talk to people." When Jordan finished, I asked him for the address of the publishers of Dr. Law's course and he gave it to me. I sent for it and found it to be exactly as he had stated. After studying the eight simple lessons I began to sell to people who had previously refused to listen to me at all. After four months of record-breaking sales during the dull season of the year, I received a wire from the chief asking me to return to the home office. We had quite a long talk in which I explained how I was able to break sales records—and I was appointed Sales Manager at almost twice my former salary. I know that there was nothing in me that had changed except that I had acquired the ability to talk where formerly I simply said "words without reason." I can never thank Jordan enough for telling me about Dr. Law's Course in Business Talking and Public Speaking. Jordan and I are both spending all our spare time making public speeches and Jordan is being talked about now as Mayor of our little town.

"I'll tell you just how it happened, George, beca you may pick up a pointer or two that will help you."
"I remember how scared I used to be whenever I had to talk to the chief? You remember how you used to tell me that every time I opened my mouth I put my foot into it, meaning of course that every time I spoke I got into trouble? You remember when Ralph Simon left to take charge of the Western office and I was asked to present him with the loving cup the boys gave him, how flustered I was and how I couldn't say a word because there were people around? You remember how confused I used to be every time I met new people? I couldn't say what I wanted to say when I wanted to say it; and I determined that if there was any possible chance to learn how to talk I was going to do it."
"The first thing I did was to buy a number of books on public speaking, but they seemed to be meant for those who wanted to become orators, and whereas what I wanted to learn was not only how to speak in public but how to speak to individuals under various conditions in business and social life."
"A few weeks later, just as I was about to give up hope of ever learning how to talk interestingly, I read an announcement stating that Dr. Frederick Houk Law had just completed a new course in business talking and public speaking entitled "Mastery of Speech." I sent for them and in a few days they arrived. I glanced through the entire eight lessons, reading the headings and a few paragraphs here and there, and in about an hour the whole secret of effective speaking was opened to me.

"For example, I learned why I had always lacked confidence, why talking had always seemed something to be dreaded, whereas it is really the simplest thing in the world to get up and talk. I learned how to secure complete attention to what I was saying and how to make everything I said interesting, forceful and convincing. I learned the art of listening, the value of silence, and the power of brevity. Instead of being funny at the wrong time, I learned how and when to use humor with telling effect."

"But perhaps the most wonderful thing about the lessons was the actual examples of what things to say and when to say them to meet every condition. I found that there was a knack in making oral reports to my superiors.
I found that there was a right way and a wrong way to present complaints, to give self praise, and to issue orders."

"I picked up some wonderful pointers about how to give my opinions about how to answer complaints, about how to ask the bank for a loan, about how to ask for extensions. Another

Oxygen Gas Future Predicted.
When the process of making oxygen from air becomes cheaper, it is predicted that an enormous demand for the gas will arise. Just as oxygen is now used for welding and other purposes in which great heat is desired, not gradually, but very speedily, so it will be required for smelting and a hundred other purposes.

Creosoted Timbers Last.
Creosoted timbers are valued in Africa because they diminish the injury due to moisture and the tropical sun, and the ravages due to white ants and borers.

Agnes of Trees.
The Tortworth chestnut, in England, figures upon a charter dated 1135, and so is probably well on toward its tenth century, and there is an oak at Tilford, near Farnham, which was there in the year 1250.

Significance of Beards.
Beards, in olden times, were the emblems of wisdom and piety.—Macaulay.
