Barley Practical

O. A. C., Corvallis, April 21.—(Special.)

Barley is one of the best irrigated crops for spring planting according to G. R. Hyslop, chief of farm crops. It produces more an acre than any other crop grown. Years of work have sifted out Hannechen and Trebi as being particularly adapted to conditions similar to those of Juniper Flat.

Hannechen has two rows of kernels to the head and a beard which breaks off easily. This gives a fine appearing grain which is the most prized threshed barley on the west coast. It is white, thin hulled, and heavy, often testing 50 or more pounds to the bushel. Hannechen is the best feed barley and is particularly suited to irrigated soils of heavy texture and medium to good fertility.

Trebi barley is a little better than Hannechen on rich ground because it does not lodge as easily. It has six rows of kernels to the head and a heavily barbed beard, making it more difficult to thresh.

It is heavy but not as thin hulled as the Hannechen. For slightly heavy soils like those of Juniper Flat, Hannechen is the better. Hannechen is unquestionably the best best barley for unirrigated lands.

Barley must be planted moderately early in the spring to produce a good crop. Treatment for smut is advisable, the formaldehyde treatment being most successful.

Two bushels an acre are usually planted on irrigated land. Barley is the highest yielding small grain crop. More barley on the Flat means more hog and dairy feed and a market grain. It is one of the best spring irrigated crops for getting a stand of clover or alfalfa established.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION
Department of the Interior
U. S. Land Office at The Dalles, Oregon, April 1, 1924.
Notice is hereby given that Benjamin F. Turner of Maupin Oregon, who on Nov. 18, 1920, made Homestead Entry No. 621135 for E1-28W1-4, Sec. 20, T 5 S, Range 14 East, W1-28N1-4, E1-28W1-4, S1-28W1-4, section 21, Township 6 south, Range 14 east, Willamette Meridian, has filed notice of intention to make three year proof, to establish claim to the land above described, before F. D. Stuart, United States Commissioner, at Maupin, Oregon, on the 13th day of May, 1924.
Claimant names as witnesses: W. C. Richardson, W. L. Fischer, H. D. Hollis, A. J. Connolly, all of Maupin, Oregon.
J. W. Dounelly, Register.

The campaign inaugurated in behalf of the University of Oregon to obtain $5,000,000 in five years through gifts has reached the active stage of its progress. On May 9 there will be inaugurated by the University alumni, who have taken upon themselves the task of raising $1,000,000 of the scheduled $5,000,000 as their share, a three weeks' intensive drive. Former students of the University everywhere, the world over, are to participate.

Necessity is the spur which is driving the University of Oregon gift campaign. Attendance at the University is increasing so fast that it is outgrowing the facilities. Attendance within the past four years has increased 39 per cent. During the same period the University's income from the state has increased but 5 per cent. All of the University's buildings are crowded. Some of them are over-crowded. Not only is the attendance growing, but the rate of increase in the attendance is growing. These facts and the further ones that the University prefers not to ask appropriations from the over-taxed public for increased facilities, furnish the reasons for the gift campaign.

This campaign was inaugurated a year ago, but it has only recently become fully organized and begun to attain real headway. The first big effort of the campaign is that to be made by the alumni from May 9 to May 30. With the $1,000,000 which the Alumni propose to raise it is intended to provide a new library, a gymnasium and a splendid memorial court. Citizens of Eugene in a mass meeting held recently have pledged themselves to provide $500,000 for a splendid auditorium to be built on the University campus, big enough to accommodate from 5,000 to 6,000 students. At present it is not possible to hold an assembly of all students indoors, because there is no building at the University which will accommodate the 2,400 students now in attendance. The current student body has pledged as its contribution to the gift campaign the funds necessary to supply a building for the Students' Union.

The alumni of the University are taking the lead in the campaign. After they have completed their share of the work and the fund, a similar drive to theirs is to be made among the citizens of Oregon generally. Through the alumni drive it is expected that the scope and purpose of the plan will become familiar to the public generally, so that the progress of the state-wide campaign to come later will be facilitated. Efforts also are being made to enlist the contributions of persons of means everywhere who have special reasons for interest in the University of Oregon.

The "kick-off" of the alumni intensive campaign on May 9 is to take the form of drive dinners. Wherever there is a group organized for the campaign, in Oregon and out, that group will get together at table on the evening of May 9 and launch the drive.
