NUMBER 1-VOLUME XII

With this issue The Times begins another year of existence.
In the past eleven years the paper has seen many changes, especially in its first year, but it has kept on and prospered notwithstanding severe trials and hard sledding.

W. C. Walker published the first issue of the paper on September 2, 1914, and it continued under his management until December 14 of that year, when Walter V. Martin succeeded to the editorship. Mr. Martin conducted The Times until February 1915, and acted as editor and publisher until May 7, 1915, when Miss Jessilene E. Disbrow took possession of the plant.

Miss Disbrow, now Mrs. Wm.
Morrison, injected a personality into the publication, and made a winner out of the proposition.
She was possessed of a determination that reached for success and by strict attention to business, considering the needs of the community and catering to those needs built up a business that stands today as one of Mau-pin's greatest assets.

September 11, 1925, the present publishers appeared on the scene and purchased the plant, building and lot comprising the Morrison holdings and are trying to give Maupin and the surrounding country a newspaper commensurate with the section.
So far we are satisfied that we made no mistake in coming to this place, and if the support vouchsafed us during our brief sojourn here continues, we will continue to improve the paper until it will have no superior in Oregon as a weekly newspaper.

We expect this journalistic youngster to step some during the coming year, and that by the time it becomes fully twelve years of age to have attained a growth that will be the pride of proprietors as well as subscribers and advertisers.

It's easy to edit a newspaper now-a-days. By actual count The Times received during one week 37 big envelopes, each containing "matter of importance to your readers." When we looked the enclosures over we found a dozen devoted to propaganda of various power interests, as many sheets telling how to choose sheep and poultry, as well as how to kill lice on fowls, and several more which contained blind ads, for which no check to cover cost of publication accompanied. Keep a-comin' tho, for we can use the sheets to do up our single wrappers.

Since Governor Pierce has ab-rogated the rights and prerogatives of our courts to himself, he might continue his judicial pardoning acts and extend clemency to Tom Murry, et al. All that trio did was to take human life, and it took but one trial to make clear their guilt. Besides our state penal institution is becoming a bit crowded with murderers, yeggs and bootleggers, and a housecleaning might be in order.

The idea of organizing a band in Maupin should interest every citizen. Even if it "didn't amount to much" for some time, it at least could, in a short time, ragale our people with as good music as has been heard at some of our dances around here.

Wood at $10.00 a cord is rather expensive fuel. But then, when some of our people stop and think of the heat to be supplied them later, and at no cost whatever, the $10.00 item should not be considered too high.

Picked Up About Town

"Marriage would bring happiness, if it didn't bring so many bills and poor relations."

One of the first and best things to learn in life is that you have to like other people if you want other people to like you.

Jack Staats says "a penny isn't worth much when it comes to buying something these days, and there was a time when a yard of goods wasn't considered enough for a dress."

Tourists spent $150,000,000 in Canada this year. And their gas tanks were not the only tanks they filled.

"Some people get red noses from working in the sunshins," says Joe Kramer, "and others from the moonshine."

According to Bob Wilson a good wife is one who knows more than her husband but who doesn't let him suspect it.

Reformers are folks who think the world is going to the dogs, which is probably why they spend so much time and energy growling.

"The hardest part about enforcing prohibition," declares Hugh Wood, "is to get people to stop looking for a drink."

R. E. Wilson closed his store yesterday and, with his family, went to The Dalles to enjoy the Armistice Day holiday.
